WHAT IS PSYCHOTRONICS?

Beverly Rubik, Ph.D.
President, USPA

Psychotronics originally referred to the mind (psycho) operating devices (tron) with thought. This term came out of parapsychology in the 1960s in Czechoslovakia. The early psychotronics researchers conceived of and built psychotronic generators—sacred geometrical forms composed of pyramids and cones along with crystals, copper coils, and other materials. Unlike most machines, these devices were “operator dependent”—having various effects depending upon the operator and the directed intention—and demonstrated positive effects on people, animals, plants, and processes.

Today our interests are more broadly based. The US Psychotronics Association (USPA) investigates and applies science and technology to interactions of mind, matter, spirit, consciousness, and the underlying forces of life and nature. Psychotronics challenges the dominant scientific worldview because it deals with the power of consciousness to interact directly with the physical world, which is not considered in mainstream science. However, numerous lines of scientific and other evidence point to severe limitations of the dominant paradigm, which holds that consciousness is only a passive observer. We are among those mavericks shaping the new worldview in which consciousness plays an active role in generating physical reality.

Our membership is quite diverse and fascinating. Some USPA members are frontier scientists conducting research on the effects of intention and subtle energy healing on systems such as structured water and its memory, plant growth, and the integrity of DNA. We are also concerned about the impact of electromagnetic pollution from the proliferation of wireless devices in our environment and how to protect ourselves. Other members are practitioners and teachers of radionics, using directed intention to assess and improve the well-being of living systems through the use of radionics devices, pendulums, and dowsing rods. Still others practice energy therapies ranging from hands-on healing to use of sound and light therapies, homeopathy, Oriental medicine, and other complementary modalities. Some members are skilled intuitives who can assess the biofield and subtle energy directly, without any tools. Still others are exploring psychotronics for personal growth and evolution. Despite our differences, we have much in common as we are all open-minded persons focused on expanding our understanding of nature, consciousness, and the full human potential. We enjoy camaraderie and sharing our new learning with one another.

One main focus of the USPA is the existence of a cosmic energy or bioenergy, also called qi in Oriental medicine and prana in Ayurveda—associated with the biofield or life force. Energy may be mobilized with directed intention, which corresponds to the principle of ancient Eastern philosophy—“where mind goes, the qi flows.” Psychotronics devices may serve as resonators or conduits of a cosmic energy affecting living systems at a physical level. The biofield, the energy field of each organism, is also fundamental.

Is this cosmic energy an aspect of science that has somehow been overlooked, or a new form of energy? We are taking a deeper look at the science of Nikola Tesla, among other pioneering scientists, who have been largely ignored. We are also revisiting the “aether” in physics that was displaced by a materialistic worldview, but may actually be the quintessence underlying physical reality, and the etheric body in radionics, to expand the scientific perspective.

The theme of our 40th annual US Psychotronics Association conference is, “Mind, Matter, and Aether: Applications to Radionics.” Recently I had a conversation with Dr. Jeffrey Mishlove about the event, which he produced into a short video: <https://youtu.be/hR8APqBbgCg> Dr. Mishlove, a parapsychologist, who is also an invited speaker at our event, spoke with me about his upcoming presentation in another short video: <https://youtu.be/iWkRElpYTml> Our 2018 conference features 20 speakers, with more invited speakers than ever before and promises to be one of our best. All are welcome to attend. We look forward to seeing you there!

Conventional Physics eliminated Aether while ignoring great minds like Tesla and Dirac who described a "Sea of Energy". Our next Paradigm shift, the Aether will return as the home of all forms of Subtle Energy, Free Energy and consciousness.

1. The reason for Luminiferous Aether and how Aether was removed from Physics.
2. Evidence for a "Sea of Energy".
3. The Future of Aether.

Rev. Mary Hardy, Ph.D.

Pyramids Generate Scalar Waves and create Orgone Energy as an Antenna with the proper Orgone covering

A unique "orgone pyramid"- one with an orgone-type covering, a layer of electric and dielectric material, created orgone energy that balanced out abnormalities in the Bermuda Triangle, Great Lakes Triangle, and weather anomalies such as tornados.

1. Pyramids are antennas that can set up the resonance to heal the planet through orgone energy.
2. Weather control. Pyramids generate a standing wave (scalar energy) that can remove weather abnormalities.
3. Using the prayer of the Holy Grail Vortex to balance the resonance factor on the planet so that we can heal the planet.

Marty Lucas

Marty Lucas is a full-time radionics practitioner and instructor. He specializes in cutting edge research, building reagents and advanced protocols for radionic work. "My goal in working with you is simply to empower you with the knowledge. A radionic balancing helps promote vitality and support immune response and can suppress pest and parasites." Properly balanced soils naturally suppress weeds as well. Plus, radionics balancing can help you reduce the use of chemical fertilizers, pesticides and herbicides and create techniques to take advantage of your natural abilities using the newest technology.

Programming Plant DNA with Radionics: How to make self-replicating reagents

1. DNA can be programmed with Radionics Frequencies.
2. These frequencies can be passed to future generations.
3. This technique is more flexible and less costly than other genetic manipulation technologies.

With over 30 years of practice, she skillfully combines scientific rigor with intuitive sensitivity to hone in on the patient's body-mind as a whole ecosystem. Aimee has lectured on a variety of topics from Spirit & Medicine, medical care of HIV infants and children, to preventing school gun violence through increased parent and school personnel recognition of subtle cures.

Using "Ethereic" Energy to Heal: Spirit and Medicine

Our relationships with people are shaped by the interactions of our energies; by simply touching another person, we influence what happens in their energy field. As I teach new nurses and doctors, I always say, please be present with your patient, observe the subtle cues. Inherent in a diagnosis is the "shock." In order to promote healing, it is imperative to clear the "shock." I am a story-teller and will share my experience and outcomes by presenting several case histories of my former patients and the importance of clearing the etheric energy.

1. Identification of subtle clues, how to "pay attention" and ways to promote self-healing.
2. The importance of clearing the etheric field and "shock".

Together, the Hurtaks have written numerous books including Overself Awakening, and recently, Mind Dynamics, with Dr. Elizabeth Rauscher.

The Power of Music and Sound for Mental Consciousness Upliftment

We will discuss the use of music and unique frequencies to trigger positive health results throughout the body and mind, showing new ways to help patients, for example, in their recovery from strokes, to improve heart rate variability (HRV), and for the raising of consciousness.

Understanding the Etheric Body in Radionics

The etheric body or the Vital Body interpenetrates the physical body and is held together by interpenetrating energy threads, streams, or lines of light. He is the President of the Institute for New Energy.

The New Energy Technologies and the Scientific Basis of Alchemy

A review of advanced energy conversion technologies including so-called free energy devices, low energy nuclear reactions, and ancient alchemy. Recent discoveries are forcing a new look at what is truly possible.

1. To understand that new sources of potential energy can lead to new exciting and applicable discoveries.
2. To learn that not everyone wants new information to be shared or utilized by the general public.
3. To understand that our view of physics is very simplistic and that much more is really possible.

He has numerous scientific publications and is a board member of several international organizations and professional societies.

The Etheric Properties of the Life Force

The relationship between etheric, virtual, and imaginary energy will be discussed from the perspective of contemporary physics, which predicts “ghost fields”, time-reversal, and other strange phenomena. The implications for biology, including phase conjugation behavior, will also be presented.

Aether: The Dynamic Substrate of Physical Reality

The fascinating story of aether from Vedic philosophy to contemporary physics with special focus on new concepts of aether from Einstein to Bohm and beyond.

1. The aether has always been there and was never really abolished.
2. Twentieth-century physics re-cast the aether as mathematical abstractions.
3. The aether explains anomalous phenomena, especially as pertaining to living systems.

Cosmic Structure and Aether Functioning The Universal Aether: Some of Its Laws and Operation

Understanding what aether is and how it manifests leads to a new basis for physics. This has applications in commerce, industrial manufacturing, healing, faster than light communication, and the medical arts. How the aetheric operates also provides a better view of dowsing, vastly improved radionics, healing energies, free energy, and gravitational physics.

1. Learn what aether is and how to control it.
2. Learn how our physical universe manifests.
3. Learn new avenues of research that can provide solutions to modern day problems.

Eclipse Lore and Results of 3 Solar Eclipse Experiments

Results of experiments conducted during the “The Great American Eclipse” of August, 2017, show anomalous effects on a pendulum, the weight of an object, and ambient electric space charge.

1. Anomalous physical phenomena have been associated with eclipses throughout history.
2. Besides alternations in the gravitational field, the consciousness of observers including their expectations may be factors underlying these anomalies.

His undergraduate research involved single molecule tethering, magnetic tweezer manipulation, and Fluorescence Resonance Energy Transfer (FRET) analysis. He has been engaged in full-time Radionics research since 2010. He has studied with various practitioners in the U.S. Dan is also a Licentiate with The Radionics Association of the U.K. (www.radionic.co.uk).

Accessing and Supplementing Morphogenetic Fields with Radionic Coding Via the Ether

Dan will examine how radionic coding may supplement information in Morphogenetic Fields, thereby “informing” and affecting the resulting states in matter in cases of physical dysfunction.

1. Through radionics, we are tapping a hyper-dimensional ether.
2. This Ether, as it is understood in radionics, bears a striking resemblance to the Morphogenetic Field, as proposed by Dr. Rupert Sheldrake.
3. Once we see how the Morphogenetic Field acts as a matrix to “guide” the formation of matter, we will show examples of how radionics can be used to “supplement” information in the Morphogenetic Field, that appears to have “gone wrong,” or became garbled, resulting in physical dysfunction. Examples using radionic coding will be provided.

The United States Psychotronics Association presents:

Radionics 101

An Introductory Workshop on Radionics and Dowsing

July 19-20, 2018

(registration begins at 1:00 pm on, July 19; sessions start at 2:00 pm)

The Hyatt Regency Hotel

Deerfield, Illinois

As a prelude to the 2018 U.S. Psychotronics Conference, we are offering a short, practical introduction to radionics, beginning early afternoon on July 19th. The workshop is designed for novice practitioners and prospective students, as well as for those simply wanting to learn what radionics and psychotronics is all about. It will combine visual and explanatory presentations with several “hands-on” sessions, so participants get a real feel for what radonics practitioners do.

This workshop will be an excellent entrée to formal training in radionics. Students will learn fundamental theory, the design and role of instrumentation, and get an overview of the many applications of this cutting edge art and science. More importantly, much of the program will be hands-on. There will be several opportunities to experience the radionics “stick” and/or dowsing response, which is key to instrument operations in radionics and in radiesthesia.

During the program, participants will receive numerous handouts and other literature, some basic dowsing tools, and their own radionics template for what we hope will be the start of rewarding adventure in radionics.

All teachers are members of the USPA Board of Directors. Each has many years of experience in the practice of radionics and, collectively, their experience covers a wide range of applications:

Scott Beutlich is a former Director and current officer of the US Psychotronics Association (USPA), as well as the son of one its founding members. Scott will open the program with a brief history of the USPA and its role in promoting radionics through education.

Scott will be followed by George Kuepper--a long-time radionics practitioner, Biodynamic grower, and owner of Midsouth Radionics, who will give a quick history of radionics and an overview of its many applications to human and animal welfare, farming and gardening, and the environment.

Marty Lucas, the owner of Every Advantage Consulting, is a former president of the American Society of Dowsters and a certified organic farmer. Marty will lead a hands-on session on basic dowsing using traditional tools like pendulums.

Following dinner, Lutie Larsen, a noted teacher, practitioner, and the owner of Little Farm Research, will provide further hands-on training using a radionics template. The template is a simple device for basic skills training that includes finger-stick dowsing, the use of witnesses and rates, taking measurements, and broadcasting.

The following morning, Ed Kelly, the President of Kelly Research Technologies—a manufacturer of radionics instruments—will give everyone an “under the hood” look at radionics devices, to demystify the how and why of instrument construction and function. He will also guide a short exercise in instrument operation, to afford students another hands-on learning opportunity.

Dr. Linda Lancaster, a Board Certified Naturopathic Physician, Homeopath, and founder of the Light Harmonics Institute, will wrap up the program by discussing the principles of radionics and the evolution of this cutting edge science.

The workshop will come to a close at noon, prior to the USPA Conference, which kicks off at 1:30 pm. Workshop participants are encouraged to stick around!

KRT Radionics Workshops: Chicago, Illinois

Kelly Research Technologies is very proud to support the U.S. Psychotronics Association's 40th Annual Conference, to be held in Chicago on July 20-22, 2018. The USPA is a non-commercial, not-for-profit organization that supports research in "psychotronics" - the science of mind-body-environment relationships, and interactions of matter, energy, and consciousness. Because the USPA is dedicated not just to radionics, but also the broader spectrum of esoteric phenomena, this meeting will present research and information from a wide variety of disciplines. The theme of this year's conference is Mind, Matter, and Aether: Applications of Radionics.

KRT founder Peter J. Kelly was a founding member of the USPA in 1975, and KRT's Ed Kelly has been a member of the USPA's Board of Directors since 2011. For more information about the USPA and the 2018 conference please visit: www.psychotronics.org.

Immediately following the USPA conference, on July 23 and 24, KRT's Ed Kelly will be deliver Basic Radionics, a two-day course covering the fundamentals of radionics, including analyzing and balancing of soil and water samples using a Hieronymus-type variable capacitance radionic instrument. This hands-on workshop will equip participants with the tools needed to immediately apply radionics at their homestead or farm. Space is limited, so register to participate today!

BASIC RADIONICS: July 23-24, 2018

Chicago, Illinois

An introduction to the basic theory and hands-on operation of the radionic instrument. This course is designed for the brand-new beginner and anyone wanting a refresher on the basics. Topics include:

Innovations in Sound and Light

Level: Beginner or Introductory

July 23 and 24, 2018

Monday and Tuesday Afternoons:

1-4:30 P.M.

The information presented will be related to innovations in sound and light, and different applications for water sonication, such as hydroponics, cormorant behavior modification, stress reduction and cetacean communication.

WORKSHOP TWO

Monday and Tuesday Evenings:

6-9 P.M.

Time and Valence

Level: Intermediate

July 23 and 24, 2018

Monday and Tuesday Evenings:

Workshop topics:

Monday Evening: Energetic ebbs and flows are excellent sets of information which can be used as tools for analysis after you understand how this relates to the level of overall System functioning.

Tuesday evening: How to use circadian rhythm and time anomalies to determine what necessary recurrent resonances are missing: mineral, amino acid, meridian system, valence, spinal segment , integral pair and the importance of co-factors.

Judy's research, belief system, and experience is that a System out of attunement can be retuned with layered applications of Coherent and Isomorphic Sympathetic Vibratory Physics.

Tools to consider for resetting circadian rhythm and calming sympathetic nervous system overdrive which will be introduced are: Radionics, OMNiSound, Essential Oils, Prisms, Noise Reduction, Eye Exercises, Nutrition, Tuning Forks, Light and Positioning techniques for optimization of applications of recurrent resonances. *

The Intermediate workshop has a fee of $222.00, a deep discount off the normal $500 fee for presentation of this material.

Class Size of each workshop is limited to 20 participants.

Note regarding the above workshops: human health issues cannot be covered at any time. Regrettably, any questions concerning human health will have to be declined.

No Radionic equipment is necessary for any of Judy's informational and optional experiential workshops. Radionics will be discussed and demonstrated.

10% of the proceeds of each class are donated to The US Psychotronics Association.

Dual participation in both the afternoon and evening workshops will give the participant a discount coupon redeemable on select classifications of one Healing Partnerships product purchase.

Registration is to be paid prior to the workshops. Square, Stripe, Paypal, Check, Money Order or Cash will be accepted.

Please indicate interest in either or both workshops by Judy by emailing her at sonformula@hotmail.com or calling her at (260)249-3893.

Dr. Beverly Rubik Discusses Psychotronics with Dr. Jeffrey Mishlove (32 Minute Video)

Preview YouTube video Psychotronics with Beverly Rubik

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=33jasjn1zuA>

Beverly Rubik, Ph.D., is a biophysicist and is president and founder of the Institute for Frontier Science in Emeryville, California. She has authored dozens of scientific papers regarding the human biofield, psychotronics, psychic healing and other aspects of cutting-edge science.

Here she discusses with Dr. Jeffrey Mishlove the history of the field of psychotronics that originated in Czechoslovakia. Essentially, the field deals with nonlocal interactions between the human mind and various forms of instrumentation. Today, psychotronics includes such areas as dowsing, radionics, and radiesthesia. Both Dr. Rubik and Dr. Mishlove will be speaking at the US Psychotronics Association \(USPA\) conference, July 20-22, 2018, in Chicago, Illinois.

In addition, Dr. Rubik shares her own research concerning shapes, such as pyramid structures. She suggests that psychotronics can offer valuable insights concerning the mind-matter interface. “New Thinking Allowed” host, Jeffrey Mishlove, PhD, hosted and co-produced the original Thinking Allowed public television series. He is author of The Roots of Consciousness. (Recorded on December 15, 2017)

USPA Establishes Psychotronics Periodicals Library List Online

In order to make the USPA Psychotronics Periodicals Library list more accessible, we have established the current list of 57 periodical titles online, and it is available by clicking on the above link. From now on, you only need to save the URL in your “favorites” group in order to quickly and easily access the list. The above page was provided for USPA’s use by the WISEwiki.org website, which is the resource website of the World Institute for Scientific Exploration \(WISE\).

As new periodicals are discovered, they will be announced in the regular “Newly Discovered Psychotronics Related Organizations and Periodicals” article published each month, and added to the list online. Because the online list will be more accessible, it will no longer be included in the USPA Journal and Newsletter, although the link will always be there.

In order to do good psychotronics research of any kind, whether it involves radionics, radiesthesia, psionic medicine, dowsing, subtle energies, biophotons, or any other subject covered by psychotronics, one needs access to as much of the periodical literature as possible on these subjects.

To address this issue, the United States Psychotronics Association has resolved to identify, acquire, and digitize copies of every psychotronics related periodical that has ever been published anywhere in the world, and to retain copies in the USPA Library and Archives.

Please look over the online list and check your own personal physical libraries and your computer files, thumb discs, and other external hard drives to see if you have any issues of the periodicals on this list. Even if you just have one issue, please let us know, because that may be the one we need to complete all the issues of a particular periodical. Please write to me (John Reed) at: joreed43@gmail.com, since I am the USPA librarian and archivist coordinating this effort, and tell me what periodicals you have.

As a whole, the members of USPA and other interested non-members, have a huge “library” of periodicals, but it just happens to be “distributed” among these people at this point in time. However, we can work together, and if you would be willing to loan, donate, xerox, or as a last resort, sell copies of your periodicals to the USPA Library, then we will be able to build a large centralized library of all psychotronics periodicals. And all USPA members will then be able to use these periodicals in their research or for their reading enjoyment.

Newly Discovered Psychotronics Related Organizations and Periodicals, May, 2017

A number of newly discovered psychotronics related organizations and periodicals have been identified since the last issue of the USPA Journal and Newsletter. These organizations and periodicals, some of which ceased operation many years ago, are listed below, with brief information. If you know anything about these organizations, please contact the editor. The periodicals have been added to the master list of psychotronics related periodicals on the USPA Periodicals Library page in WISEwiki.org. We are seeking copies of all issues of these periodicals, which we plan to digitize and make available to our members as a USPA membership benefit. So if you have any issues the periodicals listed below or any of the missing issues of the periodicals listed on the USPA Periodicals Library online page above, please let the editor know by emailing him at: joreed43@gmail.com.

Organizations:

Society for the Study and Dissemination of the Sciences of Radiesthesia, Radionics and Psychotronics (Sociedade para o Estudo e Divulgação das Ciências da Radiestesia, Radiônica e Psicotrônica (SEDCCRPP)): This organization was founded in Sao Paulo, Brazil, in the 1990s by Antonio Rodrigues. As its name suggests, the SEDCCRPP focuses on the study of radionics, psychotronics, radiesthesia, and related practices. It is unknown if this organization ever published a periodical of any kind.

Periodicals: (Note: All periodicals noted have been added to the master list of the USPA Psychotronics Periodicals Library. \(click here\).)

Physical Therapeutics: This was the official publication of the American Electrotherapeutic Association from 1927-1929, and was published in Brooklyn, New York; It began with Vol. 45, no. 1 (January, 1927), and continued to be published under this title through Vol. 47, no. 9 (September, 1929), when it ceased being published by the American Electrotherapeutic Association, and started being published by the American Physical Therapy Association. At the same time, the focus of this periodical changed from electrotherapeutics to physical therapy in general, but still had articles on electrotherapy of various kinds. The prior title of this periodical had been American Journal of Electrotherapeutics and Radiology. The USPA needs copies of all issues of Physical Therapeutics.

Short News, Notes, and Queries

(If anyone would like to make a short news announcement, report something, has a question about anything related to psychotronics and related subjects, or has any information or comments about any of the following notes and queries, please write to the editor, John Reed at: joreed43@gmail.com)

1. Does anyone know anything about a man named William Lehr (1933-1996), who lived in Scammon, Kansas, and who developed several energy and healing devices, and made a reproduction of the T. Henry Moray energy device? In addition, Lehr is said to have created a high-powered spark-gap device for healing purposes that cured a man who had been sent home to die, as well as a huge bibliography of articles and books dealing with new energy sources and energy medicine and treatment.
2. USPA Local Chapter Newsletters
The US Psychotronics Association (USPA) once had 26 local chapters, some of which published local newsletters for their members. Does anyone have copies of any of these local USPA chapter newsletters? If so, we would like to obtain copies of any issues for the USPA Library and Archives. Please write to the editor, John Reed at: joreed43@gmail.com .
3. USPA Membership Directories
Does anyone happen to have any copies of old US Psychotronics Association (USPA) membership lists or directories? These were put out in the past, but USPA has not published a membership directory or list for many years. We would like to get any past USPA membership directories for the USPA Library and Archives. Please write to the editor, John Reed at: joreed43@gmail.com.
4. Does anyone know the whereabouts and/or contact information of Dr. Robert N. Miller? At the 1978 USPA Conference, Dr. Miller gave a presentation with Pierre Paul Sauvin titled “ Methods of Detecting and Measuring Healing Energies.” That was the only time that Dr. Miller ever spoke at a USPA conference, and we would like to follow up with him on any research he has done since that time.

5. Journal Title Correction: You may recall that some time ago we listed “Electrus Newsletter” as one of the periodicals in our USPA Psychotronics Periodicals Library section. We have discovered that the full title was actually “Electrus Newsletter on Bioelectronics” This periodical was published by the American Institute of Archives located in Keene, Texas, in the early 1990s. It was edited by Mark Simpson, author of the book, The Rife Way III, and focused on Royal R. Rife research and bioelectromagnetics. It began with Issue #1 (August, 1990) and published at least two issues, with the second being Issue # 2 (November, 1990). We are still searching for these two issues, and any other issues that may have been published.
6. Does anyone have any periodicals, books, article clippings, devices, or other items about radionics, psychotronics, or related subjects that you would like to have preserved in the USPA Library, Archives, and Museum? If you no longer need or use the items you have, or if you have a relative who has passed away and was once interested in psychotronics subjects, we would be happy to preserve those items in their name. Please contact John Reed at: joreed43@gmail.com
7. Mangrove College for Radionics: Does anyone know anything about the Mangrove College for Radionics, and if it ever published a periodical of any kind? Its address at one time was: 1313 N. Market St., Hercules Plaza Suite 3410, Wilmington, Delaware 19801, although this appears to be a mail box service location. It was once headed by a Dr. P. W. Meier.
8. Do any of you happen to know anything about the Paraphysical Laboratory that was founded in the UK by Benson Herbert in 1966, or have any issues of the Journal of Paraphysics that he published for more than 20 years? Mr. Herbert's laboratory was located at Privett Farm, Downton, Wiltshire, England, between Salisbury and Southampton. His mission included an attempt to provide a workable theory and physical explanation for paranormal phenomena, including telepathy, remote viewing, dowsing, and other extraordinary abilities and phenomena. Unfortunately, Benson Herbert died in 1991, and no one seems to know what became of the papers and records of the laboratory, or if he even had any family, who might be able to shed light on this. So if you know anything about Benson Herbert or have any issues of his periodical, please contact the editor at: joreed43@gmail.com.
9. A comprehensive bibliography of articles on biophotons, subtles energies, and related subjects has recently been discovered via the Wayback Machine. This bibliography was compiled by Dr. Marco Bischof in 2006 and includes over 1,700 articles and monographs on these subjects, dating back to the early 1900s. They include the works of such pioneers in this field as Dr. Alexander Gurwitsch, Dr. Harold Saxton Burr, Dr. Fritz Popp, and many others. Most citations are from peer reviewed journals. This bibliography is available here for your use.

10. We have been recently informed that one of the radionics devices that Jerry Gallimore invented in the 1970's or 1980's used a GSR meter in place of a stick plate. Does anyone happen to have or know anything about this particular device? Such a device would be very significant, because if there is a such a radionics device that can be successfully used without a stick plate, which depends on the sensitivities and subjectivity of the user, it would enable nearly anyone to use that radionics device. One of the problems that beginners in radionics often have is the detection of the “stick”, on the stick plate, and some people are never able to develop this ability.

11. Do any of you know anyone who has ever owned, used, or did research on the Dotto Ring? This was an electrotherapy treatment device, pictured at left, developed by Dr. Gianni Dotto back in the 1970's and is said to have been was used successfully to treat cancer and other diseases in humans and animals. In addition, the Dotto Ring was also said to be able to slow down the aging process and even rejuvenate individuals to some degree.

12. Does anyone have video tapes of the presentations that Andrija Puharich made at the 1982 US Psychotronics Association Conference? The title of Dr. Puharich's first presentation was: “Chemical Compounds: Receptors of Artificial ELF”, and was sold for a period of time on the USPA website with this title and catalog number F6.

The second presentation that Dr. Puharich made at the 1982 USPA Conference was the Keynote Address at the Awards banquet. The Title of this presentation was “Kindling + 1” and had catalog number F7. If anyone has either or both of these tapes, please contact the editor, John Reed at: joreed43@gmail.com.

Andrija Puharich, Chemical Compounds: Receptors of Artificial ELF (1982) F6

Andrija Puharich, Keynote Speaker:, Kindling +1; Awards Banquet (1982) F7

13. Art Tool and Die Company: Does anyone know anything about the Art Tool and Die Company that was located in Detroit, Michigan, in the 1930s and 1940s, and apparently manufactured radionics devices? It has been referred to in a number of publications on radionics, psychotronics, and related subjects, but it is not clear what devices they manufactured.

Among the Missing, (and Updates): A Column about Missing People, Organizations, Periodicals, Books, Artifacts, and Collections in the Psychotronics Field

by John H. Reed, M.D

This is a new “column” or section of the USPA Newsletter, and will be an ongoing part of every issue, with the purpose of helping the USPA, as well as, our members and research associates locate people, organizations, periodicals, books, artifacts, devices, collections, and other items that have seemingly disappeared, or have been extremely difficult to find. Updates will be added, and each missing item will be retained in future issues until it is found or otherwise resolved, since some readers may not have seen prior issues of the USPA Newsletter or the original notice of the missing item.

In addition, this will also serve as a “People Locator Service” to help find authors and researchers on psychotronics, radionics, subtle energies, energy medicine, and related subjects, who have “disappeared” or have died long ago, and whose relatives you may be trying to find in order to preserve the research papers and collection of that person.

In our research and reading, we all have encountered people, organizations, periodicals, books, articles, or other things that we have tried to find, and some people have searched for years to find something, but have not yet found it, despite the vast resources of the Internet. However, with our large USPA membership, we can all help one another find what we have been searching for. Some of you may have experience in genealogical research, or private investigation, law enforcement, or even intelligence work which you could utilize to help each other, or perhaps just make suggestions on how or where to search for something.

So if there is anything you have been searching for and need help to find, please write to me, John H. Reed, M.D. at: joreed43@gmail.com, and I will include your search help request in the next and subsequent issues of the USPA Newsletter. And if you have any information about an item that is listed in “Among the Missing”, please write to the same email address and share what you know or your suggestions. If there is something that is confidential, your confidentiality request will be honored and protected.

Missing Person: Paul Sauvin, USPA 2nd Vice Pres., 1976 and 1st Vice Pres., 1977

Paul Sauvin, whose full name is Pierre Paul Sauvin, is an electrical engineer and inventor who, according to one source, worked in the aerospace industry and later with the National Institute for Rehabilitation Engineering at St. Joseph’s Hospital in Paterson, NJ. He also worked with Dr. Carl Schleicher, head of Mankind Research Unlimited, and helped develop a device called the “AGRAD Machine”. This device was designed to control crop insects, and was introduced on an experimental basis, although it is not known if it ever reached commercial production. Paul Sauvin's mother was Edith Sauvin, who lived in White Plains, NY, and died August 25th, 1987. Edith's only child was Pierre Paul Sauvin, who himself had 2 sons, Alan Paul Sauvin and Steven Eric Sauvin. He also had one daughter, Jane Elizabeth Sauvin. Any help in locating the children of Paul Sauvin would be greatly appreciated, and please write to joreed43@gmail.com.

Missing Psychotronics Device:

The AGRAD Machine: In the 1970's Mankind Research Unlimited, Inc.(MRU), headed by Dr. Carl Schleicher, was offering for sale a device called the AGRAD Machine. It was intended to be used in the electromagnetic treatment of crops and the control of insect populations, and sold for $390.00. MRU claimed that AGRAD machines had been used for several years by MRU researchers to conduct experimental applications of the type described in The Secret Life of Plants by Christopher Bird and Peter Tompkins, and Report on Radionics by Edward W. Russell. Theoretically, the AGRAD machine was intended to produce effects through electromagnetic wavefronts that would interact with and control insects by disturbing the insect sensor mechanisms. A photo of the device and additional information appeared in one of MRU's publications which you can access here.

Missing Inventions: The Missing Invention of Arthur H. Matthews to Control Insect Pests, Microbes, and Diseases at a Distance

Where are the patent and invention by Arthur H. Matthews, a Canadian, who in his own words stated "This refers to my invention of selective control – at a distance – with no physical contact – to control any form of germ – any sickness – all kinds of insect[s] which cause damage to forest, garden and human[s]." Those words appeared in Matthews' own hand writing at the bottom of a reproduced letter on Appendix page A-10 of his book, The Wall of Light, which he published in 1971. But the big mystery is that the Canadian Patent Office database of patents does not show this invention or any other invention by Arthur H. Matthews.

Interestingly, correspondence of the Canadian Commissioner of Patents shows the title of the invention as "Methods for the Control of Insect Pests" and the patent application number of: 510,626, but not the number of the patent, if it was ever granted. So the question arises: What happened to this wonderful invention by Mr. Matthews, and why does the Canadian Patent database have no record of this device whatsoever in its database of patents?

Further details on this mystery are available in an article titled, "Among the Missing" Special: The Missing Invention of Arthur H. Matthews to Control Insect Pests, Microbes, and Diseases at a Distance" in the February, 2018, issue of the USPA Journal and Newsletter, pages 24-27, available here.

If anyone has any information about this invention by Arthur H. Matthews, please write to the USPA editor, John H. Reed, M.D. at: joreed43@gmail.com.

Missing Project: The “RA Project”

In the late 1980’s Vernon J. Rogers of Boulder, Colorado, headed what was known as the “RA Project”, which was a project of the Institute for Bio-Information Research (IBIR). Has anyone ever heard of this project, know anything about it, or know what the RA stands for? The IBIR focused on researching the interaction of electromagnetic fields with living systems and psychoneuroimmunology, so presumably the project related to one of these subjects, but this is uncertain. Unfortunately, Mr. Rogers passed away in early 2016. If anyone has any information about this project of Vernon J. Rogers, please write to the USPA editor, John Reed, M.D. at: joreed43@gmail.com

Missing Issues of the Periodical, The Pendulum.

As noted in the “Newly Discovered Psychotronics Periodicals”, this was a monthly periodical published in London, England, from 1950-1963, and focused on all aspects of radiesthesia, pyramid energy, subtle energies, and related subjects. The USPA Library has 132 issues of this periodical, but is still missing the following issues:

Volume 3 Numbers 5 through 12 (February through September, 1953);

Volume 4, Numbers 1 through 7 (October, 1953 through April, 1954);

Volume 7, Number 3 (December, 1956)

Volume 8, Number 9 (June, 1958)

Volume 9, Number 11 (August, 1959)

Volume 11, Number 8 (May, 1961)

Volume 12, Numbers 9 through 12 (June through September, 1962)

Only one library in the world has this periodical in its collection: The British Library. If any readers live near this library, or have any of the above issues in their private collections, it would be greatly appreciated if you would xerox these issues and send the copies to the USPA Library. We will be happy to reimburse you for any expenses.

Please write to the editor (John Reed) ahead of time if you are willing to help: joreed43@gmail.com;

Missing Person and Periodical: William Reid, Editor of the Journal of Scientific Controversy

We are trying to find William Reid, or his surviving family, who lived in the Boulder, Colorado, area in the 1960s and edited a periodical called “Journal of Scientific Controversy.”

Mr. Reid had placed an advertisement in a 1963 issue of Analog Science Fiction and Fact (ASFF) stating that the first issue of the Journal of Scientific Controversy would be published in the second quarter of 1963. The advertisement showed William Reid as the editor, with the address: P.O. Box 855, Boulder, Colorado. (There was no zip code at that time.)

However, it is uncertain how many issues, if any, were ever published of this periodical. It is not found in any public, government, or university library in the world, including the Library of Congress or British Library. But many periodicals on controversial subjects are not held by such libraries, so this is not entirely surprising.

If any of you know, or once knew, a person by the name of William Reid, who lived in the Boulder, Colorado, area in the 1960s, please write to the editor at: joreed43@gmail.com. Many of you are family tree and genealogy researchers, so even if you have never heard of this man, perhaps you would be kind enough to check your genealogy resources to help locate him or his family.

Missing Device: Marcel Vogel's Omega- 1 Radionics Instrument

In a 1987 meeting presentation, YouTube Video, available here, beginning about 4:20, Marcel Vogel states that he had been trying to find a way by which he could measure the subtle energies and fields in the crystals he was working with, and that he prayed to God to give him an instrument to make such measurements. Marcel says that about two months later, a man named Daniel Perkins, apparently guided by higher forces to build such an instrument, came to Marcel's door and said, "Here is your instrument, the Omega-1. You will know how to use it," and walked away. But where is that particular Omega-1, and were any other Omega-1 instruments built? It is known that other Omega models of radionics instruments were produced, especially Omega-5 instruments, but it is not known if the company that built them still exists. In addition, does anyone know who Daniel Perkins is, and where he is located? Anyone who can shed light on this mystery, please write to the editor at: joreed43@gmail.com.

Missing and Mysterious Stone: The "Swedish Stone" of T. Henry Moray's "Free Energy" Device:

Has anyone done any research on what the substance called "Swedish Stone" is that T. Henry Moray used in the 1920s to extract energy from cosmic rays and produce electricity? According to Moray's original diaries, he discovered the stone somewhere near the city of Abisko, Sweden, in 1913 when he was there doing his overseas Mormon missionary service. He brought the stone back to the US and subsequently created a device using the stone to produce electricity in much the same way that silicon is used to produce electricity when struck by light. However, the Swedish stone used in Moray's device apparently had the particular molecular and/or crystalline structure such that it would produce electricity when struck with cosmic rays, which constantly strike the earth. And since cosmic rays are an electromagnetic wave with much higher energy than light, which is also an electromagnetic wave, Moray's device produced a great deal more electricity than any current silicon based devices of similar size.

Since cosmic rays flood the universe, clearly such a device could provide essentially free electrical power anywhere on earth or anywhere else in the universe. Some have hypothesized that the Swedish stone was a radioactive substance, whose radioactivity was used to produce the electricity. However, others believe that the Swedish stone was not radioactive, but just happened to have the particular structure necessary to convert cosmic rays to electricity. Theoretically there are substances like silicon, only of a different structure, that will convert each of the electromagnetic wave frequencies to electricity, and perhaps Moray just accidentally discovered the substance that would do this with cosmic waves. Please contact the editor if you have any information about this “Swedish Stone” substance: joreed43@gmail.com

Andrija Puharich’s Lost Manuscript and other Puharich Mysteries by Greg Mallozzi

During the late 60s and into the 70s, Puharich owned and worked out of a large house in rural Ossining, New York. A home laboratory known as Lab 9. Lab 9 produced the most mysterious and far out work that Puharich was involved in when he began to delve deeper and deeper into parapsychological, experimental research: like alleged communication with extraterrestrial beings VIA trance mediumship and ELF (extremely low frequency) waves and their effect on the brain.

At Lab 9, Puharich worked with a faraday cage, a large cage that blocks electrostatic and electromagnetic influences. Puharich found that when a subject was placed inside the faraday cage and a certain level of specially controlled electromagnetic waves were sent through the cage, the subjects ESP abilities were heightened significantly. He conducted what some have called inhumane, psychological experiments on human subjects. Lab 9, like The Round Table Foundation, began to attract people from all walks of life.

Shrouded in controversy, the new film on the life of Dr. Andrija Puharich that we are producing will show what Lab 9 was really like, using never before seen photos, videos and transcripts. In 1978, a mysterious attempt to burn down Lab 9 was made. The town of Ossining ruled it arson. Puharich’s publisher, Doubleday, was also broken into at this time and the manuscript he was working on was destroyed. Was someone out to get Puharich, to discredit and sabotage his work? If so, who? People who were present at Lab 9 at the time of the infamous fire will weigh in on what really happened, which to this day is unsolved.

If anyone has any knowledge about the missing manuscript or other mysteries surrounding the life of Dr. Andrija Puharich or has any video tapes, audio tapes, or correspondence of Puharich, please contact:

Greg Mallozzi at: gregorymallozzi@gmail.com or the editor John Reed at: joreed43@gmail.com

Missing Organizations:

1. American Electronic Research Association (AERA): Albert Abrams established the American Electronic Research Association in the early 1920s and it continued to operate until at least 1935, when John F. Spaunhurst was the president of AERA, according to the 1935 Edition of Who's Who Among Association Executives. The AERA published the monthly Journal of the American Electronic Research Association from 1924 through some point in 1936, when it ceased publication, according to Harvard University records.. Only two libraries in the world are known to have issues of this periodical. There are only two issues in the Harvard University Medical School Library, and the Kirkwood School of Osteopathic Medicine has one issue. If you know anything about this organization, or happen to have any issues of its journal, please contact the USPA Journal and Newsletter editor, John Reed at: joreed43@gmail.com.
2. International Association for Psychotronic Research (IAPR): Does anyone know what became of the International Association for Psychotronic Research? And do any of you have copies of its meeting proceedings or newsletter, if such a newsletter were published? It was founded in 1973, even before the United States Psychotronic Association (USPA), which was founded in 1975. However, the current location or activities of the IAPR are unknown.

The IAPR held numerous international conferences around the world, beginning with its first in 1974 in Prague, then Czechoslovakia. At this conference, Dr. Zdenek Rejdak was elected president for the Eastern Division of the IAPR, and Dr. Stanley Krippner was elected president for the West. The 8th International Conference on Psychotronic Research was held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 1993, as a joint conference with the United States Psychotronics Association (USPA), but it is unknown if any subsequent conferences of the IAPR were held.

Proceedings of each of these conferences were published. If copies of these proceedings can be obtained, or any newsletters that it may have published, we will add them to the USPA Library and make them available to USPA members. If you have any knowledge about this organization, please write to the editor at: joreed43@gmail.com

3. International Radionics Association (IRA): Does anyone know anything about the International Radionics Association (IRA), which was located in Springfield, Missouri in the late 1940s. This is known, because a book called The Truth about Radionics was published in 1947 by this organization, and although the author's name is anonymous, it is highly probable that the author was T. Galen Hieronymus, who passed away many years ago.

I checked several newspaper databases, and references to this organization were found in the press as far back as the early 1930s, and as late as the early 1960s, but nothing more recent than that. If you have any knowledge about this organization, please write to the editor at: joreed43@gmail.com

Missing People, and Updates:

Missing USPA Related People:

We are trying to track down some of the original directors and officers of the United States Psychotronics Association (USPA), when it was organized in 1975, with the word "Radionics" in the organization title. Does anyone have any information on the current whereabouts of the following people, or family members, if the person is known to have passed away, or where they passed away?? Please check Ancestry.com, social media websites, newspaper archives, and any other databases you have to help find these people.

1. Dr. Marcel Vogel and his Research Papers: Does anyone know what became of the papers and files of Dr. Marcel Vogel, who died in 1991? Dr. Vogel did extensive research on crystals and crystal healing, pyramid power, the "Backster Effect" involving plants and their bioenergetic fields, and a number of other psychotronics related subjects. He also spoke numerous times at USPA conferences. Marcel Vogel worked at IBM for 27 years and had 32 patents. If you have any knowledge about Marcel Vogel and what became of his papers and files after he died, please write to your editor at: joreed43@gmail.com. The USPA would like to make sure that all of his papers are preserved.

Missing Periodicals:

1. British Journal of Radiesthesia and Radionics: Does anyone have any issues of The British Journal of Radiesthesia and Radionics. It was published in London, England, by the British Radiesthesia Association, 1953-1963. The original title was British Journal of Radiesthesia, published from 1953-1957. No libraries in the United States, public or university, have this journal in their collection., and only five libraries elsewhere in the world are known to have any issues at all: The British Museum Library (AKA The British Library), Oxford, Cambridge, the National Library of Scotland, and Trinity College Library, in Dublin Ireland. If you have any issues of this periodical, will you please let me know? And for our members and associates in The UK and Ireland, if you can access these periodicals at any of the above libraries, you would do a huge service for all of us if you would Xerox what issues are available and send them to me. A generous donor has offered to pay whatever expenses are involved for doing this service. We will add them to the USPA Library and make them available to researchers. Please contact the editor at: joreed43@gmail.com

Missing Books:

Rhea White and Larissa Vilenskaya wrote a book titled Parapsychology in the Soviet Union, Eastern Europe, and China: A Compendium of Information. It was supposedly published by Scarecrow Press of Metuchen, NJ, a well known publisher of reference books. This book was listed as reference work #680 on page 213 of Rhea White's book, Parapsychology: New Sources of Information, 1973-1989, also published by Scarecrow Press. I called the publisher, and they said they have never published this book, and know nothing about it. As you can see from entry #680, Rhea White noted that this book was "in press", so it may have been in a preparation stage, but the manuscript may never have been sent to Scarecrow Press.

Again, I have searched the WorldCat, which shows books and monograph holdings of virtually every public and university library in the United States and Canada, and many of the large libraries in the UK and elsewhere in the world. But this book title does not exist in the WorldCat database, which indicates that this book is not held in any library, even special collections, which are also included in WorldCat. Unfortunately, I was unable to ask either of the authors about this, since both have passed away.

Rhea White was a well known parapsychology researcher, so some of you may have known her or heard her speak of the missing book manuscript that she was working on. Larissa Vilenskaya was from Russia, but lived and worked in the San Francisco area, and she was a prolific researcher on Russian and Eastern European psychotronics research. Please write to your editor at: joreed43@gmail.com if you have any information about this at all.

AIDS: URGENT COMMENTS ON MANKIND'S GREATEST THREAT AND THE SECRETS OF ELECTROMAGNETIC HEALING

by Thomas E. Bearden

Introduction

The following quote is from Don Rowe, Wall Street Digest, 214 Carnegie Center, Princeton, New Jersey 08540:

"The AIDS Plague will affect society in ways that you cannot now imagine. AIDS is 100% fatal. Scientists and medical people are not optimistic about an immediate cure to vaccine. They do not expect to develop an effective vaccine within the next two decades. Public health officials estimate that as many as 2.4 billion people (half the world's population) will die from AIDS within the next 15 - 20 years.

"Economically, the insurance and medical health systems could be devastated in the 1990's. Nothing short of a spectacular medical breakthrough will keep western civilization from suffering the worst catastrophe in the history of the world."

The first official U.S. AIDS case was diagnosed in San Francisco in 1981. This followed the puzzling outbreak of the disease in Third World areas such as Africa and Haiti in the 1970's. The U.S. AIDS outbreak at first seemed to be largely confined to the gay community, such as in San Francisco.

No one seemed to connect the apparently unrelated facts that, before the outbreak in the U.S. gay community, (1) the World Health Organization (WHO) had accomplished substantial smallpox vaccination in Haiti, and (2) West Coast gays — particularly from San Francisco — had made Haiti a main playground and vacation spot. Almost no one thought to notice the exact correlation between the smallpox vaccinations by WHO and the subsequent development of AIDS.

Much nonsense about AIDS has been bandied about since then. As the rationale goes, a monkey bit an African, introducing the relatively harmless monkey AIDS virus into him. This monkey virus penetrated the man's cells and combined its genetic material with that of its human host. Then, perhaps with other viruses present in the cell (to provide other genetic material), the cell's AIDS-adapted genetic material was mutated again — or even again and again — eventually yielding a virulent AIDS virus derivative or strain well-adapted to the human cell.

It is this hypothetical "monkey-AIDS virus plus mutation" AIDS that is supposedly responsible for the monstrous plague now looming to strike down half of all the humans on Earth.

That is simply not true. Orthodox scientists have not the foggiest notion why such a drastic explosion of the virus has occurred. African monkeys have had their viral diseases for thousands of years, and they have bitten Africans from time to time for thousands of years. If monkey virus were the culprit, Africa would have been devastated by AIDS thousands of years ago.

What really happened is something quite different.

In 1971, President Nixon signed into law the National Cancer Attack Act. Though certainly not intended, the inadvertent result of this Act was that the taxpayer's funds were used to research and develop the precise things that constitute the most lethal kind of recombinant virus biological warfare.

The on-going small effort in medical research labs to alter animal tumor viruses — including retroviruses — to replicate efficiently in human cells was drastically speeded up as a part of the new "war on cancer." Not only was the research drastically accelerated, but the direct participation by Communists and scientists sympathetic to the Communist cause was openly accepted and encouraged. Some of our cancer research institutes, even today, have more Communist scientists working in them than they have American scientists.

At about the same time, the KGB had mounted a major effort to penetrate Soviet biological warfare (BW) scientists into the recombinant genetics research of the Western world. They didn't have to penetrate clandestinely — we welcomed them with open arms!

In these labs, now heavily infested with Communist BW agents, animal retroviruses were injected and reinjected into human cell cultures, until these retroviruses had developed into efficient, lethal recombinants favoring human cells as their preferred hosts.

At that point, infection of one or more persons by one of these lethal new retroviruses could unleash a massive AIDS-like plague on all mankind. A single laboratory accident (or a single act by one Communist agent) could unleash the Great Death Plague.

All that was needed was a program that insured that the viruses could be delivered into enough humans to really get the ball rolling. And, of course, non-Soviet hands were needed to do the dirty work, so that the Soviet Union could maintain its own total innocence.

WHO Was a Godsend; Just What the Soviet KGB Ordered.

In their massive campaign to eradicate smallpox, they were already unfolding a massive inoculation campaign throughout the world — particularly in Third World countries. All that was needed was just a bit of contamination of the WHO vaccine by one or more of the lethal new recombinant retroviruses that had been developed — and were continually being developed — in cancer research laboratories literally filled with Communist agents.

The opportunity was ripe for the taking. The Soviets took it.

WHO carried out its 13-year massive smallpox vaccination program. Unknowingly, it also carried out a 13-year AIDS biological warfare strike for the USSR at the same time, and with the same needles.

The London Times Broke the Story

In a shocking article, "Smallpox Vaccine 'Triggered' AIDS Virus," in the London Times of May 11, 1987, Times Science Editor Pearce Wright announced that the AIDS epidemic may have been caused by World Health Organization (WHO) smallpox inoculations in Third World countries.

In an important article in Easy Reader, June 4, 1987, Jon Rappoport reported the Times article and the results of an interview with Robert Matthews, technical correspondent of the Times. According to Rappoport, Matthews informed him that WHO itself had somehow suspected that its immunization program against smallpox might be connected with AIDS. An outside consultant was employed to perform an independent study, and the study confirmed that WHO vaccines were indeed, somehow, causing AIDS to evidence in inoculated persons.

Needless to say, WHO promptly buried that report; its conclusion must have been the last thing WHO wanted to hear. Of course, they also fired the consultant, a man of international reputation.

The consultant then came to the Times. They heard him out, investigated, and printed the story. The Times pointed out some startling correlations, and I quote:

"The smallpox vaccine theory would account for the position of the Central African states as the most afflicted countries; why Brazil became the most afflicted Latin American country; and how Haiti became the route for the spread of AIDS to the U.S. Brazil, the only South American country covered in the eradication campaign, has the highest incidence of AIDS in that region."

We can, in fact, make a good case that this disease is manmade. It has coldly and deliberately been unleashed on mankind by the Soviet Union, augmented by the international control groups. Further, the disease may still be being "guided," or stimulated to keep on changing, by implanted signals carried by the giant Soviet Woodpecker "over-the-horizon radars," and carried by other Soviet transmitters. Only a little of that capability will be touch upon in this paper. (July, 1987 — Ed.)

This Paper is Just a Prelude

In my book, Fer-de-Lance: A Briefing on Soviet Scalar Electromagnetic Weapons, I specifically pointed out that I was of necessity neglecting the biological warfare aspects. I intended to later write a second book covering those aspects. This paper contains the most important item of that second book, AIDS: Biological Warfare. (Both books published by Tesla Book Company, P.O. Box 1649, Greenville, TX 75401.) That book develops in great detail exactly how to develop electromagnetic healing. It develops in great detail the technical concepts behind everything to do. It also specifies exactly how the Prioré device worked.

As you may recall, Antoine Prioré built a strange electromagnetic treatment device, funded by the French government and under the auspices of impeccable members of the French Academy of Sciences, which cured diseases such as cancer and leukemia. The device was validated in thousands of experiments, then eventually hamstrung and destroyed by the enmity and hatred of powerful French scientists who could not understand how the machine could work, but felt their position and authority totally threatened by it.

But this paper is only a prelude to that book. It is meant to serve as a warning. I am trying to give recognition, and any assistance possible, to certain brave colleagues who (with little or no funds or resources except what they can tear out with their bare hands) are already laboring around the clock to develop a permanent solution to the AIDS problem. As a matter of discretion, I shall not mention the names of these colleagues. The solution they seek is radical, by orthodox assessment. Yet it is the only possible approach that has any chance whatsoever.

They are searching for a solution through electromagnetic healing — but using a different kind of electromagnetics than that taught to the conventional electrical engineer. It is my purpose here to spell out some of the path they are taking, and why that path can do what no vaccine or drug can.

What they are doing, I cannot do. If they do not succeed, no one can. But I will say this, and most strongly: in my view, the only hope for humanity lies in the work they are doing, and they have my utmost admiration and support. Let us fervently hope they succeed in their strenuous endeavor.

In my best estimate/opinion, they must succeed in two years or less, else the AIDS incubation already accomplished by then, and the implementation time delay — even given a cure — together will insure a devastation of humanity unparalleled in all of history.

Curing AIDS is the Highest Priority

Let me accent that developing this AIDS cure is far more important than developing our entire arsenal of new military weapons. It is even more important than the development of scalar electromagnetic defensive weapons. The Mideast and Nicaragua are insignificant compared to the AIDS problem.

There's no time to rail against the Soviets, who have cunningly and in great secret "struck our vitals with the mailed fist." We've been struck in such a way that, unless we can solve the AIDS problem in two years or less, we are already finished.

As shocking as it sounds, I am convinced that the Soviets have already launched World War III, to the hilt; and it's not at all the kind of war we've been expecting. We have been preparing to fight a better World War II. The one we're preparing for will never be fought. Instead, the real World War III is already raging, and we've not yet recognized that it's even underway.

A great Soviet "first strike to finish us" has already been accomplished. The new "Pearl Harbor" has already happened. The enemy has overrun or Maginot Line; we are at our Dunkirk. There are no boats waiting, and there are none on the way. The great Soviet first strike has been delivered with surreptitious biological warfare, not with nuclear weapons or ground forces.

AIDS is going to do the job, and other hands have unwittingly done the dirty work for them. As always in the past, we have no troops facing the brunt of the first strike and trying to turn it. This time we have far fewer than we've ever had. Just two or three.

Ironically, this time our entire system — the government, the medical establishment, the scientific establishment, the universities — all are far too dogmatic, and have far too sluggish a response time, to offer any assistance at all. They are simply so "out of it" that they don't really know what's happened. The bureaucracy simply is so stagnated that, even with a giant paroxysm, it cannot change quickly enough to do the job in time.

The best response the orthodox system could theoretically make — if it immediately placed the nation under martial law, marshalled all the universities and scientists, everything — would require at least seven years to produce results. A more likely response time is 10 to 14 years. That won't do the job.

So the job has to be done from completely outside the system. It has to be done with independent financing; financing without a lot of conventional, bureaucratic strings on it. Resources must be committed as needed, immediately, not with a several months' approval process. Everything in the orthodox establishment simply has to be bypassed. The government, the medical establishment, the scientific establishment, the universities — everything. Otherwise, we're as good as finished right now.

The Soviets Knew the U.S. Would Not React

There is information that the present AIDS viruses were deliberately created and introduced as a biological warfare campaign, at least into the African population, by the Soviet Union and possibly by the secret international control groups, as well.

Apparently, the control groups may have wished to "clean out the African continent" to provide a new continent for relieving population pressure and solving the problem of the biological time bomb — overpopulation. The Soviets, however, realized that slight changes would result in an epidemic of unparalleled proportions. They recognized the opportunity for safely initiating WW III with a great first strike. They know the U.S. is totally ignorant of scalar electromagnetic (EM) weaponry, and that the U.S. will not even be able to comprehend that it has been deliberately struck. The Soviets are quite confident of this because of the total failure of the U.S. to comprehend incidents such as the following:

- (1) The long years of Soviet "weak microwave radiation" of the U.S. embassy in Moscow. The Soviets electromagnetically induced diseases that resulted in extensive health problems of embassy personnel, the death of two U.S. ambassadors, and the illness of a third.
- (2) In January, 1960, Krushchev announced to the Presidium that a new, fantastic weapon was in development. He stated that the weapon was so powerful that, if unrestrainedly used, it could wipe out all life on Earth.
- (3) In May, 1960, Gary Powers' high-flying U-2 spy plane was mysteriously disabled over the Soviet Union, resulting in its subsequent crash and the Soviet capture of Powers himself.
- (4) In April, 1960, the Soviet Union utilized a just-deployed scalar EM weapon to destroy the submerged USS Thresher nuclear submarine, off the coast of the U.S. itself. In spite of intense electronic jamming experienced by the USS Skylark, surface companion to the Thresher, the U.S. failed to recognize this major indication of a scalar EM attack.
- (5) In Afghanistan, in 1981 and at intervals since, Soviet helicopters have sometimes attacked Afghanistan guerrillas or villages with a strange new weapon. A body struck by this weapon dies instantly and completely. It falls like a limp rag, and does not decay even in thirty days. Every cell, bacterium, virus, etc., in the body has been killed instantly. Nerve gas rockets and chemical rockets are also usually fired to provide a "deception cover" for the nature of the real weapon. This eerie Soviet weapon has been mislabeled as some strange new gas, and is referred to as "Smirch" — a combination of the two words

"smert" (death) and "semerch" (sandstorm).

- (6) In April, 1984, a monstrously huge scalar electromagnetic incident occurred off the coast of Japan, near the Kuriles. Subsequent interviews with the pilots sighting the event have revealed that several combined tests of the various modes of a scalar EM howitzer occurred. A giant "cold explosion" occurred, raising a giant mushroom cloud to over 60,000 feet and a greater than 150-mile diameter in two minutes. A glowing dome appeared, and expanded to monstrous size. According to Dr. Walker and colleagues, the diameter of this great glowing, hemispherical shell expanded to several hundred kilometers. He and his colleagues were able to rule out any possible known natural events or mechanisms that could have caused the incident.
- (7) Numerous incidents of hemispherical shells of light and giant balls of light within the Soviet Union have been seen from Iran and from Afghanistan. Such giant artificial phenomena have also repeatedly been seen over the oceans by mariners and airline pilots.
- (8) Several instances of anomalous disabling of jet engines of commercial airliners have occurred while the aircraft were in flight.
- (9) Direct and intensive weather engineering over the U.S. itself has been accomplished by the Soviet Union for a decade, using the interference grid resulting from the crossing of two or more giant beams from the Woodpecker "over-the-horizon radar" transmitters. Specific cloud signatures (anomalous holes, giant radials, twin giant radials, and razor-sharp giant interference patterns) have continually occurred, but the orthodox system has blithely ignored them.
- (10) A giant test of over a hundred huge Soviet scalar electromagnetic weapons occurred on and around May 1, 1985, for the 40th anniversary of the end of WW II. The entire Western scientific and intelligence establishment remained sublimely unaware of the huge exercise. They had not a single scalar EM signal detector — even though the air, land, and ocean was filled with hundreds of Soviet scalar EM transmitters chattering away to Soviet armed forces and submarines. Underneath our feet, the earth itself was in giant scalar EM resonance on 54 frequencies (27 pairs), each of which tapped energy directly from the molten core of the Earth and fed it to an ensemble of strategic scalar EM weapons.
- (11) In late November, 1985, the Soviets tested their Launch Phase ABM system over Florida, using the launch of a U.S. space shuttle as a convenient test target. A marker beacon (ball of light) was placed in the sky, hovering near the launch area. It was seen by hundreds of persons, and photographed by George Suchary. During the final countdown to launch, a scalar EM "missile" (ball of intense energy) was fired, offset from the shuttle. This ball of energy was not in the visible spectrum, but may have been accidentally photographed by Bob Gladwin. Twelve minutes after launch, a tremendous rumbling boom echoed through the area — so huge it was heard for hundreds of miles up and down the East Coast. This was the third U.S. space shuttle launch in which NASA had noted associated anomalous phenomena, but it did nothing.
- (12) On December 12, 1985, the Soviets used the same weapon in the anti-bomber mode to destroy an Arrow DC-8 jet just after takeoff from Gander Air Force Base, Newfoundland. Over 250 U.S. soldiers and civilian crew members were killed.
- (13) On January 28, 1986, the Soviets destroyed the U.S. space shuttle Challenger, shortly after its launch. A dozen signatures are associated with this Soviet kill — too many to mention all of them. First, the Soviet ships monitoring the launch site suddenly departed at high speed four hours before the launch. This was unprecedented. Second, according to General Daniel Graham, the following evening the KGB headquarters gave a party to celebrate the success of their perfect active measures against the Challenger! Many other indicators also exist. The total is a very strong statement that the Soviets killed the Challenger with the same weapon they had tested against three previous shuttle launches, and which they had used to kill the Arrow DC-8 at Gander Air Force Base only six weeks earlier.
- (14) A whole series of anomalous missile failures occurred, involving Titan, Delta, and Ariane launches. The odds against all these launches failing in that pattern were millions to one.
- (15) In 1975, Brezhnev surprisingly urged U.S. Senators to have the U.S. cooperate in banning the development of new weapons of unparalleled horror. He used the phrase, "more frightful than the mind of man has ever imagined." Shortly after, at the United Nations, Gromyko even introduced a draft agreement for banning such undisclosed weapons, and urged all nations of the world to sign it. Again the West had not the foggiest notion as to what the Soviets were talking about.
- (16) The orthodox U.S. news media has been, and is, almost totally "out of it." Ironically, at the time of our deadliest peril, and the most momentous period in history, incidents such as the indiscretions of a presidential candidate and of a television evangelist, and the sticky-fingered actions of the National Security Council in trying to get guns to the Contras, are the "burning issues of the hour" — and the week, and the month, and the year, and so on, ad nauseum.
- (17) The Congress — great watchdog and the direct representation of the U.S. citizenry — is equally immersed in interminable hearings of little or no substance except news media coverage and publicity.

- (18) A lame-duck President, misled and now very much hemmed in on all sides, and on the defensive, has had his power to act greatly constricted. In addition, the orthodox filtering networks surrounding him have effectively isolated him. He has not been made aware of the extensive information that would show just how certain it is that the Soviets have fantastic superweapons and have been using them against us for decades. He and his immediate advisors are fed highly filtered, shaped and interpreted data.

Further, the intelligence community is a past master at "slick-tonguing" the interpretation of anything new, and anything they really don't understand, in terms such as "We have no evidence that..." For decades, the community has consistently underestimated the Soviet threat, and it has also usually projected any unpleasant present Soviet capability in the terms that "If the Soviets keep this sort of thing up, it may prove to be a real threat 30 years from now!"

For years the U.S. intelligence was unaware of a Toronto inventor's development and public demonstration in the late 1960's of an inertial field generator weapon, for example, because it simply did not place high value on overt intelligence such as reading the newspapers! The entire event was printed in detail in a Canadian newspaper. Only very recently, within the last few years, has the intelligence community realized that the most important intelligence can only come from human intelligence (HUMINT) sources.

- (19) Western science has also shown itself to be highly dogmatic and ensconced in the comfortable "status quo." It has really ignored the important Soviet developments in unified field theory. It has assumed an aristocratic stance, regarding the Soviet scientists as little more than peasants still trying to clean the mud off their boots. In fact, the Soviet scientists have been ahead of the rest of the world in nonlinear science — the truly hard stuff — since the beginning. They have always been the best nonlinear mathematicians in the world.

Soviet scientific papers regularly appear which deal with local general relativity and the overcoming of sacrosanct conservation laws as a matter of course. That subject is still a "no-no" in U.S. scientific publications, even though the breaking of conservation laws has long been proven in particle physics. To my knowledge, with the exception of Hooper's obscurely published work, not a single U.S. scientific paper appears in the literature showing any detailed investigation of "bucking fields" as such and investigating the behavior of materials exposed to such "sum-zeroed" fields.

Yet, ironically, a whole area of optical physics — phase conjugate optics (PCO) — has shown great activity since we discovered it in the open Soviet literature, and since 1972, when two Soviet scientists visited Los Alamos and briefed our scientists on the subject! In PCO, the scalar EM wave is blithely called the pump wave. Using it on nonlinear materials produces extraordinary results — such as electromagnetic waves traveling backward in time. Further, the PC effect is known to be universal, and not just in the optics region at all. The obvious experimental and theoretical proof of Soviet scalar EM weapons has been in our literature for nearly two decades; our scientists have done thousands of experiments in it, and incredibly, they still do not comprehend what they are really working with.

Continually assured that Western science and intelligence remained outrageously ignorant and would obstinately persist in wearing orthodox blinders, the Soviets felt quite safe in striking the U.S. and its Western allies a mortal blow, so long as the blow was unorthodox. After all, the Soviets have been waging a slowly increasing unorthodox war against us for decades, and totally getting away with it. Consequently, the Soviets manipulated the AIDS virus to make its virulence far more lethal. They continue to manipulate the spreading AIDS viruses so that the West will be devastated, as well as Africa. In the Soviet plan, after the AIDS massacre has peaked, the remaining small U.S. and European populations will be totally powerless. The demoralized and devastated Western nations will easily capitulate and pass under the Soviet hammer and sickle.

The stimulated changes in the AIDS viruses are occurring so rapidly that producing an effective vaccine will be impossible. Without a totally new means applied to produce an AIDS cure, it cannot be done. Orthodox methods cannot cure AIDS in time, if ever. Unless unorthodox technology is applied to solve the problem, the West is already defeated.

The Asian Tiger Mosquito: A New and Efficient Vector

The Asian Tiger mosquito has been introduced into the U.S. and is rapidly spreading through the Southeastern states. This vigorous and voracious mosquito prefers man as his target, and has up to a 40-mile range. The Asian Tiger mosquito apparently is intended to serve as the major vector (carrier), or at least one of them, to rapidly spread the AIDS virus and devastate the U.S. population. The AIDS virus has already been confirmed living in the Tiger mosquito; however, we are supposed to believe that its bite will not give you the virus.

Let's see now... we are supposed to believe that we can catch the virus from a hypodermic needle — but not from a mosquito's living hypodermic needle. If you really believe that one, there's a bridge down the road a ways that I can sell you real cheap!

As the Tiger mosquito vector spreads, the rate of increase of the AIDS infection will itself increase. In other words, the acceleration rate of the infection is itself accelerating. This means that all the projections for "doubling times" are seriously in error.

Our government has greatly understated the problem. Officially they are still denying any possibility of insect vectors for the disease; past projections of the spread of the disease have been far more optimistic than warranted. The Surgeon-General has stated that we'll know in a few months whether or not there will be a heterosexual AIDS explosion.

The latest data from Alabama, for example, shows that the disease has been doubling every six months instead of every year. Also, the doubling interval itself has been shortening. If these and other data are a true indication, it appears that we literally may have an "explosion" of the infection in no more than two or three years.

More on AIDS Doubling Time

The AIDS problem is much, much worse than officially announced. As stated, in some areas at least, the number of new AIDS cases diagnosed has been doubling every six months instead of every year. This makes all previous "officially announced" estimates and projections off by several orders of magnitude (at least three).

If the incubation period (nominal) is, say, 5 years, then there is a factor of 2^{10} of AIDS cases already in incubation.

Remember, we've got the data only since 1981, when the first AIDS case was diagnosed. So it's statistically difficult to project ahead with any accuracy. However, the best interpretation of the data we can now make shows a spiraling (speed-up) trend in the rate of acceleration of the disease, indicative of a forthcoming asymptote. If that interpretation of the data holds true, the asymptote represents literally an "explosion of the disease." That is, the six-months "doubling interval" is slowly becoming the six-months "tripling interval," the six-months "quadrupling interval," etc.

The best indication/projection I can tentatively arrive at is this: If the total cure is not accomplished within about two years, then — considering the incubation ongoing by then and the speedup ahead — somewhere between a third and two-thirds of all humans on Earth will perish!

In other words, nominally half the humans on Earth will inevitably die, say within five years (the incubation period) after that two-year point. And, most of the people who die are going to be highly selected. Most of them are going to be Westerners, Africans, and Asians.

All of our tanks, ships, bombers, missiles, nuclear weapons, and armed forces put together can't save a single AIDS victim. We've got more generals than ever before in our history, including World War II, and not one of them has a single tactic or weapon against this mortal attack. All other threats — nuclear, chemical, scalar EM, the works — pale in comparison to this doomsday weapon that has already been unleashed upon an unsuspecting world.

World War III is Already Raging

World War III has long been unleashed and a final, decisive first strike has now occurred. We've already lost the war unless unbelievably heroic measures are taken immediately! This thing is deliberate. It's fiendishly clever. It's effective. And a smiling Gorbachev — master propagandist — is just part of the icing on the cake to deceive us until it's too late.

Ironically, Soviet propagandists have cleverly started claiming that the U.S. has produced the AIDS virus and unleashed it. That's a very clever propaganda trick to shift suspicion from themselves.

Unless we move immediately to effect a total cure, the armed forces of all the Western nations will shortly be devastated. We surrender. We lose. The Soviets get the U.S. farmland. That's what they really need. Of course, they will also have rid themselves of about 200 million Americans or so along the way.

That solves the old "winners problem" of what to do with a conquered, resentful populace. That problem will have already been taken care of, for the U.S. populace will essentially have been eliminated. There won't be many U.S. military prisoners, for most of the military personnel will also have been eliminated. Remember always that the Communists' doctrine is to wage a total war...win any way, with any weapon, at any cost.

And Communism is an oligarchy — a religion in power in the state, and using the state's power to enforce its religious goals. Communism has always taught that it is necessary to destroy capitalism. That equates with destroying the U.S., the major capitalist country. Communists have always taken the long view, willing to struggle for decades to eventually accomplish their aim.

If you think no modern nation could be so incredibly savage as to deliberately destroy untold millions of people, look at the actual record of the Communists.

- When the Khmer Rouge took over Cambodia they murdered a third of their own people.
- The Soviets murdered millions of their own Kulaks when they collectivized the Soviet farms.
- The Red Chinese also slaughtered Chinese peasants by the millions — perhaps as many as twenty million — when they collectivized the farmers.

Lenin's followers have proven over and over that they are capable of murdering many millions of persons — even their own people.

Dedicated Communists are highly religious persons, even fanatics. Deliberate murder to achieve Communism's goals is part of the accepted dogma. The Communists are quite capable of killing a couple of billion "foreigners" and "enemies," given the chance.

The opportunity to strike the final blow with as simple and unorthodox a weapon as the AIDS virus could simply not be ignored by men who have spent their lives trying to maneuver the world into a situation where just such an opportunity presents itself.

Western Medicine is Inadequate

Present Western medical science is totally inadequate to do the task required. For example, present medicine is largely based on "slowing or killing the invader of the body," whether the invader is a germ, bacterium, virus, or whatever. We've been conditioned by allopathic medicine — and by the big drug industry — to think chemically of disease. We have been conditioned to forget that all chemistry is based on, and controlled by, electric charge and charge distribution. If you control the charge and the charge distribution, you control the biochemistry — of the cell, of the body, all of it. And, you can control the charge and the charge distribution with scalar electromagnetics.

If there's a mechanical difficulty, the present treatment is to try to mechanically remedy it — remove a bad appendix, set a broken leg, etc. However, then it's strictly up to the body's own natural healing system — its immune system and its repair system — to actually do the healing and repair/reconstruction. Our present medical science doesn't even know what makes the healing and repair system tick.

They still think chemically; so they've really gone gah-gah over brain endorphins and other "control" chemicals. They haven't got the foggiest notion of what kind of control system directs the production and control of the endorphins — what regulates them.

The problem with AIDS is that it directly affects and suppresses the body's systems for healing and repair. Even if a way is found to destroy the AIDS virus, present medicine has not the foggiest notion of how to restore the healing and repair system from the damage and destruction it will already have sustained.

Compare the situation to division combat. Hostile invaders are at the front of the division and by the division's combat forces. A battle ensues, with penetration and damage to the rear area support and sustenance facilities. After the enemy is beaten back or destroyed, the rear support and the combat forces must be renewed and restored. If that cannot be done, the seriously weakened division can literally be bowled over by almost anything that comes along and hits it.

Modern medicine has almost no tools or means of restoring the support and rear maintenance functions. Even in a paroxysm effort, dogmatic Western medical science would take decades to totally reorient its medical thinking to where it could even attack the real problem.

This also applies to our governmental bureaucracy, governmental agencies, private companies, the universities — and to Western science in general. If we have to depend on any or all of our present "system," the war is already over and we are already doomed. Half of humanity will die in possibly 5 years after the upcoming two-year "point of no return."

Medical insurance, treatment centers, and even private physicians are going to be bankrupted quickly as the AIDS plague increases. With the collapse of Western medicine, panic and pandemonium will reign in the streets. Martial law will be a necessity, and rioting on a scale unparalleled in American history will occur. We are likely to see our own dictatorship, in the form of a military junta making a coup and seizing power "to restore order."

Study carefully the performance of governments and military regimes in such countries as Korea and South Vietnam, when they were hard pressed by enemy forces and in great disarray. There you saw the universal rise of dictatorship to respond to the stress. Look carefully, for you are looking at your own future.

With the devastation of our armed forces, governmental and civil agencies, and our population at large, a simple show of strength by the Soviets will collapse any further resistance. The hammer and sickle will wave supreme over the residue. That's because the Russians do have the necessary developed scalar EM technology — they call it "energetics" — not only to control and destroy the AIDS virus, but also to directly restore the immune and repair systems.

Unless a totally different tack is taken in the Western effort to counter this threat, Gorbachev's entrancing smile has already lured us to our doom. We are faced with a direct realization of Lenin's words:

"In the final revolution it does not matter if three-quarters of the Earth is destroyed, so long as the remaining quarter emerges Communist."

And Krushchev's ghost will have the last laugh after all. We will have fulfilled the prediction he made to Nixon in their famous "kitchen debate":

"We will bury you!"

There is Hope that We Can Stop Aids

It isn't hopeless. Preliminary results have already been obtained, and they are most promising. However, let me warn that these results are only preliminary. There still is an enormous amount of work and testing before it is really known for sure. But at least, right now, in the preliminary tests they have zapped viruses, harmful bacteria, lethal protozoa, the works — with miniscule voltage — all without doing any harm at all to the normal human cells, including blood cells.

In the West, there are only perhaps a dozen or so persons that I know of who are qualified to work on the essential pieces of the primary scalar EM work required. They are all unorthodox researchers and scientists. There are thousands of fine orthodox scientists, of course, who can help with the normal peripherals — making and testing viral solutions, setting up and operating equipment, doing interminable tests, all the lab stuff, etc. But only about 12 unorthodox guys are qualified and prepared, mentally and emotionally, to come to grips with the particular scalar EM technology required for rapid development of an AIDS cure. Right now there are just two or three of the 12 working on this, hammering away as best they can, at terrible cost to themselves and their normal endeavors.

The expanded scalar electromagnetics can solve the AIDS problem, if it can be developed and applied quickly enough. Royal R. Rife and Antoine Prioré have already shown the way.

There must be money enough, authority enough, and power enough, to marshall the actual persons needed, by name. If substantial funds can be secured quickly, the exact team necessary can be put together in time to probably succeed.

The Master Cellular Communication System

Dr. Fritz Popp has already discovered and pointed out the "virtual state" master communication system that controls all cells in the body, and all their functions. This is a scalar EM system. Its electrical conductivity path is not through the electron shells of the atoms, but is directly through the nuclei-to-nuclei scalar EM pathway.

With scalar EM methods, organized signals (signals with specific internal nonzero vector EM waves, but which externally sum to zero vector resultant E and H fields) can be constructed for essentially any specific purpose. This includes "killing" a cancer or leukemia cell, destroying a virus, changing the DNA, etc. This approach can directly reach and manipulate all immune and repair system functions. The entire biochemistry and functioning of the cell — including its genetics — is totally engineerable.

Further, a specific "charge pattern" of desired specific immunity can be designed and used to "charge up" the nuclei of the biosystem. This charge is then maintained by the system to provide permanent immunity.

The Nature of Mind and Thought

The reason Western science has not discovered what mind and thought are is simple — they have only built instruments and tools to look where the mind and thought are not to be found.

Let's look where they are to be found. For example, consider the ionic discharges in and across the tremendous numbers of synapses of the human nervous system, and the slower discharge and migration of ions across cellular membranes, etc. Considered as a single biological ensemble, these are much like a vast array of continual and continuing spark discharge vectors, slow charge current vectors, etc. Overall, within the macroscopic space occupied by the body, these electromagnetic vectors sum almost entirely to a zero vector resultant. Only a tiny nonzero vector residue remains. However, this vector zero summation has incredibly rich infolded signals, channels, and dynamic relationships (structure) within it.

This zero-vector summation is the biopotential of the body. It is constantly and dynamically changing. For the esoteric-minded, this is the real aura. It has multiple virtual-state levels. It is anchored in, and resides in, the atomic nuclei of the mass of the body. It is a virtual-state engine, activating, structuring, and dynamicizing the virtual particle flux of the charged particle of the body. Hence it "fine-structures and dynamicizes" — and controls — the body's charge and charge distribution. In that fashion it controls and directs the body's biochemistry.

Modern science/medicine measures the small nonzero electromagnetic residue (the remaining weak E and H fields) and tries to ascertain where and how mind and thought are accomplished by that residue.

That's the wrong ballgame, and the wrong ballpark.

The residue E and H field remainders are simply the garbage thrown out of the glorious engines dynamically operating inside the vector zero summations. The E and H field residues are the wastes or exhaust byproducts. They are not the functions of the mind/thought process itself; instead, they are the spillage or leakage from those functions.

Now let us look at what thought is.

Take a "frozen time" snapshot of the components of the zero vector summation. Regard the highly complex, infolded structure or pattern these components form.

Now take a second "frozen time" snapshot of the components of the zero vector summation a very, very short time later. Subtract the previous "frozen pattern" from this second "frozen pattern." The difference or delta between the two patterns represents a myriad of thoughts or specified forms in the virtual state. Hence, it represents the contents of the "thinking mind" in the most general sense.

The mind is the overall functioning and changing of the entire pattern's substructure, and the ability of an organism to have such and do such. The "ability of the organism to do such" requires at least two more nested levels of virtual states — two more more additional hyperdimensions, which is the same thing.

In Kaluza-Klein theory, all those electromagnetic component vectors are in the fifth dimension. Hence, they are hyperdimensional. Everything driving the vectors themselves is higher dimensional.

A thought is the exact change of a localized pattern (localized zero vector summation whose components are changing but remaining zero summed) from one moment to the next. Thought is always a pattern change, of the components inside an EM vector summation.

Most thoughts are totally "unconscious" (multiple simultaneous or "parallel" thoughts). A few are conscious (serially ordered, singularly considered and processed). The unconscious mind is totally a parallel processor

(many things/thoughts at once). The conscious mind is totally a serial processor (only one thing/thought at a time).

Most persons never take the time and trouble to reflect and notice that, consciously, they can only perceive one single thing at a time. Of course, the conscious mind is so rapid that by habit they assume they can perceive many things at once. Since the conscious mind cannot discriminate the "multiple images in the slide projector at once" of the unconscious mind, that's what makes it unable to "be conscious" of the contents of the "unconscious."

In fact, the unconscious mind is totally conscious — it's just multiply conscious simultaneously. (Which sheds some interesting light on why one can develop multiple personalities, for instance.)

When the conscious mind "regards" the unconscious contents, it sees "something" which has "multiple meanings at once." That's what we call symbolic. A symbol is something which can have many meanings.

That's why the unconscious content always "symbolizes" something when it's trying to communicate to the conscious mind. It's necessary to interpret the symbols to understand the message being communicated.

That's why dreams, for instance, are symbolic; and why it usually takes a trained psychiatrist or psychologist to properly interpret the symbolic representations manifested in mental disorder and get at the underlying cause being symbolized.

With deliberately constructed scalar electromagnetics, any or all of the conscious/unconscious portions of the mind can be available for engineering and control/change.

Note that the ensemble of sum-zero vectors forms potentials. These potentials (i.e., the scalar EM) penetrate to the nuclei, and internal changes in the potentials' substructures (i.e., thoughts) also penetrate to the nuclei.

The nuclei continually charge up; the particles change their states, to the impressed potentials, including the potential or charge of each component of the impressed potential. The nuclei charge up with both dynamic overall potential (mind) and thought (individual substructure changes).

Note that mind, thought, and memory reside in, and are recorded in, the atomic nuclei.

The dynamic mind/biopotential uses negative energy and negative time, since the nucleus is positively charged. Positive energy and positive time are negative charge creations — that's what you get from photon interaction with the electron shells of atoms.

Since it operates in negative time, the mind/biopotential is negentropic. It can restore order from disorder. In that way, the "life blueprint" of the living organism can maintain order in the midst of the entropy of the normal physical components of the physical body.

Thus the functioning mind and bio-control systems — including Popp's master cellular communication system, the immune control system, the acquisition control system, and the repair control system — all "reside" in the nuclei as dynamically interacting, patterned potentials or "patterned charge," complete with resonances and frequencies, etc.

The Prioré Machine

Funded by the French government in the amount of several million dollars, Antoine Prioré built an electromagnetic treatment machine and concretely demonstrated a nearly 100% cure for all kinds of terminal cancers and leukemias, in thousands of rigorous laboratory tests with animals. These tests were shown to medical scientists as early as 1960.

Into a tube containing a plasma of mercury and neon gas, a pulsed 9.4 gigahertz wave modulated upon a carrier frequency of 17 megahertz was introduced. These waves were produced by radio emitters and magnetrons in the presence of a 1,000 gauss magnetic field. Experimental animals were exposed to this magnetic field during irradiation, and the mixture of waves (some 17 or so) coming from the plasma tube and modulating and riding the magnetic field passed through the animals' bodies.

Among other things, a plasma can convert a transverse wave to a longitudinal wave. Also, phase conjugate (time-reversed) electromagnetic waves can be produced. The Prioré apparatus produced a scalar EM wave/signal with deliberately constructed, infolded components, including phase conjugate EM waves.

Phase conjugate EM waves carry negative energy and negative time. They exhibit negentropy, and move from disorder back to order. The proof is already in hundreds of technical papers in nonlinear phase conjugate optics in the orthodox scientific literature.

Every cell has a complicated electromagnetic radiation spectrum. An abnormal cell has an abnormal change to that spectrum. If we subtract the normal cell's spectrum from the abnormal cell's spectrum, we have a specific "delta" which, when introduced to a normal cell, will convert it to that kind of abnormal cell.

When we have such a signal pattern for cancer conversion, for example, we can irradiate a normal cell with it and turn that cell into a cancer cell.

Now, however, suppose we phase conjugate that "cancer conversion" signal pattern. The phase conjugate replica will be the pattern that precisely converts that sort of cancer cell back to a normal cell!

If phase conjugate replicas of a cancer cell's specific delta frequencies are fed into the cells of a body having that cancer, the cancer cell's master cellular control system will be modulated with these "time-reversed" specific signals. That will return the cancer cells in the body to the control of the animal's proper master cellular control system. The cancerous cells will be immediately destroyed, or reverted back to a normal cell of the animal.

A very similar process exists for just about every disease virus, bacterium, and infectious agent — including AIDS! In simplified terms, if an action in forward time induces a condition, then the time-reversal of that action will reverse the condition. The concept is almost laughably simple. Time-reversal of an electromagnetic disease process is a specific electromagnetic healing process for that disease. That's how my colleagues are striving to develop a cure for AIDS — and for cancer, leukemia, and just about every disease known to man.

In his device, Prioré internally structured the carrier photons themselves — making them "vacuum engines." This structure contained the dynamic "delta" for the disease. By introducing these spectra into a giant rotating plasma, he phase conjugated his vacuum engines, and then passed these time-reversed vacuum engines down and through a strong magnetic field which thoroughly penetrated all cells of the biological organism being treated.

The scalar components (structured photons) representing the time-reversal of the disease were absorbed and reradiated in all the cells, "charging up" the nuclei of the atoms in the organism to some potential level of that exact "healing and reversing pattern."

In that way, he passed a specific "cancer reversal" phase conjugate replica into every cell of the body, charging the cellular biopotential and inducing a permanent "healing delta" onto the body's cellular master control system. In the process, the cancer/leukemia pattern/charge in the nuclei was cancelled or "discharged." The new time-reversed charge also destroyed the cancer cells, or converted them back to normal cells, as appropriate.

That cured the disease — even terminal cases — 100%. Prioré could also cure sleeping sickness, leukemias of all types, and even clogging of the arteries.

As a highly simplified analogy, the complex healing signal — viewed as a scalar Fourier expansion — represented a "stress" against any cellular control system delta encountered, to return to the normal cell's master cellular control system of the body. Encountering the normal control system in normal cells, there was no delta, so it produced zero stress. Encountering the abnormal control system in tumorous cells, it produced great specific stress on it, reverting it to the normal control system of the body's normal cells. If the cancer cell could not withstand the stress, it died.

Thus, to a normal cell the Prioré signal pattern acted somewhat like a comb passed through one's hair. No interference occurred with the normal cell (one whose scalar control pattern is phase-locked to the body's master cellular control system and phase-locked with it). The Prioré signal stimulated and "stroked" the normal cell, but did not hurt it at all.

On the other hand, the scalar control pattern in and of an abnormal (cancerous) cell is out of phase with the body's master cellular control system, and is not phase-locked to it. Hence, the Prioré signal caused direct interference with the abnormal cell's independent scalar control system. The interference pattern constituted the reconstruction of normal energy directly in the cancerous cell, and also jammed its abnormal scalar life signal.

This destroyed the cancerous cell by two mechanisms: (1) physical energy was kindled directly in the abnormal cell, causing direct mechanical damage, and (2) the cancerous cell, being an "independent living critter" had its scalar life channel (connecting its primitive "mind" to its "body") jammed and stopped. If the cancerous cell was reverted to a normal cell by the Prioré stress before being destroyed, it became just a normal cell and the Prioré stress had no further effect upon it.

Any disease with cellular, biochemical, or genetic basis can be cured in like fashion.

Prioré's method, for example, was clearly shown to be able to completely reverse clogging of the arteries with fatty deposits, and to be able to lower the cholesterol level to normal, even in the presence of an abnormally high cholesterol diet. His method also showed complete mastery and cure of sleeping sickness and trypanosome-induced illnesses.

Prioré found that every cell of the body — even the hair — must be irradiated and treated (charged up) with the signal, for the disease pattern is in every cell. The master cellular control system is holographic — the pattern (substructured potential with its dynamic, oscillating components) is in each component (each atomic nucleus, hence in each cell). Every structural level of the body larger than the cell also has its own correlated pattern, or modulation, on the overall.

A biological organism can regenerate lost limbs, for example, if it can utilize its natural recovery process in a Prioré manner.

Even though Prioré's work was presented to the French Academy of Sciences by Robert Courrier, head of the Biology section, the Academy could not understand the device and its functioning. That was because the Academicians knew nothing of scalar electromagnetics, and phase conjugation, and the Prioré machine was a scalar electromagnetic device using phase conjugation.

In 1974, a change of local government lost Prioré his government supporters and funding. Ironically, Prioré was just completing a 4-stories-tall apparatus capable of radiating and treating entire human bodies. It would have been capable of curing cancer and leukemia in humans rather than just in laboratory rats. (His previous machines were much smaller, and only a small animal could be irradiated whole-body.) In that machine Prioré used a "lamp" — a special section in which 17 specific frequencies were mixed and modulated upon the 9.4 gigahertz carrier. It should have been capable of curing cancer and leukemia in two five-minute irradiations, one week apart.

While Prioré was still alive, with my associates I spent nearly two years of my life in an effort to bring the Prioré device to market and into the mainstream of medical research and development. Verbal agreements with the Prioré group and with the French government were obtained. The machines were to be built, assembled, and tested in Bordeaux. Then they were to be dismantled and shipped to the purchasers — large medical research and development laboratories.

Mysteriously, all funding for the project was suddenly withdrawn. Our backers were leaned on very hard. It seems one does not finance a simple cancer and leukemia cure and live to tell about it.

Prioré never again recovered his funding, and later died. The machine fell into disarray and was disassembled. However, the proof that the requisite time-reversed signal can be produced, and will ride down a magnetic field to penetrate every cell in the body, is already in the present hard-core physics literature, if one knows where to look and how to properly interpret the work. The fact that such signals can reverse nearly every major cellular illness condition in the body has also been proven and is in the literature.

The Prioré-type cure for AIDS only requires the necessary funding, and assembly of the exact persons, by name, necessary to do the job.

The Kaznacheyev Work

The Kaznacheyev experiments in the Soviet Union proved that any cellular death and disease pattern can be induced by a specific pattern carried on an electromagnetic signal, if the target cells are bombarded with the pattern-carrying carrier signals for a length of time. Over 15,000 experiments were done in several military institutes.

The Soviets reported the effect using near-ultraviolet photons as carriers. The UV photons were those emitted in death by a diseased or damaged cell as it dies — that is, the bioluminescence (which carried the properly substructured photons). Bombardment of a target cell culture by the “death pattern photons” (remember, these conditioned photons are specific vacuum engines) induced the exact disease pattern in those cells after a “charge-up” or “kindling” period of time. During that charge-up time, the atomic nuclei in the target cell culture was gradually introduced onto the master cellular control system of the cells in the target culture.

Scientists with whom I correspond, at the University of Sydney, Australia, have fully replicated — and extended — the Kaznacheyev experiments. They have induced cellular death and disease between cell cultures at over 100 feet distance, which happened to be the convenient distance between two buildings. University of Marberg scientists in West Germany have replicated the Kaznacheyev effect in the infrared (i.e., with infrared “conditioned-photon” vacuum engines).

Note particularly, that it is already well-known in quantum mechanics/electrodynamics that, when a photon is emitted from the surface of a dielectric body, the entire dielectric body participates in that emission. If a photon is absorbed on the surface of the dielectric body, the entire dielectric body participates in that absorption.

What was not published of Kaznacheyev’s work was the correspondent Soviet work showing electromagnetic reversal of cellular death and disease conditions by irradiation by phase conjugate replicas of the pattern-carrying induction signal. The burning question as to whether cellular disease conditions can be corrected by time-reversed signals must certainly have occurred to the Soviets, since phase conjugation was already being widely utilized in their giant scalar EM weapons.

It is certain that they thoroughly investigated this medical potential. It is highly significant that they did not openly publish those results.

Royal R. Rife’s Cancer Cure and Microscope

Royal R. Rife cured cancers and leukemias with a radiation from a special gas-filled ray tube, in only a few seconds radiation time, in the 1930’s and 1940’s. He also built a microscope which used over 20 interference stages with quartz optics. The microscope is important, because it used a special kind of electromagnetics — evanescent waves, or waves with only hyperdimensional components — to totally transcend the wavelength limitation on optical resolution. Consequently, it could see directly into the virtual state, past the photon limit.

Today we can show learned papers in the scientific literature proving that this is possible. In Rife’s day, it was considered total heresy, if not downright lunacy. Present forefront physics has now proven that the wavelength limit in optical instruments can be violated by utilizing evanescent (complex) waves. Rife’s microscope in fact utilized such waves; hence normal light wavelength was not a limitation. When an instrument is utilizing complex waves, it can also easily be utilizing phase conjugate waves.

Rife’s microscope could, in fact, see directly into the virtual state itself. Indeed, with it he could not only see the exceedingly small “point” cells that lie between ordinary cells, but he could see and identified sixteen internested deeper and smaller levels of structure within the point cells, which are themselves just barely visible to the finest optical microscope today.

Nothing before or since has achieved such a penetration. In his microscope, he could see living virtual state energy forms, functioning and moving. The biology his microscope revealed was far beyond the state of biology today. With it he could see — and learn to manipulate and control — the living internal structure of living electricity.

Since internested levels of virtual state are also higher spaces (hyperdimensions), Rife’s microscope was the first and only instrument to see directly into higher dimensions, and observe higher dimensional living forms.

He found "living energy" forms — critters, if you will — inside the virtual state that could go through the finest filter, reconstitute the bacterium or virus on the other side, and produce the actual disease itself — with or without the bacteria or virus. These critters were living things, though quite different from what we have been taught in biology class.

Indeed, the critters are "living electricity" or living charge, and assemble in and around any living thing, such as a virus or bacteria. They interact between the material observable state and the virtual state, including the chemistry of the cell and body. Being living structured electricity, they can be manipulated by structured electricity. And, they can be "killed" or destroyed by structured electricity.

But you have to have internally structured electromagnetic waves to induce internally structured charge into the cell and the body's biochemistry to affect and negate the structured critters. That's a scalar electromagnetics process. With that kind of process, you can cure AIDS, cancer, leukemia, sleeping sickness, malaria — or anything else.

Rife's microscope also could be utilized to determine the exact "color" (specific frequency pattern) associated with a particular virus, bacterium, and disease organism. He could then irradiate the organism with this frequency pattern and destroy it readily. His work was thoroughly checked and widely reported.

In Rife's time, such a thing was unthinkable to medical science. Yet today, with substantial evanescent wave technology already utilized in waveguides, and with a well-developed body of evanescent wave theory, we can conclusively prove that Rife's microscope was capable of doing precisely what he and other scientists reported.

For his efforts, Rife was hounded into prison. He was later released a broken and discouraged man, living out the remainder of his life and dying quietly. Rife produced a cancer cure, and they quickly destroyed him for that. But his work is not dead; it lies dormant.

Rife's work can be recovered, replicated and resumed, however, since there are one or more persons remaining alive who have intimate knowledge of his equipment and techniques. Also, one or more of his original microscopes is still in existence and available. Repair on it is proceeding now. With the grace of God, my colleagues are already well on the way to reviving his work in order to stop the AIDS virus.

Ruthless Suppression of Electromagnetic Healing

Deliberate suppression of electromagnetic medicine has repeatedly occurred in the West for several decades. This suppression has been, and is, particularly severe in the United States. Conventional U.S. medical dogma proclaims that any claim of "electromagnetic treatment" is fraudulent.

This is particularly asinine since, with the advent of quantum mechanics in the 1920's it was clearly established that all chemistry/medicine, and even mechanical force itself is based on electromagnetics — specifically, upon particles of mass and their exchange of virtual particles. Rigorously, in quantum mechanics everything is simply dynamic patterned structurings in potentials, with virtual particle exchange between vacuum and observable particles in physical systems. Chemistry, for example, is totally based upon, and controlled by, charge and charge distribution. With scalar electromagnetics, charge and charge distribution can be totally controlled.

Indeed, contrary to ordinary quantum mechanics and electromagnetics, in scalar electromagnetics the "charge" and the "potential" themselves can be deterministically structured to comprise deliberate vacuum engines to accomplish specific purposes — in the nucleus, in the atom, in the molecule, in the material lattice, etc.

But, unless medical science frees and funds research in electromagnetic medicine, scalar electromagnetic medicine will never be developed and applied.

At any rate, Western pioneers in electromagnetic medicine have been hounded, ostracized, penalized, imprisoned — and even killed. Make no mistake — there exists a cancer cartel that curdles one's blood. In the U.S. alone, 500,000 persons die every year from cancer and leukemia.

A cancer patient, on the average, may represent $30,000 to $50,000 or more "on the hoof" (or on the "slab"), and the price is rising every day. That represents a lot of money to certain vested interests. Stupendous investments in chemical (drug) medicine have been made, and an extremely large income results from the consumption of those drugs by medical patients. Medicines, drugs, and medical science have become a gigantic "consumer industry."

There's no way the present vested interests are going to let something potentially as simple, quick, and cheap as electromagnetic medicine kill the goose that's laying all the golden eggs.

But, if you're a medical doctor and practicing the prescribed dogma, you can burn the hell out of the patient with nuclear radiation and chemicals. You can slash the hell out of the patient with extensive and repeated surgery. In those cases you're a stalwart hero — even if the patient suffers untold agony and a horrible, inevitable death.

But you can't try to treat them with — or even develop — a gentle, non-burning, non-slashing, type of treatment such as electromagnetics.

Understand, I'm not blaming the individual doctor himself. He's doing the best he can. Most of them are as agonized as we are over all these horrible deaths.

The vested interests have determined what the doctor knows how to do, what tools he has to work with, and what he is allowed to do in the first place. The high priests of Western medical science should consider one point which is implicit in their own teachings, but most blithely ignored:

After all the cutting, slashing, burning, and drug poisonings are finished, any healing of the organism is totally accomplished and controlled by microvolt and millivolt electromagnetic control systems in the body, and the living electrical substructure of those biopotentials. Nothing the present medical science does is healing, in the truest and strictest sense.

Some Major Points in Summary

The blunt points are these:

- (a) Only the electromagnetic (scalar EM) approach can do the required task, at all. Even more so, it's the only approach that can do the job in the required time (2 years).

The necessary ingredients for the job have already been demonstrated, though not properly understood. Work by Rife, Prioré, and others has clearly shown that cellular disease can be cured electromagnetically. Phase conjugation and Kaznacheyev's work point the way to a direct cure for AIDS.

- (b) It is totally impossible for the present system to do what has to be done, because of its dogmatic and obstinate attachment to a false god of medicine and far too lengthy procedures. As Anton Wilson said, "What you believe imprisons you." Orthodox medical science is imprisoned by its own belief (dogma) and its directors will literally fight to the death of all of us to preserve those beliefs. Indeed, so will the directors of the orthodox scientific community.
- (c) Unless an electromagnetic treatment development is started on a crash basis, the West is already doomed, and half of humanity will die. World War III is already won by the Soviets, unless we launch an intense scalar EM effort to develop a quick and effective cure for AIDS. It has to be done by unorthodox scientists, for a few of them are the only ones who have any knowledge at all of scalar electromagnetics.

- (d) As far as I know, only about 12 persons or so in the West are qualified for the primary work. Hordes of other scientists and researchers, however, can do much of the peripheral and experimental work. Almost all of the "dirty dozen" are unorthodox researchers — some of them little known or unknown. An initial intense program to indoctrinate additional openminded orthodox scientists on the team, of course, would be mandatory.
- (e) Substantial and quick funding is absolutely essential if this effort is to begin in time to succeed. The unorthodox researchers themselves do not have such funds, nor do they necessarily have the connections to raise them.
- (f) This is a matter of the highest national and world priority. AIDS was deliberately launched against us by the Soviet Union — at least in my firm opinion — as a fiendishly clever biological warfare strike which is guaranteed to do the job it has been specifically tailored to do.

Unless we counter the strike — AIDS — everything is lost. Our army, navy, air force — indeed, all the armed forces of the West — are powerless, meaningless, and futile against this threat. Nothing the Western defense departments are presently spending, funding, developing, or considering is of any meaning whatsoever, unless we meet this pre-eminent threat and overcome it.

May God help us all. Unless we move on this, and exert ourselves to the absolute limit, the Free World and half of mankind are doomed.

Kirlian Photography... Thought and Spirit Photo Potential

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS, the imagery of Kirlian photography has challenged the imagination and intellect of experimenters. Part of the intrigue has been created by the constantly changing images of Kirlian photography which reflect the continual changes in the subject's energy. This has delayed the understanding of the images and the development of analytical systems. Finally, Kirlian photography is beginning to take its place as a useful tool for capturing a visual record of physical changes as well as occasionally capturing images related to thought or spirit.

In essence, Kirlian photography is the image created on photographic film when an object or part of the body, such as a finger, is placed on or next to photographic film or paper on an electrical device which creates a high voltage field of pulsed electrical current. The flow of the electrical current reacts to the electromagnetic field of the object and makes an image on the film. The devices range from a simple apparatus using an automobile coil, Tesla coil or similar transformer as its basis, to various high frequency devices.

The discovery of Kirlian photography is credited to the extensive efforts of a Russian couple, Semjon and Valentina Kirlian, who discovered and began the development of the photography as applied to living systems — hence the name "Kirlian" photography. The results of their efforts were recorded by Lynn Schroeder and Shelia Ostrander in the book Psychic Discoveries Behind The Iron Curtain, first published in 1970.⁹

The Body Electric, by Thelma Moss, Ph.D.⁸ (published in 1979), is one of the best basic sources for information on Kirlian photography. She noted that the Kirlian image appeared to be influenced by emotion.

Several excellent books include beautiful color Kirlian photos. The red, white and blue image on the cover of The Body Electric shows the colors that normally appear in color Kirlian photos. A photo by Dr. Moss of the hand of Olga Worrall emanating a golden light is printed on the cover of the book Mystic with the Healing Hands.² Mrs. Worrall, a healer from Baltimore, Maryland, was sending healing energy when the picture was taken.

A fascinating color photo of a "phantom leaf" is presented on the cover of The Kirlian Aura, by Dr. Stanley Krippner and Daniel Rubin.⁶ This leaf has a large body with three tips, two smaller ones on the outside and a large tip in the center. The energy body of the leaf is golden. The end of the center tip has been removed and a white electrical pattern is present which outlines the pattern of the missing tip.

On the back of the paperback version of The Kirlian Aura and in the introduction to the book Galaxies of Life,⁵ Drs. Krippner and Rubin present two beautiful pictures of the Kirlian aura of a healer's finger. In the first photo, the healer is at rest and the Kirlian aura is light blue, the color of a clean natural gas flame. The second picture was taken while the healer was sending energy. The light blue color now has long streamers extending out from the finger. There is also a burst of golden light coming from underneath the finger, with streamers flowing from it.

The book which probably contains the greatest number of beautifully executed Kirlian photos is Rainbows of Life: The Promise of Kirlian Photography, by Mikol Davis and Earle Lane.³ Some excellent examples are in a series of photos dealing with interpersonal relationships. This series illustrates the Lewin Field Diagram which shows our need for individual life space, the permeable boundaries of that space, and how these boundaries are affected by people who are experiencing different feelings and emotions.

The first photo of the series (Plate 15 in the book) is of the fingertips of a couple thinking unpleasant thoughts. The photo shows the Kirlian image of two fingertips separated by approximately one inch. The images are a golden, reddish color with some short, fuzzy, white emanations. There is no image of a flow of energy between the fingertips.

In the second picture, the couple described themselves as feeling extremely defensive toward one another. It shows short white or blue to violet emanations around the edges of the fingers. Between the fingers there appears a line which is white in the center to blue-violet at the ends. I believe that this is an actual photo of what happens when people place emotional barriers or blocks between themselves.

In the next photo, the couple is described as thinking positive loving thoughts. The image again is a golden, reddish color but this time there is a slight reddish hue of energy flowing between the fingers.

When the last picture was taken, the same couple was kissing and there is such a deep red energy flowing between the fingers that it is almost impossible to tell where the edges of each finger end.

Dr. Thelma Moss noted similar reactions and included the following paragraph in The Body Electric:

Right from the start, we saw that certain couples shifted remarkably in their corona patterns as they went from love to hate to anger to sex, but other couples showed little or no change. Only gradually did we realize why. Our best results came consistently from actors or group therapists or therapy patients — in other words, for the Kirlian effect to reflect emotions, the emotions had to be felt rather than thought or pretended.

Kirlian photography has fascinated experimenters is its ability to occasionally go beyond normal limits and capture changes which appear to be the direct result of thought or other usually unseen influences. To those who have become interested in Kirlian photography, this aspect of the photography provides a never-ending area for exploration. This is the area where I have focused my attention.

My initial contact with Kirlian photography came when I volunteered to help with a Kirlian demonstration presented by Cecile Ruchin from HCCA Research, New York. This event took place in 1980 at the National Spiritual Science Center's (NSSC) Psychic Fair in Washington, D.C. After the demonstration, Reverend Henry Nagorka, Director of NSSC, agreed to purchase a Verigraph II Kirlian Apparatus and loan it to me for experimentation — if I would agree to evaluate and write up the results of my work so that others could benefit from the information and learn to use the equipment. To do this I had to teach myself how to use the Kirlian apparatus and how to develop the photographs.

In those simple choices and deeds we undertook the challenge of a lifetime. The direct result of that decision was the publication of my book Kirlian Photography for the Layman in 1982, and its expansion and revision in the Spring of 1989.¹⁰ The promise of Kirlian photography has been unfolding in interesting and unexpected ways. One of these is as a diagnostic tool for acupuncture therapy.

In 1980, Reverend Henry Nagorka believed that we could pattern the breaks in the Kirlian images and associate them to related body areas and any illness that the subject of the photo was experiencing. From that information, he expected to develop a system of analysis of disease or physical disorders. Recently I became aware of a system which confirms Reverend Nagorka's idea.

A German scientist, Peter Mandel, who is also an acupuncturist, took a Kirlian photo during an episode of stomach pain and diarrhea. Mandel noted that the energy channels on the photograph for the large and small intestinal meridians showed a total loss of emission in contrast to the other finger tips, which were characterized by very long and brilliant luminescence. From an analysis of this information, he successfully treated himself with acupuncture. He then focused on the use of Kirlian photography in relationship to classical acupuncture beginning and end points and Dr. Voll's "terminal points bio-electronic functional" analysis. Mandel developed a "topography" which relates acupuncture points to the Kirlian image around the tips of the fingers and the toes and takes into consideration the operation of the yin and the yang energy as displayed in the energy levels of the hands and the feet.

Peter Mandel realized that these energy patterns were in a state of constant flux but that if a person focused on their normal state while a series of Kirlian pictures were taken, there would be an underlying energy pattern produced in the pictures, which could be used to do an analysis for acupuncture treatment. The normal state in a healthy person would produce a well-rounded Kirlian aura without any breaks in it. The picture which he uses to demonstrate a normal state shows an image with an aura around the finger about $\frac{3}{16}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ of an inch wide.

This picture reminds me of photos that I have taken of a healer's finger at rest. In those pictures, I have obtained a blue, well rounded aura without any breaks in it. These auras look like the flame of a clean natural gas burner. This is the type of image that the healthy aura produces in Kirlian photography.

Following through on his discoveries, Peter Mandel and his associates took over 800,000 Kirlian photos. Mandel analyzed these pictures and published his findings in the book, Energy Emission Analysis.⁷

The basic idea is that the classical acupuncture points have terminals for the electrical meridians along the tips of the fingers and toes: each finger or toe tip corresponds to a particular part of the body and its meridian. For example, the index finger relates to the large intestine and nervous degeneration. The aura of each finger is then detailed further into related areas for a more accurate analysis. This book also discusses a seven-layer analysis which is beyond my level of comprehension. One would probably have to study acupuncture and medicine before fully comprehending this system.

Persons who are interested in obtaining more information on this subject can obtain a copy of Peter Mandel's book for the details. Copies may be ordered here in the United States from Life Rhythms, P. O. Box 806, Mendocino, CA 95460, (707) 937-1825.

ON NEW YEAR'S WEEKEND in 1981, I had an out-of-town guest who was interested in Kirlian photography and agreed to experiment with it. Little did we know what we would find. She had repeated dreams of moving objects with her mental energy and wanted to experiment with Kirlian photography while visualizing her dreams, and also upon entering a meditative state. In Photo #1 she is sending energy. In Photo #2, taken within two minutes, she is calmly thinking a very pleasant thought. She was able to shift from a substantial image to one that practically disappeared from the picture.

When I saw the tremendous changes that she could make in the Kirlian imagery simply by changing her state of mind, I informed Reverend Nagorka that I felt we had taken the wrong approach to our experimentation because the energy appeared to be directly affected by thought, and therefore, would not produce the static, repeatable images needed for scientific or medical analysis. At that time, I dismissed the idea of Kirlian photography being used as a diagnostic tool until we gained a more thorough understanding of thought processes and the constantly changing energy patterns.

As a result of the information gained by working with my friend, I changed the major premise used in the workshops I conducted for the National Spiritual Science Center's classes. Instead of having the students describe their illnesses and then taking a Kirlian photo to see if we could correlate the breaks in the image to the physical body, I asked each person to think an exciting thought and then to go into a meditative state. This technique yielded some very interesting results.

Photo #3 was produced when a young lady in the class created what appeared to be a thoughtform of a cat. The bottom image in this picture was made first. I asked her to think of the most exciting thing she could think of. She chose her boyfriend, whom she thinks of as a cat. When the exposure was made this extra image appeared. The image at the top of the picture was made one minute later and the thought was changed to relaxation. The extra image, which is now a circle, appears under the finger at the left.

Because the students at the National Spiritual Science Center were studying the book Thoughtforms, by Bessant and Leadbeater,¹ they were aware of the possibility of creating such forms. The student who created this photo had the ability to leave, or go out of, her body at will. Therefore, she apparently had the ability to control the electromagnetic field around her body.

In another experiment, a young woman thought of her husband whom she loves very much and whom she thinks of as a teddybear. In that instance, we captured the image in Photo #4.

The original of this photo is in color. The top of the image is a bright turquoise blue with points of white light corresponding to the various parts of the body of the teddybear (i.e., the head, the chest, the arms and the lower part of the body). The Kirlian aura on the side next to the image is a beautiful rose color symbolizing the love she felt for him. The rest of the image is a bright blue, which is the color of religious or spiritual feelings.

In an experiment with an American Indian Shaman we photographed his fingertip and got a substantial aura. He then went into spirit, to visit his uncle who had passed over, and we could not obtain a Kirlian image of him while he was in this altered state. Similar results have occurred with other persons visualizing themselves in another place, when they feel a strong emotional pull to the place or a desire to be there.

Dramatic changes in the Kirlian aura occur in almost every workshop. The concept which I believe demonstrates itself in my workshops is that we are not our physical bodies. As noted in the Scriptures, the physical body is merely the temple in which we dwell. We are an electrical or light being, or spirit, which is capable of coming and going from our physical bodies at will. We are basically formless, and can go anywhere instantly and assume any form.

We have limited our perception to a particular type of existence so that we can manifest our egos — which makes the existence real for us. The Course in Miracles says it best in its lessons dealing with "I have given this all of the meaning it has for me."⁴

A friend who has studied eastern religions has informed me that there is a similar concept of a light body included in some of the ancient Sanskrit texts and that it is called the "Noori Sarup".

I believe Kirlian photography demonstrates this concept. When a person has the ability to project to another place or has the ability to go out of body at will, I have found that the image generally will either disappear from the Kirlian photo or be greatly diminished. It is my concept that the light or electrical body which interacts with the electromagnetic field has been directed elsewhere by thought. The image will then reappear when the person's intention and focus (thought) returns to the body's physical surroundings.

The relevant scriptural quote which I remember from my fundamental religious background is "As you think so you are. Where your heart is, you shall be also".

ANOTHER PHENOMENON concerning Kirlian images which deserves exploration is the interpretation of the Kirlian field as it relates to the layers of the human aura. The layer from the surface of the skin to 1/8- to 1/4-inch out from the body is called the "etheric" aura. The next layer of the aura is called the "astral". The thought forms of the cat and the teddybear which were previously discussed would appear in the astral layer. Yogi philosophy states that the thoughtforms appear in the astral.

This brings us to the problem the lack of repeatability: i.e., the inability to consistently capture thoughtforms. Each one seems to be almost a one-time experience which we are not able to repeat. In one of my workshops, I was discussing the problem of repeatability when a Baltimore psychic, Carole Pressnall (who does Edgar Cayce-type trance state readings of the Akashic records), volunteered to do a reading on Kirlian photography.

An interesting description of Kirlian photography and the process involved in it came through in the reading which described a Kirlian photograph as a "chemical electromagnetic print." The text of the information brought through is as follows:

Seeker: In terms of the aura captured in the Kirlian photographs, is the picture etheric, astral, or other?

Reader: Searching; actually none of the above. The electromagnetic... searching... we would use the term 'lines of energy' — that appear as dark on paper, is electromagnetic and is transferred through the plate; and it is neither etheric nor any of those mentioned. It is strictly a by-product of the body being a generator. The body being a slower transfer of energy, less concentrated, more scattered, thus the lines seeking out and away from the fingers and body seeking its own level depending upon the state, the physical state, and the state of the chemical electromagnetic state of the body.

Behind the electromagnetic image which is showing up is a chemical generator which is controlled by the gland system. Pineal, pituitary, being the two major that would serve as a master computer to keep the delicate balance of all glands in balance. All glands work within the energy system to keep the temperature, the blood, the organs, functioning, but the two master glands — the pineal, the pituitary, are at the top of the ladder so to speak — control the delicate balance, and this can be affected, by the way, by meditation.

If one would picture these two as being a master computer of the chemical machine and the resulting what is now termed 'aura' emanating from the fingers, body, etc., is the direct result of energy produced within the storehouse of the body which is in turn produced within the chemical system of the body.

So this is actually a chemical magnetic print, which shows up also as heat. And if the entities would do experiments with temperatures in the room that lower and raise the galvanic skin responses they would see that the direct output of the body's heat to maintain the entire machine of the body at a comfortable rate also has to do with the emanations which are being termed "aura."

In reality this is not really an aura print — this is an electromagnetic print. End of question.

An addendum to this statement is that the true aura which (the word is being thrown around loosely) is a combination of the superconscious, the conscious and the subconscious, and the physical, mental, mind, spiritual body — all of these things rolled into one as an energy force field around the entity which the entity is used to, does not, is not aware of, and cannot tap. But within this field is all these things that have been mentioned. It is more of a protective envelope that is a sensing device that helps the psychic; it helps the survival; it helps as was mentioned in cave life time, it helped the cavemen to tune into the earth vibrations.

One needs only to step into or near an aura of another entity which is on the down side, the negative side, to know that this person's aura houses many negative experiences, past lives, and as negative or positive can attract or repel.

If one would see this total aura as a collection, almost like the Akashic Record walking the Earth, one would understand why the colors fluctuate and change and why the chemical-electrical print fluctuates and changes according to what the memory has put up to the fore of and is floating in the aura. End of Question.

Time needed... Continue.

Seeker: In Chandra's photograph of a cat image in a Kirlian photograph was that a thoughtform or otherwise?

Reader: Searching... This is strictly based upon desire of the seeker being photographed and the entity which we would call seeker; attachment and fondness for cats this life, other lives. Therefore the electromagnetic print was manipulated; lines, so to speak (as we would call it), emanating out were manipulated by the psychic by desire. End of Question.

Kirlian Photography for the Layman, Pgs. 45 and 46

Kirlian photography has been referred to in some literature as having the ability to photograph spirit guides. Usually what is being referred to are the balls of light which emanate from the acupuncture points on the fingers. Some experimenters use these photos to do psychic readings.

One evening, when I had finished the experiments I was doing, I decided to meditate and call in a spirit friend whom I felt I had. (Photo # 5)

There was a feeling of a presence in the room and the image between the index and the middle finger appeared to me to be created by an outside force which was able to manipulate my energy.

In another experiment, conducted at a workshop at The Crystal Path in Glyndon, Maryland, a gentlemen requested his spirit guide to make an image (Photo #6). He loaned me the photo and included the following channeled information in a letter.

David, I asked my spirit guide to explain to me the significance of these pictures. The following is a synopsis of what was said:

The significance here of the... pictures and symbols represented are two-fold: that thoughts are real is but now being documented and becoming apparent. What we think is what we are. How better to prove this than by making this tangible — by being able to "photograph" ideas and thoughts. Is this not the proof you and others have sought for so long?

Secondly, does this not give to many an understanding of how these thoughts affect them? Would this not relate to healing and creation of new modes of thought? For the skeptics — is not seeing... truly believing!

THE LAST AND most significant images which I will present were taken in the Golden Light Chapel, a Spiritualist Church in Annapolis, Maryland, in a workshop which I was conducting for Reverend Blanche Seader.

I had set up my equipment and was making a test exposure when I obtained the image in Photo #7. I first thought that I had fogged the paper: that is, exposed it to light. But when I deliberately fogged the paper I did not get the mottling effect included in the picture. Concerned, I showed the picture to Reverend Seader who simply commented that the picture was of the spirits who had come to my lecture.

At first I was concerned that the images were dark, until in meditation I recalled that by making the exposure directly on paper you create what is in effect a negative, and that if I would re-photograph the picture and project the negative the true picture would appear.

Doing this showed the mottling effects in the picture were in fact images made by light, as shown Photo # 8, which corresponds to the exposure in the darkroom where the only light is the electricity flowing around the fingers.¹¹

IN CLOSING, I would suggest that one of the causes for a great deal of misunderstanding about Kirlian photography is that its interpretation is not a static or an isolated act because the energy patterns are constantly changing. Therefore, the interpretation becomes more of an art than a science. By wanting to take one photo and make a complete analysis from that photo, we are failing to understand the full interpretation and use of Kirlian photography. We must consider the photos in terms of holism or totality as well as the polarity of the Kirlian photograph and its reflection of our whole physical, psychological, and spiritual system. In many instances, the phenomena are not repeatable. I believe this is because we are dealing with an entire complex of thought and physical processes.

Because of the lack of repeatability of images I have previously felt that Kirlian photography was not fulfilling its promise as a useful tool. However, whenever I reached that point, someone contacted me or dropped me a line to say how much their Kirlian photograph has meant to them and how, in many cases, it has been a life-changing experience. In many instances, these same people set up Kirlian photography workshops for me.

In many instances, the images in the Kirlian photographs appear to provide evidence that allows people to realize that by their thoughts and emotions they do in fact affect or create their reality. They then may come to realize that by taking responsibility for those thoughts and emotions, they can change the electromagnetic energy of their personal energy field and the way the energy flows, and thus become self-actualizing healers. Energy follows emotion, desire, expectation, and intent.

Usupbekova, B.S., R. A. Mansurova, and Peter P. Gariaev. "Possible Quantum Entanglement in Medical Influence". DNA Decipher Journal, Vol. 4, No. 1 (2014)

Abstract:

In this paper we reports our results on the effect of the audio version of the modulated wide-spectrum electromagnetic radiation (mShEI) containing information of medicinal plants and minerals. We observed positive effect on recovery and body functions in a group of patients. According to the results of pulse diagnosis (PD) and electroacupuncture diagnostics (EPD), there is increased functional activity of all acupuncture channels.

(USPA Journal Editor's Note: The DNA Decipher Journal is an excellent journal edited by Huping Hu, Ph.D., J.D. and Maoxin Wu, M.D., Ph.D., of QuantumDream, Inc., New York, with many articles that are of great importance on the above and related subject matter. Their home page is:

Miller, Iona, Richard A. Miller, and Burt Webb. "Quantum Bioholography". DNA Decipher Journal, Vol. 1, No. 2 (2011)

Abstract:

Complex information can be encoded in EM fields, as we all know from coding and decoding of television and radio signals. Even more complex information can be encoded in holographic images. DNA acts as a holographic projector of acoustic and EM information which contains the informational quintessence of the biohologram. Only 3% of human DNA encodes the physical body. The remaining 97% of the 3 billion base pair genome contains over a million genetic structures called transposons, that have the capacity to jump from one chromosomal location to another (Kelleher, 1999). We are 99.9% alike in our genetic legacy. Our individuality is expressed in three million small variations in our cells, called single nucleotide polymorphisms.

Gene-expression is the mechanism by which new patterns are called into being (Rossi, 2000). There is also a strong correlation between modulation of the brain's EM field and consciousness (Persinger, 1987; McFadden, 2002). The Gariaev group has discovered a wave-based genome and DNA phantom effect which strongly supports the holographic concept of reality (Miller, Webb, Dickson, 1975). This main information channel of DNA is the same for both photons and radio waves. Superposed coherent waves of different types in the cells interact to form diffraction patterns, firstly in the acoustic domain, secondly in the electromagnetic domain -- a quantum hologram -- a translation process between acoustical and optical holograms.

Creative, novel and enriching psychotherapeutic experiences can lead to neurogenesis, gene expression, and healing which facilitate mindbody communication and can have a long-term transformative effect on the whole person (Rossi, 2002). Thus, bioholography has relevant applications for optimizing health, well-being and even self-realization. It is relevant in biophysics, medicine, psychobiology, psychotherapy and the holistic healing arts. It provides us with a more genetically integrated model of the complex dynamics of the mindbody -- one arising in the domain underlying the standard genetic code triplet model.

This is an excellent handbook of research into the subject of biological or “biodynamic” communication. The book opens with an entire history of “Biocommunications” from the early experiments of Reichenbach, to the later researches of the Radionic pioneers. The subject of plant sensitivity and radionics is dealt with, along with the construction of bio-sensing equipment for the experimenter. The highlight of this research work is the complete inclusion of Dr. L. George Lawrence’s previously unpublished patent entitled, “Methods and Receiver for Biological Data Transport”.

USPA Psychotronics Periodicals Library

In order to do good psychotronics research of any kind, whether it involves radionics, radiesthesia, psionic medicine, dowsing, subtle energies, biophotons, or any other subject covered by psychotronics, one needs access to as much of the periodical literature as possible on these subjects.

To address this issue, the United States Psychotronics Association has resolved to identify, acquire, and digitize copies of every psychotronics related periodical that has ever been published anywhere in the world, and to retain copies in the USPA Library.

As a first step, we have developed an online list of psychotronics related periodicals \(click here\) that focus on or frequently have articles on the psychotronics subjects noted above. This is a growing list, since we know there are probably other psychotronics periodicals that have been published, but that we do not yet know about.

Please look over the online list and check your own personal physical libraries and your computer files, thumb discs, and other external hard drives to see if you have any issues of the periodicals on this list. Even if you just have one issue, please let us know, because that may be the one we need to complete all the issues of a particular periodical. Please write to me (John Reed) at: joreed43@gmail.com, since I am the USPA librarian and archivist coordinating this effort,and tell me what periodicals you have.

As a whole, the members of USPA and other interested non-members, have a huge “library” of periodicals, but it just happens to be “distributed” among these people at this point in time. However, we can work together, and if you would be willing to loan, donate, xerox, or as a last resort, sell copies of your periodicals to the USPA Library, then we will be able to build a large centralized library of all psychotronics periodicals. And all USPA members will then be able to use these periodicals in their research or for their reading enjoyment.

USPA Local Groups and Affiliates Update

As mentioned in the May, 2016, USPA Newsletter, one of our goals is to reactivate all of the former 24 USPA Chapters that once existed across the US and Mexico. In addition, we plan to establish new local groups of people interested in psychotronics and related subjects in other major cities in the US and other countries as well. All such local groups and affiliates will be independent, but will work together with the USPA in a mutually beneficial relationship to achieve our goals of advancing research and applications in psychotronics, radionics, subtle energy, and related fields.

So I would like to invite all of former USPA Chapters leaders and members to contact me (John Reed) at: joreed43@gmail.com and let me know if you would like to help reactivate your local chapter. In addition, if you are a leader or member of a psychotronics or related organization which was never a chapter of USPA, and we would welcome you as a USPA affiliated organization as well.

We will be establishing a USPA affiliated groups as traditional organizations and also via the Meetup.com online group platform. This will enable current and former members to more easily have local get-togethers, meetings, and other activities, and those activities, times, and other details can be posted online. So please let me know if you would like to be the leader of a group in your area.

If you do decide to use Meetup.com to establish your local group, you could do it quickly and easily by going to www.meetup.com , and clicking on the big red word “Start” in the upper left, and then just following the step-by-step procedures.

You can give your local group any name you want, but it should probably have a name that relates to psychotronics in some way. And if you need any help, please let me know, and I will help you in any way I can. Perhaps the most important thing is enthusiasm and determination, so write to me, even if you don’t know any other USPA members in your area, and I will help you set up a local group: joreed43@gmail.com

Exchange Corner and Advertisements

The "Exchange Corner", is a place where people can advertise to buy, exchange, or sell items of interest, or request information or other help in relation to something wanted. So if there is anything you want to buy, sell or trade that has to do with psychotronics, radionics, subtle energy, or related subjects, please contacted the Classified Ads manager at: joreed43@gmail.com. Advertisements are free of charge to USPA member within certain limits, but non-members will be charged for any classified or display ads. So please send your ads and wanted requests to: joreed43@gmail.com.

Wanted: Any articles, periodicals, books, devices, or other materials on psychotronic related subjects that you can donate or lend to the USPA for its library, archives, and museum. The USPA is a nonprofit, 501(c)(3), tax exempt organization, and as such, you are able to make tax deductible donations to the USPA. Please email the USPA at: joreed43@gmail.com to make shipping arrangements. Thank you for your generosity.

What Research and Subjects Does Psychotronics Cover?

The United States Psychotronics Association defines psychotronics as the science of mind-body-environment relationships, an interdisciplinary science concerned with the interactions of matter, energy, and consciousness. Psychotronics involves the study, research, and applications of the physics and technology of the mind, brain, spirit, consciousness, and the underlying forces of life and nature – hence the term “psychotronics”.

We believe that a true understanding of the universe must include the spiritual, as well as, the technical, and provide an opportunity for amateur researchers to present their findings along with the professionals. We stress research, with documentation of results, and practical applications, rather than personal experience and unsupported hypotheses.

Some Prominent People in the history of psychotronics research and application: Albert Abrams, Thomas Bearden, Robert C. Beck, Robert O. Becker, Jacques Benveniste, David Bohm, Harold Saxon Burr, George W. Crile, Ruth Drown, T. Galen Hieronymus, Vlail P. Kaznacheyev, Georges Lakhovsky, Wilhelm Reich, Royal R. Rife, Rupert Sheldrake, Nikola Tesla, Marcel Vogel, and others.

Some of the forces, fields, waves, and energies studied and researched in psychotronics include: bioelectromagnetism, biophotons, biopotentials, electromagnetic wave pollution and harmful effects; coherent emanations of DNA, emanations of matter, “free energy”, morphogenetic fields, non-hertzian waves, orgone energy, pyramid energy and power, qi (chi), quantum fields, scalar waves, subtle energies, ultra-weak radiation of living matter, zero-point energy, and others.

Some of the phenomena believed to be produced or involved with the above fields and energies: action-at-a-distance, the aura of the body and other living things, bioinformation, bioluminescence, chakras, consciousness, distant intercellular interactions, meridians of the body, mind-body interactions, non-locality, the placebo effect, quantum consciousness, spontaneous remission of cancer and other diseases, water memory, water structure, and others.

Related fields of study and research covering the above forces, energies, and phenomena of psychotronics: bioelectromagnetics, bioenergetics, biophotonics, biophysics, psionics, psychoenergetics, psychoneuroimmunology, quantum biology, radionics, scalar electromagnetics, and others.

Some practices, techniques, and applications related to psychotronics include: acupuncture, biogeometry, brain entrainment, clairvoyance, dowsing, energy healing and medicine, extrasensory perception, feng shui, homeopathy, kirlian photography, magnetic therapy, pendulum use and methods, prayer effects, psionic medicine, psychic healing, psychometry, qigong, radiesthesia, radionics, remote viewing, shamanism, sound and sonic healing, telekinesis, telepathy, and others.

There are talks by some of the most well known scientists of our age, including Andrija Puharich, Thomas Bearden, Marcel Vogel, Lynn Surgalla, Robert Beck, T. Galen Hieronymus, J.G. Gallimore, Elizabeth Rauscher, Christopher Bird, and many, many more.

There are also lectures specifically about radionics from some of the top practitioners: Robert Beutlich, Lutie Larsen, Jerry Fridenstine, Frances Farrelly, and others.

If you have an interest in the paranormal, the life of plants or zero-point energy, there are speakers here who are experts in the fields. How about dark-field microscopy, scalars, magnetic fields, or the Philadelphia Experiment? Yes, they are in here in this catalog too. Homeopathy, color-healing, use of crystals, structuring water, water memory, and Tesla's work are some of the other topics covered in this catalog.

As of this date, (April 15, 2017) they are available only by direct contact with USPA, but soon, they will be available online. The USPA home page is at <http://www.psychotronics.org> and we will have a linked site where purchase will lead to immediate download of the MP3, and payment can be made through Pay Pal.

Please note that in the Catalog \(click here\), most of the lectures are standard MP3s, are 30-45 minutes long, and priced at a very reasonable $5.00 each. These have no marking in the right-hand column of the catalog listing. Other MP3s are one hour or slightly longer, and are marked "Prime" in the right-hand column, with a price of $8.00 each. J.G. Gallimore's Five Rare Books Now Available for Sale

All five of J.G. Gallimore's rare books on psychotronics subjects and unusual energies have been reprinted by the United States Psychotronics Association (USPA) and are being made available at a fraction of the cost that used copies were being sold at online. So rare have these books been, that only a few libraries in the entire world had them in their collections, and some of Gallimore's books were being sold for several hundred dollars each online. However, with these newly reprinted volumes, each will be available for less than $30.00. Each of Gallimore's books is described below with links to Amazon.com.

Jerry G. Gallimore was one of the founders of the USPA in 1975, and was a leading researcher in psychotronics and unusual energies until his untimely death in 1989.

This is J.G. Gallimore's first book of three volumes on unusual energies, and at 468 pages, it is a magnificent work. In this book, Gallimore discusses in depth the research, discoveries, and inventions of all the major researchers in subtle energies, the aether, biological fields, pyramid energy, radiesthesia, radionics, crystal transduction, and related subjects. These include the works of Baron Von Reichenbach's and his odic energy, Dr. Wilhelm Reich's orgone energy, Dr. Harold Burr's biological life fields, Kozyrev's time mirror, Edgar Cayce's transmission of energy, and related research done by many others. Of particular importance is Gallimore's 127 page chapter on radionics. In this chapter he discusses in depth the research and devices of Ruth Drown, T. Galen Hieronymus, Rho Sigma, Dr. L. P. Corte and other prominent people in the radionics field. But in addition, Gallimore provided diagrams showing how such devices are made and how they actually work.

This is the second book in the “Unusual Energies” series that J.G

Callimore published. It covers Gallimore's research on Albert Abrams, the founder of modern radionics, psychological physics, psychic energy, thought resonance, subtle energies, crystals, and related subjects. In addition, a number of radionics devices are discussed, such as the De La Warr Diagnostic Instrument. And very helpfully, the rates are provided for substances, body organs, and medical diseases and disorders. A very interesting interview of Christopher Bird, conducted by J.G. Gallimore is provided, as well as a discussion of Walter Russell and his research.

Relationship Between Parapsychology and Gravity: Volume 3 of Handbook of Unusual Energies

Available at Amazon.com

The Relationship Between Parapsychology and Gravity is Volume 3 of J.G. Gallimore's series of three handbooks of unusual energies. This book describes in depth the research and theories of J.G. Gallimore into the question of "parapsychology transmission" --the question of how such things as telepathy, remote viewing, ESP, and similar phenomena can physically occur. Gallimore discusses various explanation on how they occur, including the possibility that gravity waves may play a role. He also discusses the various emanations, radiations, and energy fields of all matter and life. This includes the ancient Chinese energy called "chi" (qi), the ancient Indian's prana energy, Reichenback's "odhic force", Gurwitsch's "mitogenic radiation", Wilhelm Reich's orgone energy, and other subtle energies of life and matter. Gallimore shows how all of these energies are the same or similar, how they interact, and how they are related to gravity. He also discusses crystals as transducers of these energies, and provides diagrams of devices that could potentially be used to harness or control these energies.

Transverse Paraphysics: The New Science of Space, Time, and Gravity Control

Available at Amazon.com

This book covers the visionary research and theories developed by J.G. Gallimore about anti-gravity, space, time, and biophysics. He discusses in depth the dimensions of space, time, and gravity, and new discoveries in each of these areas. In addition, he covers research being done on anti-gravity and then discusses anti-gravity patents that have been obtained. He also discusses the intriguing concept of aura energy fields surrounding humans and other living things, and how extra-sensory perception (ESP) might be explained through biophysical principles.

Unified Field Theory Research Book: Using Subjective Response to Psi-Plasma for Analysis of Properties Neutral Charge Plasma Fields

by J.G. Gallimore

Paperback: 134 pages

Publisher: CreateSpace Independent

ISBN-13: 978-1543024838

Product Dimensions: 8.5 x 0.3 x 11
inches

Available from Amazon.com

This book is about psychotronics, radionics, electromagnetic fields and waves, psi-plasma, plasma fields, subtle energies, bioelectromagnetic energy, and other unusual energies emitted by living and non-living things. It also is about how living things interact with and are affected by these energies, which may enhance health or harm health. The book covers the research of Wilhem Reich on orgone energy, of Baron Reichenback on the odic forces, as well as research done by Cazzamalli on brain radiations and Lakhovsky on using high frequency radiations to successfully treat cancer in humans. In addition, Lakhovsky used similar methods to enhance the growth of plants. Gallimore shows how these energies, forces, and fields are all inter-related and provides hypotheses and ideas on their possible unification.
