

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

For an organization such as ours to continue to be, not just functional, but vibrant, growing and a leader in cutting edge science, it needs a succession of active, engaged and involved leadership.

We are looking for a new slate of nominees for board members to carry us into the next decades of scientific wonders.

Who would you like to see serve as a USPA Board Member? We are looking for nominations!

Our bylaws require that all nominees must be USPA Members in good standing, for at least two years running. Anyone you suggest, including yourself, will be sent to our nominating committee. They will contact the person suggested for vetting according to our bylaws and make sure they are willing to run and serve. Please include an email address, phone number or both with each suggestion for nomination.

If you or someone you know would be interested in serving in this capacity, please let us know by December 31, 2025. Respond to USPA EMAIL.

About the class:

When we meet in December, I'm bringing everything I've got — sharing everything I know, everything I've lived, and everything I've witnessed about the true art of manifesting prosperity.

I won't be holding anything back. Together, we'll explore what it takes to magnetize abundance, the alignments that open unseen doors, and the inner radiance that calls prosperity into being. I'll share examples of how alignment opens the flow, but also how to anchor prosperity as a living, breathing frequency in your life.

My goal is simple — that you leave not just inspired - remembering that you are the frequency through which wealth, opportunity, and miracles move but activated - ready to create abundance with clarity, confidence, and ease.

About Justine:

Founder of Radionics Woman, President of the First Georgia Dowsters, world traveler and keen observer of human nature.

Dedicated to inspiring and empowering prosperity within every soul using multiple forms of energy transmission, cosmic and divine alignment/timing and radionics.

She encourages everyone to form a daily practice to tune their frequency to prosperity and transform their lives for the better.

The Power of Subtle Energy Technology

Science and technology have come a long way since the things we were taught in school. While people have been using subtle energy (SE) technology for thousands of years, it has only been in the last few decades that quantum physicists have started to understand what it is and how it works.

Even though these technologies are not publicly acknowledged, SE technology is being used in agriculture, manufacturing and even medicine. SE is often able to solve problems that have been heretofore seen as unsolvable.

Radionics For Energy Healing

Radionics Instruments are used in multiple industries: farming, livestock, and nutrition. Life force is defined in many different ways. It is often called Chi, orgone or even od. Each tradition describes different properties. So, while they may all be referring to the same thing, they might be referring to a combination of different things.

Radionics is the shamanic art and metaphysical science of local and distant manifestation. It uses intention programmed instruments and patterns to shield and protect and to amplify, store and elevate frequencies. Radionics works outside of the 3-dimensional Hertzian frequency band, by using multi-dimensional scalar frequency patterns.

This allows the patterns to be analyzed and balanced regardless of the distance from the instrument to the subject. By using a practical application of quantum entanglement, the instruments are focused to the subject via a witness. This witness is something that is already quantum entangled with the subject; such as a tissue sample, hair sample or even a simple picture. Help Needed to Track Down Former USPA Speakers – A New John Reed Project

Do any of you have skills in family tree research, genealogy, or finding people with online people finders? If so, we need your help to find former USPA conference speakers, or their families, as far back as 1975, when the first conference was held. We want to reach out to them to make sure that their research papers and collections are preserved by the USPA, or at some other appropriate organization or institution.

If you can help, or know someone else who can, please contact the USPA Librarian and archivist, John Reed, at: Joreed43@gmail.com, or you can call or text him at 443-858-0757. Thanks for supporting USPA and the quest for preserving the research, and papers of these great scientists.

Section VI- John Reed Shared An Announcement:

A Company is Formed to Fund Breakthrough Technologies and Benefit USPA (Instant Replay from September!)

A new company called Breakthrough Technologies Investment Fund (BTIF) has recently been established for the development and production of highly innovative devices in the psychotronics, healing, and new energy fields.

BTIF was founded by John H. Reed and Nick Begich, Sr. who together are providing $100,000.00 as initial investment funds for inventors and developers of such devices. They have generously offered that any net income or other benefits from investments of their initial $100,000 will go to USPA. It is hoped that others with a strong interest in the development of breakthrough technologies in the psychotronics, healing, and new energy fields will join with BTIF, so that the investment fund can grow and be able to fund even more inventors and startup companies.

Proposals and applications for funding are being accepted, but with the clear understanding that any funding is contingent upon thorough due diligence. BTIF will consider proposals for the following types of devices:

1. Psychotronic and other technologies affecting the brain and mind. These would include devices whose use will enhance memory, intelligence, learning, or knowledge acquisition; enhance psychic abilities of any kind, such as remote viewing, telepathy, psychometry, or spiritual healing; enhance the placebo and other mind-body effects to treat one's own diseases and disorders;

2. Health, wellness, and healing devices: Devices using micro-currents, electromagnetic waves, magnetic fields, sound waves, subtle energies, scalar, or torsion field technologies: to diagnose or treat diseases and disorders of any kind, but especially microbial diseases, cancer, Alzheimer's, and drug addiction; to counteract the negative health effects of 5-G and other negative waves and fields in the environment; to enhance the immune system; and devices that have anti-aging and rejuvenation effects, such as the Dotto Ring, the Priore machine, and Lakhovsky technology.

3. New Energy and Propulsion Devices: This would include any device that generates usable electricity or propulsion operating on new principles of energy production, such as zero-point energy, vacuum energy, magnetic fields, anti-gravity, water as fuel, nitrogen as fuel, or any other "free energy" method.

The development and production of any of these devices could potentially have a dramatic effect on the betterment and advancement of humanity. So, if you have developed or are developing any such device, or know someone else who has done so, please send us information or a proposal, and we will follow up with you. Please send all communications by email, with attachments, if necessary, to John H. Reed, M.D. at joreed43@gmail.com. You can also phone 443-858-0757. Our mailing address is: Breakthrough Technologies Investment Fund, 6800 Roosevelt Ave., #701, Allen Park, MI 48101.

Section VII – In case you missed October's 67th Masterclass

USPA presented "A Geomantic Life" with Alanna Moore, November 22, 2025

Alanna was born in Sydney Australia. She was introduced to dowsing when living in London and joined the British Society of Dowsters in 1980. Returning to Sydney and befriending a well-known dowser Isobel Bellamy, she helped to found the New South Wales Dowsters Society in 1984. The only founder remaining, she helped the society celebrate its 40th anniversary in Sydney in November 2024. She now lives in Ireland.

Alanna has been a professional geomancer for over 40 years, mostly in Australasia, Asia, and Europe. She specializes in the more unusual applications of detecting spirits and applying dowsing to improved gardening. She studied Permaculture Design and gained 3 diplomas from Bill Mollison, the originator in the 1990s; while also assisting the movement by helping produce the Permaculture International Journal.

In terms of geomancy, she was informed by the wisdom of Australian Aboriginal peoples' paradigms, plus reading widely in the research undertaken to write her 12 books that are mostly on geomantic subjects. In 1993 Prof Phil Callahan came over from the US to teach about his energy discoveries and Alanna went on to make hundreds of the 'Power Towers' he inspired, that stimulate plant growth and crop production.

Alanna was also informed by colleagues and friends whose clairvoyance revealed the invisible dimensions of the spiritual realms. Travels around Australia to Aboriginal sacred sites opened up a world of fabulous nature spirits and she found that she could also dowse their presence.

Alanna's talk will describe some of these experiences, plus dowsing adventures and how her understanding of the subtle earth energies and Other dimensions of life has developed over time.

Compounding Herbs by EYE OF HORUS By Robert Allen Bartlett

<https://mailchi.mp/spagyricus.com/rare-arcane-special-pricing-on-occult-media-17291887?e=319c70b1dd>

This short article introduces a novel approach to formulating polyherbal blends of medicinal herbs, providing both a mnemonic device and guidance on proportions of the individual constituents.

‘A novel approach’, is perhaps a misnomer since the idea presented here has its root at the very origins of Western medicine; ‘a remembering’ may be a better description. Compounding herbs into medicines is nothing new of course, there are currently thousands of blended herbal preparations available to all, but the art of compounding herbal medicines is still evolving and receiving global attention as confidence in synthetic medicines wanes in the public eye. Introduction In the practice of herbal medicine, the ‘art of simpling’ applies a single herb preparation towards a single disorder; for example, drinking ginger tea to alleviate symptoms of a cold. In reality the ‘simple’ is not so simple after all but contains a wide range of phytochemicals, each possessing a specific medicinal action and organ affinity so even a single herb can exert a multi-targeted influence in the body. ‘...the concept of multi-agent medicines is a developing theme in modern drug therapy. However, it represents nothing new for phytotherapy.

Due to their chemical complexity, even a single herbal extract is a nature-designed multi-agent medicine that can simultaneously target a range of desirable pharmacological effects.’(1) You will recall that plants produce what are termed ‘primary’ and ‘secondary’ metabolites in their life cycle. The primary metabolites comprise the bulk of a plant and include all of those materials necessary for the plant to develop and grow. These include the various proteins and genetic materials in cells and the starches, cellulose, and lignin supporting the structure. The secondary metabolites, while not essential to the plant’s lifecycle are developed by the plant to provide protection against the elements, attack by outside predators, as well as suppressing mold, and fungal growth. They can also help the plant to heal if it is injured and send out chemical messages to insect allies in order to promote reproduction by pollination. ‘Primary metabolites participate in nutrition and essential metabolic processes inside the plant, whereas secondary metabolites influence ecological interactions between the plant and its environment.’(2) Secondary metabolites can be generally divided into three major classes of related compounds as terpenoids, alkaloids, and the largest class phenolics which include flavonoids, tannins, and coumarins; all very powerful medicinal agents.

Mankind discovered long ago that the chemicals developed by plants to protect and heal themselves could be used in the human body to affect a similar response and thus herbal medicine was born. Now you might be thinking that if a single herb preparation is such a medicine chest in itself, why bother compounding it with other herbs at all; won't that dilute the effects of the individual herbs and require higher doses for the same effect? 'The body is not a one-note melody, but a symphony of many interactive components functioning synergistically ... the active ingredient model does not stem from a strength of the scientific method, as often supposed; rather it stems from a weakness – from the inability of the reductionist method to deal with complex systems.'(3) The concept of synergy is becoming increasingly important in medicine in general and herbal medicine in particular.

Synergy is an effect seen by a combination of substances that is greater than would have been expected from a combination of individual contributions. The sum is greater than the individual parts. Components of plants that are not active themselves can act to improve the stability, solubility, and bioavailability of the active components. Additive effects also apply to herb combinations; 'Additive benefits have also been observed at a clinical level. A combination of ginseng (Panax ginseng) and Ginkgo (Ginkgo biloba) has been extensively investigated in volunteers for its acute and long-term impact on cognitive functions. The effect of the combination appears to be significantly greater than either herb alone.'(4)

We can list a few reasons now as to why compound herbal preparations are so attractive;

1. The strength and acuteness of the illness may be such that no single herb is sufficient against it. The additive effects described above with ginseng and ginkgo illustrate the concept.

2. Some very powerful and useful plants also possess toxic or poisonous side-effects in themselves which can be mitigated by combination with plants that nullify the toxic effect completely or inhibit the bioavailability of the toxin to an acceptable level. For example, tannins will bind with heavy metals and also with alkaloids and thus inhibit their absorption, so a plant rich in tannins could be used to control their effects.

3. The affected organ may be far from the site of administration, so herbs can be added which will direct the medicinal qualities of the main therapeutic herb to the desired organ or system.

4. 5. 6. Herbs may be added to extend the activity of the main therapeutic herb. Herbs may be added to improve the palatability of the compound. Prevention of harmful effects from an herb, such as the addition of peppermint to senna to prevent cramping.

7. It is believed that a multiplicity of factors and complications cause diseases in most cases, leading to both visible and invisible symptoms. The combination of herbs may act on multiple targets simultaneously to bring about rapid relief.

8. The overall complexity of the compound herbal is generally such that much smaller doses are required compared to single herb preparations.

Compounding in the West Over the centuries, Western herbalists have developed certain guidelines for compounding effective herbal medicines, and as we will see later these ideas stretch back as far as recorded history.

In traditional formulations of the West, 5 or 6 herbs to a blend is considered an effective number providing all of the medicinal actions required and yet doesn't confuse the body with too many chemical combinations at once. Typically, a formulation may contain 2 or 3 parts of the main therapeutic herb. This is an herb which is specific for the treatment of the particular condition. These are the 'simples' applied to specific illnesses.

To this is added 1 part of a soothing and relaxing herb for the affected area or to the nerves in general. Next, 1 part of a nourishing, strengthening or tonic herb for the affected organ or system and finally, 1 part eliminative, alterative, or depurative to aid waste removal.

The human body is seen as a self-correcting mechanism; all we have to do is supply the correct building materials, insure their effective and unhindered circulation, and keep the channels of elimination open to affect a cure.

As a general guide to proportions, an herbal compound may contain 50% of the main therapeutic herb, 40% of a support or tonic herbs for the organ or system, and 5-10% of a synergist or catalyst to activate and drive the medicinal activities of the blend. What is USPA?

The United States Psychotronics Association (USPA) is a federally recognized, nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization founded in 1975 to serve as a focal point for scientific and technical exploration of the universe of esoteric, spiritual, and psychic arts in the United States of America.

The USPA has been hosting annual conferences for its membership since its formation and has featured countless individuals with cutting-edge viewpoints, research, or theories to share, allowing any interested persons to openly discuss their work.

What is Psychotronics?

USPA defines psychotronics as the science of mind-body-environment relationships, an interdisciplinary science concerned with the interactions of matter, energy, and consciousness.

Psychotronics involves the study, research, and applications of the physics and technology of the mind, brain, spirit, consciousness, and the underlying forces of life and nature – hence the term “psychotronics.” A true understanding of the universe must include the spiritual as well as the technical. USPA provides an opportunity for amateur researchers to present their findings along with the professionals.

USPA stresses research, with documentation of results, and practical applications, rather than personal experience and unsupported hypotheses.

J.G. Gallimore’s Books are Still Available on Amazon - through assistance from USPA

Jerry G. Gallimore was one of the founders of the USPA in 1975, and was a leading researcher in psychotronics and unusual energies until his untimely death in 1989.

All five of J.G. Gallimore’s rare books on psychotronics subjects and unusual energies have been reprinted by the United States Psychotronics Association (USPA) and are being made available at a fraction of the cost that used copies were being sold at online. Available at Amazon.com USPA Shares in the income from these sales.

So rare have these books been, that only a few libraries in the entire world had them in their collections, and some original Gallimore’s books were being sold for several hundred dollars each online. However, with these newly reprinted volumes, each will be available for less than $30.00.

The Handbook of Unusual Energies: Volume	ISBN-13: 978-1543024999	The 1st book of 3 on unusual energies	468 Pages
Gallimore discusses in depth the research, discoveries, and inventions of all the major researchers in subtle energies, the aether, biological 62 fields, pyramid energy, radiesthesia, radionics, crystal transduction, and related subjects. These include the works of Baron von Reichenbach's and his odic energy, Dr. Wilhelm Reich's orgone energy, Dr. Harold Burr's biological life fields, Kozyrev's time mirror, Edgar Cayce's transmission of energy, and related research done by many others. Of particular importance is Gallimore's 127-page chapter on radionics. In this chapter he discusses in depth the research and devices of Ruth Drown, T. Galen Hieronymus, Rho Sigma, Dr. L. P. Corte, and other prominent people in the radionics field.

Collected Properties & Writings of J. G. Gallimore: Volume 2	ISBN-13: 978-1543025040	The 2nd book of 3 on unusual energies	258 Pages
This is the second book in the "Unusual Energies" series that J.G. Gallimore published. It covers Gallimore's research on Albert Abrams, the founder of modern radionics, psychological physics, psychic energy, thought resonance, subtle energies, crystals, and related subjects. In addition, a number of radionics devices are discussed, such as the De La Warr Diagnostic Instrument. And very helpfully, the rates are provided for substances, body organs, and medical diseases and disorders. I very interesting interview of Christopher Bird, conducted by J.G. Gallimore is provided, as well as a discussion of Walter Russell and his research
Relationship Between Parapsychology and Gravity: Vol. 3	ISBN-13: 978-1543024944	The 3rd book of 3 on unusual energies	228 Pages
This book describes in depth the research and theories of J.G. Gallimore into the question of parapsychology transmission" -the question of how such things as telepathy, remote viewing, ESP, and similar phenomena can physically occur. He discusses the various emanations, radiations, and energy fields of all matter and life including the ancient Chinese energy called "chi" (qi), the ancient Indian's prana energy, Reichenbach's "odic force," Gurwitsch's "mitogenic radiation," Wilhelm Reich's orgone energy, and other subtle energies. He shows how these energies are similar, how they interact, and how they are related to gravity. He also discusses crystals as transducers of these energies, and provides diagrams of devices that could potentially be used to harness or control these energies.
Transverse Paraphysics: The New Science of Space, Time, and Gravity Control	ISBN-13: 978-1543024920	Gallimore's fourth book	374 Pages
This book covers the visionary research and theories developed by J.G. Gallimore about anti-gravity, space, time, and biophysics. He discusses in depth the dimensions of space, time, and gravity, and new discoveries in each of these areas. In addition, he covers research being done on anti-gravity and then discusses anti-gravity patents that have been obtained. He also discusses the intriguing concept of aura energy fields surrounding humans and other living things, and how extra-sensory perception (ESP) might be explained through biophysical principles.
Unified Field Theory Research Book: Using Subjective Response to Psi-Plasma	ISBN-13: 978-1543024838	Gallimore's Fifth book	134 Pages
This book is about psychotronics, radionics, electromagnetic fields and waves, psi-plasma, plasma fields, subtle energies, bio-electromagnetic energy, and other unusual energies emitted by living and non-living things. It also is about how living things interact with and are affected by these energies, which may enhance or harm health.
