Reverse Speech

David Oates discovered the phenomenon of reverse speech (RS). This is the theory that regular speech contains hidden messages that can only be heard when it is played backwards. It is believed that unconscious thoughts, memories, and experiences are embedded in our spoken language, and we can reveal these by recording speech and playing it in reverse (Oates, 1991).

David John Oates

David John Oates was born in rural Australia on October 30th 1955, the first son of a young Methodist minister. It was while running a halfway house for street kids in 1984 that he first heard about backward messages in rock and roll, and a new hobby was born – playing tapes backwards. He rapidly became obsessed with this new hobby and by 1987 he had developed his theory of Reverse Speech.

In his career of over 40 years, he has developed new theories, and designed therapeutic and training techniques. He has published several books on Reverse Speech and has lectured around the world to crowds of thousands, and trained hundreds of students.

In Australia, he has appeared on such shows as, Good Morning Australia, Today Tonight, A Current Affair, and Today. His work has also been featured in 100s of papers and well known publications such as The New York Times, Harpers Review, Omni magazine and Discover magazine.

David has been compared to Thomas Edison, Alexander Graham Bell and Nicola Tesla and his work described as being of Nobel caliber with far reaching ramifications in such fields as law enforcement, business and psychology.

He is a certified Hypnotherapist and Trainer, and currently attends to his therapy and corporate consulting business using reverse speech techniques. David is also an accomplished public speaker, maintaining an active international speaking and training schedule as well as a popular guest on many international radio and TV programs.

He currently resides in Adelaide, South Australia.

PMH Atwater “What really happens after we die? Near Death Experiences.”

This Masterclass focused on the question: What really happens when we die? Is there a light at the end of the tunnel? A surprising number of people have died and lived to tell the tale—an estimated 15 million Americans and 4 to 5 percent of the global population have had a near-death experience.

The Big Book of Near-Death Experiences is the encyclopedia of this phenomenon, including crucial research regarding the experience, its aftereffects, and the implications for all of us who someday will shed this mortal coil. This book explores the possibility of the soul, God, other worlds, heaven and hell, the afterlife, religion, and the purpose of life.

P.M.H. Atwater was born in Twin Falls, Idaho, and “died” in Boise, Idaho. Yes, the author of this book died- three times to be exact. Since those experiences, she has traveled, studied, spoken and written about what happened to her and others when they died.

Considered an authority on death, near death, and the afterlife, Atwater has written a book that gives details and deep insights into what really happens when you die and what it truly means. She also explores such mysteries as heaven and hell, the souls' existence after death, the power of prayer, and delves into the truths and myths about death that may shed new light on the real truth about life and living. Her website is <http://www.pmhatwater.com/>

From Beverly Rubik: I am speaking at two more conferences this fall.

The first, Trinity Health Freedom Expo is held in Tinley Park, Illinois, from October 15-16th. The website is <https://trinityhealthfreedomexpo.com/> They also host a Virtual Expo next February. My topic is "Wireless Communication Radiation: Health Impacts and Practical Solutions." The Site says "The Trinity Health Freedom Expo is more than a convention. We are a team that works year-round to defend your right to know and freedom to choose what's best for you and your family's well-being. We provide the platform for individuals to come together to learn from natural health experts and health freedom advocates."

The second one is the Weston A. Price Foundation's 22nd annual conference, held in Knoxville, Tennessee, October 21–23, 2022. The website is <https://www.wisetraditions.org/>. Again, I am speaking on 5G and wireless health hazards.

This annual conference features holistic health and wellness issues, as well as health freedom.

They offer these reasons to attend:

- You'll learn how to stay healthy in a toxic world
- Get clarity on which foods will truly nourish you and your family
- Explore solutions to your health concerns
- Be inspired by ancestral dietary wisdom
- Be a part of a vibrant, growing community
- Enjoy delicious, traditionally-prepared meals

Accidental EEG Sheds Light on How the Human Brain Dies, by Zoel

(Editor Note – “Speaking of Near Death Experiences!” Consider the following and then go watch PMH Atwater’s Masterclass again. Hmmm...)

Ever had a near-death experience? I have.

Like many in their twenties, my friends and I were thrill-seekers. Rock climbing, cliff jumping, zip lining and many other semi-dangerous pursuits filled our days with adrenalin-soaked experiences I couldn’t possibly reenact today. Advancing age and improved judgement precludes it now.

But our greatest passion back in the day was white water kayaking. Blessed with proximity to Class II to IV rapids, we rushed into the sport after watching a documentary on a group of expert “yakers” running the Dudh Kosi river. The waterway, originating from the high-altitude areas of Mount Everest, offers the steepest sustained angle of descent available on earth.

We didn’t start our kayaking adventures in Nepal, although we wanted to. Being fast learners, we nonetheless chose a challenging river much, much closer. One that actually served as a practice course for United States Olympic kayaking hopefuls and offering Class III to IV rapids.

After numerous successful runs down the river, navigating four-foot-high standing waves, however, disaster struck. Swamped in a cross-current in the blink of an eye, I found myself upside down, underwater and pinned on an enormous boulder. Submerged and struggling to break free, I could barely hear my own garbled screams through the sound of the rushing water. I can still remember the acrid, iron taste of the river water in my mouth.

After what seemed like an eternity, I not only saw, but relived a series of discreet, personally important scenes from my life, in chronological order, spanning from my youth to the life-threatening predicament of the moment. The last thing I remember thinking: What a waste to end up on the bottom of a river. And it was at that exact moment, for no conceivable reason, that I was torn free of my trap and returned to the surface via my life jacket. My friend — a trained firefighter and paramedic, had pulled into an eddy, frantically trying to figure out how to help. Spotting me down river, he hollered from a distance, “You were under a long time. I thought you were gone.”

Medscape Psychiatry recently reported a case study that may help explain near death experiences like mine, and potentially, other phenomena commonly observed by physicians and loved ones caring for the dying, as well as experiences described by dying patients, themselves.

For the very first time, the brain activity of a dying person has been captured and recorded when an 87-year-old man suffered fatal cardiac arrest while undergoing an electroencephalogram (EEG) procedure as a part of his treatment for epilepsy following a traumatic brain injury. The recording revealed a brain wave pattern like those seen when memories are activated.

Although the study, published here in full

<https://www.frontiersin.org/articles/10.3389/fnagi.2022.813531/full>

February 22 in the Frontiers in Aging Neuroscience reports data from a single subject, experts say that the recording confirms the likelihood that, as we die, our lives actually may flash before our eyes.

"The same neurophysiological activity patterns that occur in our brains when we dream, remember, meditate, concentrate — these same patterns also appear just before we die," study investigator Ajmal Zemmar, MD, PhD, assistant professor of neurosurgery at the University of Louisville, Louisville, Kentucky, told Medscape Medical News.

The minute long EEG recording, captured at the exact point when blood flow to the brain stopped, revealed a noticeable increase in gamma oscillations, brain waves produced by higher cognitive functions, such as conscious perception and memory flashbacks.

Researchers also noted changes in alpha, theta, delta, and beta wave activity just prior to and after the cardiac arrest, and that changes in one type of wave seemed to have induced changes in other waves. That coordinated rhythm suggests that the recording reveals more than simply neurons firing as they die.

Although the data was obtained in 2016, the researchers purposely delayed publishing it, hoping to locate similar recordings in other individuals in order to corroborate the findings. That their 5-year search yielded no results illustrates just how difficult a study like this is to conduct, Zemmar noted.

"We're trying to figure out how to do this in a predictable way but obtaining datasets like this is going to be challenging," he said.

Although Zemmar didn't locate any other recordings of activity in the dying brains of other human patients, he did find a similar study conducted in 2013 that used laboratory rats hooked up to EEGs and subjected to experimentally-induced cardiac arrest.

Laboratory rat wearing an EEG device.

As observed in the current research, investigators in the rat study reported a surge of brain activity in rats just before and immediately after the cardiac event. And, as in the current case study, similar changes in both the high- and low-frequency brain waves were also documented.

Commenting on the new study for Medscape Medical News, George Mashour, MD, PhD, professor and chair of anesthesiology and professor of neurosurgery and pharmacology at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, said "There was a surge of higher-frequency activity and there was coherence across different parts of the brain." He added, "That suggests that what we found in the rigorous controlled setting of a laboratory actually translates to humans who are undergoing the clinical process of dying."

What remains unclear is whether this brain activity explains the near-death experiences described in the literature, which include "life recall" of memories, Mashour said.

"This higher frequency surge that's happening around the time of death, is that correlated with experiencing something like this near-death experience? Or is it just a neural feature that can just as easily happen in an unconscious brain?" he asked.

With amazing scientists and cutting-edge technological advances, we may soon have those answers.

After 20 years of believing it was done, researchers announce complete sequence of the human genome. By Rebekah Sager

Monday April 04, 2022 · 11:19 AM EDT

A group of researchers announced on Mar. 31 that they've finally sequenced a complete human genome—essentially finishing a how-to manual on human life—work that was believed to have been concluded in 2003.

According to the journal Science, (Full article here:

<https://www.science.org/doi/10.1126/science.abj6987>)

two decades ago, scientists with the Human Genome Project believed their work was concluded, but what they discovered was that 8% of the genome sequencing was, in fact, “unfinished.”

"Some of the genes that make us uniquely human were actually in this 'dark matter of the genome' and they were totally missed," Evan Eichler, a University of Washington researcher said, according to CBS News. "It took 20-plus years, but we finally got it done."

As The Washington Post explains, the remaining 8% was a mystery unsolved mostly because the technology at the time simply wasn't up to the task. “Ever since we had the first draft human genome sequence, determining the exact sequence of complex genomic regions has been challenging,” Eichler, co-chair of the Telomere-to-Telomere (T2T) consortium of scientists who conducted the most recent research, said in a news release. “The complete blueprint is going to revolutionize the way we think about human genomic variation, disease, and evolution.”

Eichler told the Associated Press that scientists used to believe that human DNA contained a certain amount of “junk,” but he says he never shared that belief. “Some of us always believed there was gold in those hills,” he told AP.

Mapping the full human genome was never a small job. To put the project's scope into perspective, AP explains the vastness of the undertaking like this:

“The human genome is made up of about 3.1 billion DNA subunits, pairs of chemical bases known by the letters A, C, G, and T. Genes are strings of these lettered pairs that contain instructions for making proteins, the building blocks of life. Humans have about 30,000 genes, organized in 23 groups called chromosomes that are found in the nucleus of every cell.”

Karen Miga, a University of California at Santa Cruz geneticist, told the Post that this latest discovery will help to explain how genes work for all species—not just humans. “There are these incredibly large and persisting gaps that have been in our genome for decades and they represent really important parts of our genome. If we didn't have these regions, we wouldn't have life as we know it,” Miga said.

This completed chart will ultimately give researchers a better insight into how humans age, how to better understand and treat illnesses such as heart disease and cancer, and revolutionize “fields of science, including microbiology, virology, infectious disease, and plant biology,” according to the journal Biomedical Central.

"In the future, when someone has their genome sequenced, we will be able to identify all of the variants in their DNA and use that information to better guide their health care,” T2T consortium co-chair Adam Phillippy said in a statement from National Human Genome Research Institute. “Truly finishing the human genome sequence was like putting on a new pair of glasses. Now that we can clearly see everything, we are one step closer to understanding what it all means.”

Seeking Millionaire Sponsor

USPA is beginning a search for a lifetime patron of the organization, one who will help establish a small permanent library site. USPA has thousands of books in storage, currently under the care of John Reed.

He has scanned many of them to PDF to guard against the loss of their information, but in the interest of guarding the digital information against loss, a permanent safe place is needed for the physical books and materials.

This would require the gift of a small building, and the funding of a stipend for a part time secretary as well as utilities and upkeep of the building. It is a big dream, but somewhere there must be someone who can help! Contact Scott at uspsychotronics@yahoo.com

1:26:16	Eileen B:	QUESTION: I wonder if NDE's experience the Cassandra Complex phenomenon which is a person whose valid warnings or concerns are disbelieved by others.
1:32:00	Douglas M:	I have experienced that people are very influenced by what I say. I learned that I must be very careful to triple check my facts before I disseminate info, both 1 on 1, and to groups. I have some sort of super magnetism that affects both people and even animals... It makes me try to be super careful to honor that trust...
1:32:08	Eileen B:	QUESTION: For NDErs Where can I find info that explains this phenomenon, SCIENTIFICALLY ... to mainstream doctors.
1:33:59	Eileen B:	HAPPY BIRTHDAY!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
1:34:13	Douglas M:	yay for the 85yo youngster :-)

1:47:33	Sky David:	With a life time of working in health care I have observed spontaneous remission on rare occasions, a man with ALS completely had neural regeneration in one week after coming out of a deep coma!
1:48:30	Douglas M:	my iq was 167 and standardized school test showed 99 percentile to college level while I was in elementary school... your info is possibly helping me understand how this boost occurred...
1:48:55	Douglas M:	thank you
1:49:05	Eileen B:	QUESTION: Nervous. Have you ever heard of a person who has a dear friend who just died ... and leaves a very static message on a telephone? Seriously. Happened many years ago.
1:55:29	USPA	contact us at USPA if you have suggestions or question. maybe you want to be a sponsor or send in a donations contact@psychotronics.org
1:55:30	Bob S:	After I was thrown through the rear window of my car at 65 mph, after I awoke, my first thought was, "Damn I didn't have a near death experience!"
1:56:01	Gema:	I arrived without a pulse at a hospital at age 6 after my mother's boyfriend tried to sedate me and accidentally OD'd me. When I was 17, I was in a car accident in which I was in the front passenger seat without a seatbelt (yeah, I know) and I went through the windshield. Doctors said I would need spinal surgery, but a couple of weeks later, I healed completely and doctors were baffled. Also, I tore my ACL really badly in 2005 along with my meniscus, MCL... my knee and connecting bones were shattered, and I was told I would probably need to walk with a cane for the rest of my life.... but I healed Miraculously, and don't use a cane, I run, jump... everything. And doctors are once again baffled.
1:57:41	Tina C:	Could someone have a NDE as a blue baby in the womb?
1:58:16	Eileen B:	Maybe NDE's are not so rare afterall!
1:58:54	Douglas M:	Gema, your report is very encouraging to me, it confirms my belief that the spiritual is stronger and far more real than the physical :-)
1:59:21	Anna K:	Yes, mind over matter!
2:00:20	Gema:	Thank you, Douglas. You, as well. And yes... the metaphysical is more real than the material.
2:02:32	Eileen B:	I wonder now about MYTHOLOGY ... and NDE.
2:03:54	Eileen B:	Damian, thank you too!!
2:03:59	Gema:	thank you everyone, and a special thank you to the host and PMH
2:04:07	Eileen B:	wow!

presentations at USPAs annual conferences. They are from the leading edges of their fields, especially regarding phenomena of Mind-Body connection, energy and emerging technologies. The audio recordings were made in 1978.

Then, in 1985, USPA produced a perfect-bound Proceedings book for its tenth conference. The proceedings went through quite an evolution, much like our audio and video presentations. In 2010 went through a “final” stage and the proceedings are now produced as pdf documents.

6 USPA Journals and 18 out of 19 Proceedings are now available for purchase.

The 6 USPA Journals and 18 of our 19 Annual Proceedings can be purchased in pdf format from our webstore at:

Section IX “Members Only” Perk: over 130 presentations for free online viewing.

One big advantage to being a member of USPA is the Members Only page of our website.

We have over 90 presentations FREE for viewing by USPA members. If you are not a member yet, you can ‘fix’ that in just a few minutes at <https://www.psychotronics.org/join/>

The full list is getting unwieldy, so from now on there will be an update list of total offerings and the latest additions. Once a month the full list will be posted in the website Library, as a PDF link

Section X - What Are Others Up To? They are wondering What YOU want to do!

USPA sent out a survey July 24th asking about everyone’s preferences regarding an in-person conference. We can’t publish the results of the survey just yet. As of this newsletter printing, out of 2,458 that we sent the survey to, only 57 people actually answered it!

Please, check your inbox, trash or spambox for the USPA July 24th email with subject line “We’d Love Your Feedback.” It is only 15 multiple choice questions. It would take you less than five minutes to respond.

We really need to know if people are interested in coming to an in-person conference. It takes massive amounts of time and LOTS of money to present a conference. We can’t even think of doing it if we won’t have enough people who want to come.

Meantime, thanks and double thanks to those who have already responded!

If you did not get the email, contact us here I WANT THE SURVEY and it will be sent to you personally!

Section XI - Editor’s Feedback Nook:

Good News. That's what I want to Publish

PLEASE, tell me if you - or any other scientist, inventor, creator, theorist or windmill chaser you know - has had any great breakthroughs, even little breakthroughs.

I want to know about lectures, honors, prizes, contest wins, trips taken or in the works.

Let me know of recent collaborations, new laboratories, restored laboratories, books or articles published. Tell me how a book changed your life. Write a few sentences about a great conference you attended. Here's the place where you can crow about your accomplishments or give praise for someone you think deserves the limelight. Email gailinvermont@outlook.com. Title your email "Good News."

What is USPA?

The United States Psychotronics Association (USPA) is a federally recognized, nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization founded in 1975 to serve as a focal point for scientific and technical exploration of the universe of esoteric, spiritual, and psychic arts in the United States of America.

The USPA has been hosting annual conferences for its membership since its formation and has featured countless individuals with cutting-edge viewpoints, research, or theories to share, allowing any interested persons to openly discuss their work.

What is Psychotronics?

USPA defines psychotronics as the science of mind-body-environment relationships, an interdisciplinary science concerned with the interactions of matter, energy, and consciousness.

Psychotronics involves the study, research, and applications of the physics and technology of the mind, brain, spirit, consciousness, and the underlying forces of life and nature – hence the term “psychotronics.” A true understanding of the universe must include the spiritual as well as the technical. USPA provides an opportunity for amateur researchers to present their findings along with the professionals. USPA stresses research, with documentation of results, and practical applications, rather than personal experience and unsupported hypotheses.

Section XIII - Our Donors

USPA Generous Donors Recognition Page

The USPA would like to give special recognition on a continuing basis to people who have made generous donations to the United States Psychotronics Association in past years.

This special “USPA Generous Donors Recognition Page” will be carried in each issue of the USPA Journal & Newsletter, and new names will be added as donations are received.

Section XV Classified Ad Section –

Personal Ads: If you have any “psychotronic related items” to sell, (books, radionic machines, etc.) we charge 20 cents per word, 20.00 per half page with supplied artwork or photos or 35.00 per whole page. Your paid ad will run in the next three issues of the newsletter.

If you would like to publicize an event for a non-profit organization, USPA will advertise for you up to 750 words free. We ask for mutual links to our website from yours.

If you would like to publicize a for-profit event, or a business USPA charges reasonable ad rates. Link to the ad rates is posted on our Donate page of the website, or CLICK HERE

Please Note: USPA is not responsible for the content or condition of items sold from this newsletter by any private person or company, nor does it back any treatment, modality or veracity of presentation. It does not back any claim of medical efficacy of machines or treatments. USPA cannot recommend specific radionic practitioners, or offer radionic treatments from its board of directors or officers.

Section XV – J.G. Gallimore’s Five Rare Books Are Now Available!

Jerry G. Gallimore was one of the founders of the USPA in 1975, and was a leading researcher in psychotronics and unusual energies until his untimely death in 1989.

All five of J.G. Gallimore’s rare books on psychotronics subjects and unusual energies have been reprinted by the United States Psychotronics Association (USPA) and are being made available at a fraction of the cost that used copies were being sold at online.

So rare have these books been, that only a few libraries in the entire world had them in their collections, and some original Gallimore’s books were being sold for several hundred dollars each online. However, with these newly reprinted volumes, each will be available for less than $30.00. All are:

Available at Amazon.com

The Handbook of Unusual Energies: Volume 1 of Handbook of Unusual Energies	ISBN-10: 1543024998 ISBN-13: 978-1543024999	The first book of three volumes on unusual energies	468 Pages
Gallimore discusses in depth the research, discoveries, and inventions of all the major researchers in subtle energies, the aether, biological 62 fields, pyramid energy, radiesthesia, radionics, crystal transduction, and related subjects. These include the works of Baron Von Reichenbach's and his odic energy, Dr. Wilhelm Reich's orgone energy, Dr. Harold Burr's biological life fields, Kozyrev's time mirror, Edgar Cayce's transmission of energy, and related research done by many others. Of particular importance is Gallimore's 127 page chapter on radionics. In this chapter he discusses in depth the research and devices of Ruth Drown, T. Galen Hieronymus, Rho Sigma, Dr. L. P. Corte and other prominent people in the radionics field.
Collected Properties & Writings of J. G. Gallimore: Volume 2	ISBN-10: 1543025048 ISBN-13: 978-1543025040	The second book of three volumes on unusual energies	258 Pages
This is the second book in the “Unusual Energies” series that J.G. Gallimore published. It covers Gallimore’s research on Albert Abrams, the founder of modern radionics, psychological physics, psychic energy, thought resonance, subtle energies, crystals, and related subjects. In addition, a number of radionics devices are discussed, such as the De La Warr Diagnostic Instrument. And very helpfully, the rates are provided for substances, body organs, and medical diseases and disorders. I very interesting interview of Christopher Bird, conducted by J.G. Gallimore is provided, as well as a discussion of Walter Russell and his research

Relationship Between Parapsychology and Gravity: Volume 3	ISBN-10: 1543024947 ISBN-13: 978-1543024944	The third book of three volumes on unusual energies	228 Pages
This book describes in depth the research and theories of J.G. Gallimore into the question of "parapsychology transmission" -the question of how such things as telepathy, remote viewing, ESP, and similar phenomena can physically occur. He discusses the various emanations, radiations, and energy fields of all matter and life including the ancient Chinese energy called "chi" (qi), the ancient Indian's prana energy, Reichenback's "odic force," Gurwitsch's "mitogenic radiation," Wilhelm Reich's orgone energy, and other subtle energies. He shows how all of these energies are similar, how they interact, and how they are related to gravity. He also discusses crystals as transducers of these energies, and provides diagrams of devices that could potentially be used to harness or control these energies.
Transverse Paraphysics: The New Science of Space, Time, and Gravity Control	ISBN-10: 1543024920 ISBN-13: 978-1543024920		374 Pages
This book covers the visionary research and theories developed by J.G. Gallimore about anti-gravity, space, time, and biophysics. He discusses in depth the dimensions of space, time, and gravity, and new discoveries in each of these areas. In addition, he covers research being done on anti-gravity and then discusses anti-gravity patents that have been obtained. He also discusses the intriguing concept of aura energy fields surrounding humans and other living things, and how extra-sensory perception (ESP) might be explained through biophysical principles.
Unified Field Theory Research Book: Using Subjective Response to Psi-Plasma for Analysis of Properties Neutral Charge Plasma Fields	ISBN-10: 1543024831 ISBN-13: 978-1543024838		134 Pages
This book is about psychotronics, radionics, electromagnetic fields and waves, psi-plasma, plasma fields, subtle energies, bio-electromagnetic energy, and other unusual energies emitted by living and non-living things. It also is about how living things interact with and are affected by these energies, which may enhance health or harm health. The book covers the research of Wilhelm Reich on Orgone energy, of Baron Reichenback on the odic forces, as well as research done by Cazzamalli on brain radiations and Lakhovsky on using high frequency radiations to successfully treat cancer in humans. In addition, Lakhovsky used similar methods to enhance the growth of plants. Gallimore shows how these energies, forces, and fields are all inter-related and provides hypotheses and ideas on their possible unification.
