

Call for Sponsors for the USPA [Zoom] Online Masterclass Series

USPA traditionally sponsored large in-person conferences, held all over the United States. For many of the (all volunteer) board members and staffing volunteers, this was often their annual vacation! The fees collected at these conferences powered the work of USPA for the rest of the year.

The pandemic forced many organizations to re-tool their thinking. It seems ZOOM and its ilk came along just in time to offer our children ongoing education, music lovers' access to symphonies, and friends and families the ability to keep in touch through those trying times. The USPA crew quickly learned new skills - to keep in touch with you as communication needs change.

The Board of Directors stayed the course of our mission - to bring you cutting edge science and preserve the continuity of USPA. Our website has been redesigned. The Members Only page has been expanded.

Over 1400 USPA conference lectures were transferred to digital format, for ease of purchase, distribution and posterity. Now, we have filled our Products page with over 750 items and the selection grows monthly. The biggest project undertaken was the creation of an ongoing series of Free Masterclasses. We now present live Masterclasses, often with Question-and-Answer time afterwards so attendees can interact with speakers as they did at our in-person conferences. June, 2026 will see our 74th Masterclass!

The volunteers of USPA are happy to donate their time to bring these programs to you, but actual costs are increasing. Our Zoom membership fee just went up to accommodate more attendees. Our website fees continue to increase with the times.

Yes, now we are asking for money. BUT – we'd like to do it in a win-win way 😊. If your company sponsors one of our Masterclasses, we'll give you advertising time online (recorded by you if you wish) before the class, mention in our email blasts and acknowledgement in the "Sponsors' Spot" in our newsletters. Below are the tiers and terms of Sponsorship. (If you don't use the company benefits, we will still mention you in our presentation and your support will be tax deductible.)
