About this Masterclass

As a Radionics Practitioner, we look at what is interfering with the Electro-Magnetic balance or General Vitality. Health is a balance of the electro-magnetic energy at cell level. Our cells are like little batteries, electric and magnetic, and create a force field of etheric energies called the Etheric field or Etheric Body contained in the Physical (dense) Body.

Ether is the most subtle of the 5 elements and integrates with the physical body through threads of light from the etheric field. Ether gives us life.

After spending the last 42 years in health care, measuring etheric energy, it is clear to me that our health has gotten worse over the years due to hidden and invisible threats to mankind.

What can interfere with our etheric energy?

Environmental Pollution interferes with our electro-magnetic field and weakens the etheric body, allowing our immune system to also weaken. Ether is the life force and carries subtle information and can ride on the waves of air filled with pollution chemicals, heavy metals, radiation, viruses or any incoherent energies and can weaken our field.

Incoherent energy affects electro-magnetic energy and invites culprits into your system such as: Microscopic parasites, Fungus, Bacteria, Worms & Virus

A Radionic analysis can help us find the hidden causes that are interfering with our Subtle Energy fields. We can measure these fields through the art and science of Radiesthesia and find solutions to neutralize these interferences.

Questions to be covered with Dr Linda

- What is the Etheric field?
- What is the electro-magnetic field?
- What is ether?
- What is Radionics?
- What is a Radionic Analysis?

Dan Taylor Shares an Article from The Theosophical Society by Mitch Horowitz

“The Parapsychology Revolution: The Extraordinary Progress of the “Elusive Science.””

Printed in the Winter 2023 issue of Quest magazine.

I believe that our culture is poised for an epochal change in how we understand and accept the core findings of parapsychology—that is, acceptance of the empiricism of the extraphysical. Rejectionism tends to harden on the brink of seismic change, and we are seeing pockets of that as well. But the outcome of the present moment is, I believe, the acknowledgment that we possess indelible evidence of an extraphysical component to life.

The formal scientific scrutiny of anomalous phenomena marked its starting point in 1882, when the Society for Psychical Research (SPR) was founded in London by scientists including F.W.H. Myers (who coined the term telepathy for mind-to-mind communication) and pioneering psychologist and philosopher William James.

At its inception, parapsychology sought to test mediumistic phenomena under controlled conditions. The early SPR worked with rigor to hold spirit mediums to proof. Researchers such as the strong-willed Hodgson and James himself ventured to the séance table intent on safeguarding against fraud and documenting claimed phenomena, including physical mediumship, after-death communication, and clairvoyance or what is today called channeling.

They probed unexplained cases, exposed frauds, and created historical controversies that have lingered until today. But they were working largely within the lace-curtained settings of Victorian parlors. On the whole, SPR researchers were not functioning in clinical environments, so-called white coat lab settings. The American chapter of the SPR, meanwhile, was stymied by factional disputes between members more interested in the after-death survival thesis and those committed to the more conservative direction of documenting mental phenomena...

The Gateway Process: Unlocking the Mind: The Gateway Process Explores the Depths of Consciousness By Danielle Letenyei

What if you could transcend space and time to access another dimension, by simply using your mind? It sounds like something out of a Hollywood movie, doesn't it? But it is apparently possible using the Gateway Process, a system that has been around since the 1970s.

What is the Gateway Process?

The Gateway Process is a training system developed by The Monroe Institute during the 1970s that uses meditation-like techniques combined with sound technology to facilitate altered states of consciousness.

The scientific details of the Gateway Process are outlined in a 29-page Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) report written by U.S. Army Lt. Colonel Wayne McDonnell in 1983. The report titled "Analysis and Assessment of the Gateway Process" was declassified in 2003.

<https://www.cia.gov/readingroom/docs/CIA-RDP96-00788R001700210016-5.pdf>

Some believe the report was part of the CIA's investigation into the possibility of using mind control for its Cold War espionage efforts. McDonnell reportedly underwent a week-long training program at The Monroe Institute on the Gateway Process.

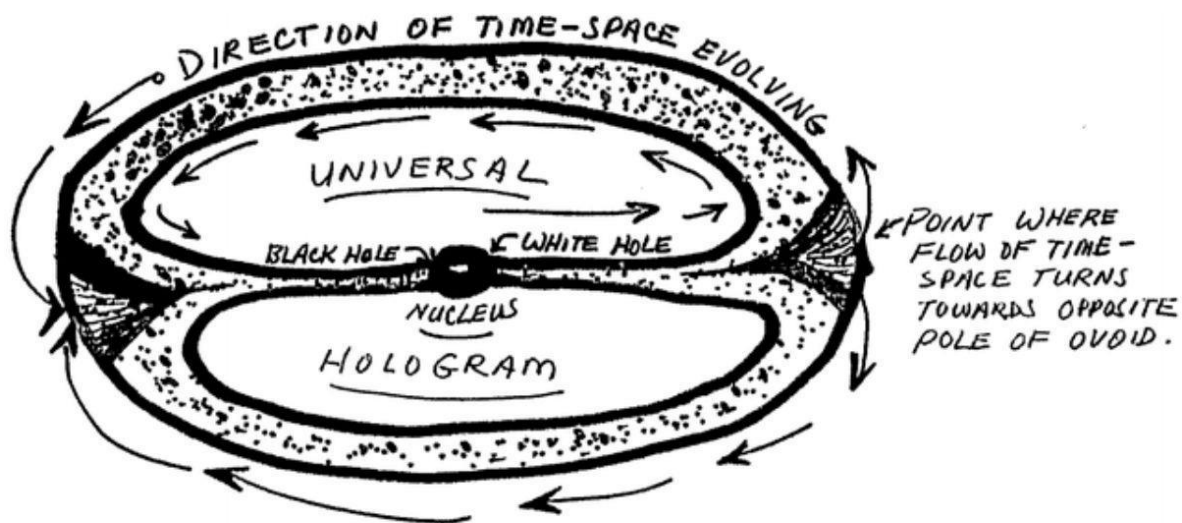

The Gateway Process involves "hemi-syncing" your brain. When you cut through the scientific jargon about quantum mechanics and neuroscience, the theory behind the Gateway Process, in its simplest terms, is that syncing the left and right hemispheres of your brain can lead to an out-of-body experience. The process to "hemi-sync" the brain is achieved through meditating while listening to binaural beats.

"Fundamentally, the Gateway experience is a training system designed to bring enhanced strength, focus and coherence to the amplitude and frequency of brainwave output between the left and right hemispheres so as to alter consciousness, moving it outside the physical sphere so as to ultimately escape even the restrictions of time and space," McDonnell writes in the report.

In his report, McDonnell also refers to research done by Czech-born scientist Itzhak Bentov. Bentov was an avid meditator whose book Stalking the Wild Pendulum: On the Mechanics of Consciousness delves into the limitless possibilities of human consciousness.

The "Absolute" exists outside of space and time.

McDonnell often refers to the “Absolute” in his report on the Gateway Process, which is an infinite energy field that exists outside of spacetime.

Source: Wikimedia Commons -Diagram from the report "Analysis and Assessment of the Gateway Process."

“Between the Absolute and the ‘material’ universe in which we experience our physical existence are various intervening dimensions to which human consciousness in altered states of being may gain access,” McDonnell writes. “Theoretically, human consciousness may continue to expand the horizons of its perceptual capability until it reaches the dimension of the Absolute at which point perception stops because the Absolute generates no holograms of or about itself.”

McDonnell outlines the steps for entering the Gateway Process.

McDonnell concludes the reports by suggesting a “phased approach for entering the Gateway Experience in an accelerated mode” would be needed to “reach advanced states of altered consciousness.”

“If these experiments are carried through, it is to be hoped that we will truly find a gateway to Gateway and to the realm of practical application for the whole system of techniques which comprise it,” he adds.

Section VII Memory Lane

Scott Beutlich suggested to Duncan Laurie that he be interviewed on Zoom to record a remembrance about some of the legendary people he interviewed.

In response, On Sep 15, 2024, Duncan wrote: (with permission to USPA)

Scott,

I'm not sure how much I can contribute to your efforts, but my best point of departure is the late R.J. Reynolds III. Josh Reynolds provided me with access to the Bearden's and then to Puharich, who was then living at Devotion, the Reynold's estate which I frequently visited. From there I got to know Elizabeth Rauscher a bit, who also wound up living at Devotion. Beyond them, I don't know many of the original radionics presenters beyond Peter Kelly, Eldon Byrd and Paul Lafolley.

Josh and I first met at my opening art exhibit at Visionary Gallery in NYC. We had friends in common and I eventually wound up helping Josh distribute small grants to people he considered worthwhile. I owed this opportunity to my friendship with a fellow artist Aymon de Roussy de Sales, an old friend of Josh's and direct descendent of Saint Francis de Sales. In that capacity I got to know Preston Nichols, Duncan Cameron and Terrence McKenna, among others. I introduced Josh and Aymon to Peter Kelly and inventor Jim Murray. Aymon and I took Josh to meet Kelly in Lakemont, Ga. Kelly had a sound machine there in his Lab, which he termed the Betar. Kelly had bought the Betar from its inventor, Michael Bradford, originally termed the Genesis or Cotyledon. Peter had hacked it to suit his own purposes and design. Josh proceeded to have a profoundly moving psychic experience during his Betar session with Kelly. This incident led Josh to purchase the device from Kelly and install it in New York at my residence in Long Island City.

The arrival of the Betar led to a whole new chapter; introducing artists to psychotronics. What a blast! The Music Machine (MM) as we now called it, proved to be the perfect means to make this connection tangible. As a listening device, it had an extraordinary psychic component which allowed the subject to explore their own consciousness, in a non-invasive manner. This discovery wasn't lost on others, mainly the Kelly's, Preston, and several other radionics friends of yours that built their own versions. I gradually became friends with some of my own generation of psychotronic writers and inventors, notably Tom Brown, Eric Dollard, Mike Theroux, Gerry Vassilatos, Eldon Byrd, and others. Notable in this group was the original inventor of this art medium, Michael Bradford, his family and associates. We all carried on a long and fruitful collaboration, during which the MM continued to be hacked and re-hacked by many subsequent contributors.

Michael Bradford was as much of an artist as an inventor. This fact was supremely important to the overall direction our work took with radionics. Let me try to explain. The radionics people are centered around treatment-based modalities. They are the doctors and you are the patients. It's a process that is ultimately invasive in nature. You have a condition to be treated; they have the device, skill and know-how to respond. As an artist, or someone looking for an artistic way to explain radionics, I found this approach didactic and authoritarian, thus unattractive artistically. It is effective, but not as good as saying to someone: have at it; we will provide an environment for a short while in which you can be anything, go anywhere, do anything your consciousness can imagine. If you don't like it, you can get off the device any time; there is no residual treatment or carry-over beyond what you wish to take with you. The MM approach is experiential and largely self-directed. Whatever the operator brings to the experience is more that of a DJ or an intuitive healer. Ego has no place in this modality. By that I mean a process void of dominant/submissive vibes, anything controlling or directed by an individual with their own agenda. In the modality we prefer, the source component is universal consciousness, not human, and the technology enables that priority. I might add my interest in Quantec today very much reflects this approach. I believe it is responsible for Quantec's worldwide success, with all due credit to the founder and his associates.

Returning to NYC for a moment, the MM enjoyed an underground artistic success. A series of video artworks were produced by theater writer/director Daffi Nathanson and people began to trickled over to the unknown environs of Long Island City. On the artistic end, Aymon was already well-known in NY and was showing at Visionary Gallery on W. 86th St. Aymon had lived at Millbrook with Tim Leary and another Millbrook denizen and Visionary Gallery artist, Bjorn von Schlebrugge, (often credited as the inventor of psychedelic lighting) [and] were frequent visitors with their friends. Bjorn's sister Nena had married Leary at Millbrook. Later Bjorn became uncle to actress Uma Thurman by Nena's second marriage to Tibetan scholar, Bob Thurman. Both artists were instrumental in introducing the MM to a wider audience (see: <https://artnetweb.com/moobird/bio.html>). Other MM visitors your readership may know are UFO writer John Keel, poet Ira Cohen, and the inventor of remote viewing, Ingo Swann.

In the early 1990's I moved back to Rhode Island from New York. I married Kim Butler and we began a family. I also initiated construction of the Studio building you see on our website. When the top floor was finished, we moved the MM in and created a lab and began the experiments with plants and rocks you are familiar with. We had the expert assistance of Gordon Salisbury, an instrument designer and electronics technician. We became fascinated with the spontaneous expressions of plant and mineral consciousness and sought the means to sonify them. When these sounds were married to the MM, the sonic experience carried over into an eidetic experience in the mind's eye. This feature of the MM gave the listener not only sounds, but internal visuals generated from a source outside human consciousness, i.e. plants & rocks. It sounds implausible but we considered it a legitimate contribution to the development of art. When it came to writing The Secret Art, I am deeply indebted to Todd Thille, the books graphic designer and our webmaster and website developer. Todd provides a stylistic excellence to everything we did and continue to do now. Without these two individuals and the enthusiasm of Steve Nalepa, author, DJ and electronic music composer, we would not have enjoyed this extraordinary period of research and sharing it all with others.

The lab on the top floor of the Studio ended about 10 years ago when the building was refurbished and became a summer wedding venue. The MM, now known as the Purr Generator after Gordon's design modifications, went on tour to the Visionary Art Museum in Baltimore and then to the Gregg Museum at North Carolina State, through the generosity of the Gregg's director, Roger Manley. After a year or so in the public sphere, The MM was returned to RI and mothballed. Two summers ago, I resuscitated it here in Down East Maine, where it remains functional but out of the public view.

I hope this summary is of some use when it comes to your proposed Zoom. As you must sense, while the importance of the founders of the USPA are of great historical interest and value, what remains (to me at least) of more significance is how all this knowledge gets conveyed into greater public awareness. Many of the founders sought the approval of science and medicine, with disastrous results to their persons and careers. Perhaps it is time to focus more upon the creative curiosity of the world's art community for future inspiration and direction?

Sincerely,
DUNCAN LAURIE"

From Toby Grotz – Remembering (This is a reprint from our Newsletter in October of 2022)

I'm sitting here this morning the late winter of 2022, snow on the ground, -4F, with a copy of a booklet published by John Ratzlaff's Tesla Book Company containing two essays, The New Tesla Electromagnetics and The Secrets of Electrical Free Energy, by Tom Bearden and an essay by Dr. Rolf Schaffranke titled Proofs of Free Energy Devices and Supporting Data, copyright 1982. Tom's research on free energy grew over the years into a 952-page book published in 2002 titled Energy from the Vacuum available from Cheniere Press.

I first met Tom Bearden at a USPA conference in 1980. After his presentation my head was spinning. I was in awe and realized why I never understood some of the basics I was taught in university physics and electrical engineering. I was inspired by Tom to dig into the nature of reality that led to organizing conferences and traveling the world in search of free energy inventors and their devices. That is an understated way of trying to convey to the reader the enormous impact Tom had on my life.

Over the years I had many talks with Tom on the phone and during conferences. Information flowed out of him at a rate that was impossible to keep up with while taking notes and I recall using a portable tape recorder during one interview. The cassette tape of that interview is somewhere in my collection and I hope to get it, along with others into the USPA archives.

In the early '80's we had a chapter of the USPA in Colorado. A talk and lecture reported on with photos by the Denver Westword Magazine showed me and others talking about radionics at the meeting.

Later that week some guy called me at my drafting table at Martin Marietta Aerospace using a voice disguiser and said he was from the Eagle Lightning Network and that he knew what I was up to and what I was doing. I said "good" because he had just called into a Department of Defense contractor that records all the calls coming in. I made that up on the spot. He hung up. Later when I told Tom about it, he offered to send a friend to Denver with an Uzi to Denver to be a body guard for me. He was serious!

Those were the days my friend...

What is USPA?

The United States Psychotronics Association (USPA) is a federally recognized, nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization founded in 1975 to serve as a focal point for scientific and technical exploration of the universe of esoteric, spiritual, and psychic arts in the United States of America.

The USPA has been hosting annual conferences for its membership since its formation and has featured countless individuals with cutting-edge viewpoints, research, or theories to share, allowing any interested persons to openly discuss their work.

What is Psychotronics?

USPA defines psychotronics as the science of mind-body-environment relationships, an interdisciplinary science concerned with the interactions of matter, energy, and consciousness.

Psychotronics involves the study, research, and applications of the physics and technology of the mind, brain, spirit, consciousness, and the underlying forces of life and nature – hence the term “psychotronics.” A true understanding of the universe must include the spiritual as well as the technical. USPA provides an opportunity for amateur researchers to present their findings along with the professionals. USPA stresses research, with documentation of results, and practical applications, rather than personal experience and unsupported hypotheses.

With assistance from USPA, J.G. Gallimore's Books are Still Available on Amazon

Jerry G. Gallimore was one of the founders of the USPA in 1975, and was a leading researcher in psychotronics and unusual energies until his untimely death in 1989.

All five of J.G. Gallimore's rare books on psychotronics subjects and unusual energies have been reprinted by the United States Psychotronics Association (USPA) and are being made available at a fraction of the cost that used copies were being sold at online. Available at Amazon.com

So rare have these books been, that only a few libraries in the entire world had them in their collections, and some original Gallimore's books were being sold for several hundred dollars each online. However, with these newly reprinted volumes, each will be available for less than $30.00.

The Handbook of Unusual Energies: Volume	ISBN-13: 978-1543024999	The first book of 3 on unusual energies	468 Pages
Gallimore discusses in depth the research, discoveries, and inventions of all the major researchers in subtle energies, the aether, biological 62 fields, pyramid energy, radiesthesia, radionics, crystal transduction, and related subjects. These include the works of Baron von Reichenbach's and his odic energy, Dr. Wilhelm Reich's orgone energy, Dr. Harold Burr's biological life fields, Kozyrev's time mirror, Edgar Cayce's transmission of energy, and related research done by many others. Of particular importance is Gallimore's 127-page chapter on radionics. In this chapter he discusses in depth the research and devices of Ruth Drown, T. Galen Hieronymus, Rho Sigma, Dr. L. P. Corte and other prominent people in the radionics field.

Collected Properties & Writings of J. G. Gallimore: Volume 2	ISBN-13: 978-1543025040	The second book of 3 on unusual energies	258 Pages

This is the second book in the "Unusual Energies" series that J.G. Gallimore published. It covers Gallimore's research on Albert Abrams, the founder of modern radionics, psychological physics, psychic energy, thought resonance, subtle energies, crystals, and related subjects.

In addition, a number of radionics devices are discussed, such as the De La Warr Diagnostic Instrument. And very helpfully, the rates are provided for substances, body organs, and medical diseases and disorders. I very interesting interview of Christopher Bird, conducted by J.G. Gallimore is provided, as well as a discussion of Walter Russell and his research

Relationship Between Parapsychology and Gravity: Volume 3	ISBN-13: 978-1543024944	The third book of 3 on unusual energies	228 Pages
--	----------------------------	---	-----------

This book describes in depth the research and theories of J.G. Gallimore into the question of "parapsychology transmission" -the question of how such things as telepathy, remote viewing, ESP, and similar phenomena can physically occur. He discusses the various emanations, radiations, and energy fields of all matter and life including the ancient Chinese energy called "chi" (qi), the ancient Indian's prana energy, Reichenbach's "odic force," Gurwitsch's "mitogenic radiation," Wilhelm Reich's orgone energy, and other subtle energies. He shows how all of these energies are similar, how they interact, and how they are related to gravity. He also discusses crystals as transducers of these energies, and provides diagrams of devices that could potentially be used to harness or control these energies.

Transverse Paraphysics: The New Science of Space, Time, and Gravity Control	ISBN-13: 978-1543024920	Gallimore's fourth book	374 Pages

This book covers the visionary research and theories developed by J.G. Gallimore about anti-gravity, space, time, and biophysics. He discusses in depth the dimensions of space, time, and gravity, and new discoveries in each of these areas. In addition, he covers research being done on anti-gravity and then discusses anti-gravity patents that have been obtained.

He also discusses the intriguing concept of aura energy fields surrounding humans and other living things, and how extra-sensory perception (ESP) might be explained through biophysical principles.

Unified Field Theory Research Book: Using Subjective Response to Psi-Plasma	ISBN-13: 978-1543024838	Gallimore's Fifth book	134 Pages

This book is about psychotronics, radionics, electromagnetic fields and waves, psi-plasma, plasma fields, subtle energies, bio-electromagnetic energy, and other unusual energies emitted by living and non-living things. It also is about how living things interact with and are affected by these energies, which may enhance health or harm health. The book covers the research of Wilhelm Reich on Orgone energy, of Baron Reichenback on the odic forces, as well as research done by Cazzamalli on brain radiations and Lakhovsky on using high frequency radiations to successfully treat cancer in humans. In addition, Lakhovsky used similar methods to enhance the growth of plants. Gallimore shows how these energies, forces, and fields are all inter-related and provides hypotheses and ideas on their possible unification.
