May 7, 2023 (SUNDAY) 1:00 pm Central Time: USPA Free Masterclass #41 Dr. Michael Andron presents, “Stories of healing with Andrija Puharich and Dr. Greta Woodrew.”

What is the EnerGenesis Protocol?

The EnerGenesis Protocol provides a revolutionary approach personal energy effectiveness: breathwork for health and focus, self-pressure energy balancing, and meditation skills to quiet and focus the mind.

In EnerGenesis, ‘energy’ is not a metaphor... it’s real! Understanding this energy paradigm, we believe, is the missing link in wellness education and the key principle that explains the application and success of EnerGenesis.

The EnerGenesis Protocol is a program to change the way you feel, to enhance your body’s self-healing immune system, to increase your energy levels, to clear your mind. In EnerGenesis, ‘energy’ is not a metaphor... it’s real! Understanding this energy paradigm, we believe, is the missing link in wellness education and the key principle that explains the application and success of EnerGenesis.

Biography Michael Andron, Ph.D.

“The EnerGenesis Protocol was developed by Michael Andron, PhD, an educator, to simplify some of the most powerful of these tools and to make them easily accessible to anyone. His expertise as a Yoga Adept, a Grand Master of Chinese Martial and Healing Arts, and a trained hypnotherapist and acupressurist, has been invaluable in developing the program. His expertise in Qi Gong, or energy discipline, which I have tested in the laboratory, has led him to the important conclusion of treating the energy paradigm as reality and not as a metaphor. This paradigm ‘shift’ changes each of the components of his program and how it is used... I have recommended hundreds of health professionals and lay healers (of all disciplines) to Dr. Andron and his energy-healing program. It is unique in its simplicity and effectiveness. The sum of my own research into EnerGenesis convinces me that its results are consistent, reproducible, and supported by principles of bio-physics. Most important, thanks to Dr. Andron’s unique training approach, The EnerGenesis Protocol is TEACHABLE.” ~~by Dr. Andrija Puharich, (1919-1995) world renowned researcher of healing systems

Dr. Andron is founder and director of KODESH: A Fellowship for Seekers of Wholeness, a nonprofit organization devoted to personal growth, mind-body effectiveness training, and inner awareness. For the last five decades, he has lectured and taught extensively around the world and has been featured in the media. He was an Adjunct Lecturer in Alternative Modalities in Family Care Practice at Bowman Gray School of Medicine at Wake Forest U.

He authored The Essential Guide to Energy Healing, [with his son Benjamin, an award-winning creative director of motion picture advertising], now available as an e-book on Amazon, Barnes & Noble, etc.

Dr. Andron has developed and taught classes in Martial Arts and Yoga for the Performing Artist as a Psycho-physical Training Tool in the theatre departments at New York University, N.C. School of the Arts, and New World School of the Arts in Miami.

He and his wife Lillian have now relocated to Los Angeles, as Michael continues to teach The EnerGenesis Protocol and train practitioners.

PMH Atwater, One of USPA's Favorite Speakers, Just Published Her Latest Book!

Soon to be available on Amazon, Edgewater, The Many Lives and Deaths of PMH Atwater, is heralded as "Brilliant," by Mark Anthony, JD, author of evidence of eternity. Scott Taylor Ed. D., The President of Expanded Awareness Institute says, "Edge Walker led me on a fantastical journey that was agonizingly poignant and surprisingly joyful and uplifting."

PMH has written fifteen other books, mostly dealing with near-death experiences. Her book cover says this:

"In her many books examining NDEs and other extraordinary phenomena, PMH Atwater has thus far only revealed bits and pieces about her own life. Now, in Edge Walker, she finally tells us the whole story. This book explores in great detail, her journey as a near-death experience or, prolific author, wife, mother, and spiritual human. A courageous trailblazer, PMH has spent her entire life walking between worlds and trying to build bridges between them perhaps she sums it best in her own words: "I'll be almost 86 when this book is published. I leave you my laughter and my life and my books and a host of questions still to be answered. No regrets. I did the best I could each step of the way."

Energy Balancing by Numbers*, by Lloyd and Phyllis Mear -With a special USPA discount - see the ad on page 33.

In 2008, Lloyd Mear and his wife, Phyllis, created the first edition of the energy balancing manual. It contained over 2,000 frequencies used to balance a person's energetic body. Since then, Lloyd has added nearly 4,000 new frequency combinations. Lloyd's original manual was made up of typed pages in a binder and had never been revised. As more energy balancing numbers were discovered, he added them to the back of the manual. Searching for the right number was challenging. But in 2014, Lloyd Mear's manual was completely updated and is now available for orders.

Some of the reviews EBBN has gotten are as follows:

"I have had clients use the numbers including Real Estate Agents for houses which are hard to sell with huge success. Even the Postie won big time from the numbers I gave her. Spinal issues, clients have become much more resilient. There is something about reciting the numbers the brain really resonates with. Even my husband likes this modality over many others as it is tangible for him. I find the numbers come up for many clients in the course of my work and always in a timely fashion. You need to try them to find out the magic of numbers. There is something in there for everyone."

The Body Detective Alison Hoyte; z.hoyte@xtra.co.nz

"I have many success stories, from the everyday stuff to more deep rooted issues like my eczema. Lloyd's work has been an important part of my healing journey and I am forever grateful. Balancing By Numbers is a wonderful addition to my energy work." Danielle Fischer Artful Alchemist, North Port, FL

I've been using the Energy Balancing By Numbers method quite successfully in my holistic practice for many years. The frequencies have helped my clients balance their bodies to overcome chronic conditions such as eczema, arthritis, Lyme Disease, herpes, diabetic retinopathy, anxiety, depression, and much more. The manual is easy to use and very well organized. The work of the late great Lloyd Mear lives on through his Balancing By Numbers manual. ~Paul Callahan, The Wellness

Psychotronics and a Biodynamic Garden: How to Grow and Harvest Healthier Food through Radionics and Dowsing* by George Kuepper is a Sure Winner on Any Bookshelf.

Although George's book was released in April 2021, notice of its publication bears repetition, as we enter a new farming/gardening season across the country.

Book Description:

Dowsing and radionics are two practices and procedures for interpreting and interacting with the natural world. They nurture the processes of gardening, farming, and landscaping through communication with subtle levels of reality.

Nature spirits and other forms of intelligence in nature play major roles. They can be readily contacted and nourished when we combine psychotronic methods with the traditional practices of a biodynamic approach. George Kuepper describes and discusses numerous procedures that have evolved from decades of working with agricultural radionics and recent research in his biodynamic garden.

This guidebook to growing better food is well referenced, with numerous illustrations, photos, tables, and examples. Gardeners and farmers who want to improve their plants and harvests using sustainable methods will find practical help and much food for thought here.

One reviewer, R. Todish writes:

"I own nearly every book ever written on Radionics over the last 50+ years and this is by far the best! Although the book mostly focuses on agriculture, which only slightly interests me, it is very well written, very logical, methodical and with simple explanations of what Radionics is and how to use it.

It's because of this book that I ordered my Kelly Radionics machine. I was on the fence before but this is what the author owns and I wanted the best.

I'm hoping he writes another book delving even deeper.

Our 40th Masterclass Speaker, Pete Radatti has 13 Books on Amazon. The most recent is *Level 2 Radionics: Mastering Radionics Series Book 3

Pete has a wide variety of topics to his credit. Some of his books are on Radionics, building Radionics machines, health, and computer tech. He has even written a children's book, Why Would I Want To Be An Ant?

Here are a few of his varied titles:

Is Flywheel power generation possible? I have come across many videos of flywheel power generators. https://www.youtube.com/results?search\_query=flywheel+generator

In conventional physics, they cannot work because you connect a motor, a generator, and a flywheel in a loop all of which have losses. So you would expect the system to slow down and stop after an initial external energy input is disconnected.

But, I came across some interesting companies and papers that throw doubt on the conventional explanation. Meet Srinivas Bhaskar Chaganti and Chaganti Bala, who invented The Kamma Gear Flywheel Power Generator at <https://kammagearflywheelpowergeneration.com/> And the paper in the International Research Journal of Engineering and Technology is in the attachment.

Abstract - The objective of this project was to determine the electric power generating associated with alternator connected to rotating flywheel & flywheel rotate by a motor. The electric power generate on the basis of mechanical energy is converted electrical energy by the generator.

The system operates without any fuel and performs both the motor & alternator functions. It is an energy efficient system as it offers the benefits.

Key Words: Energy Efficient System, Generator, Free Energy, Eco-friendly System, Electrical Energy, etc.

1. INTRODUCTION

The idea of this project explores the possibility of combining three units i.e. Torsional vibrations, Flywheel and Mechanical drive into a single unit, such that the device generates energy.

Free energy means the zero cost energy. Mechanical energy which drives windmill by using the blowing force of wind, or Solar energy in solar cell which is converts into DC current and store in batteries . Other energies obtained are from wind power, water power & telluric power. Free energy generator is used to generate these types of energy.

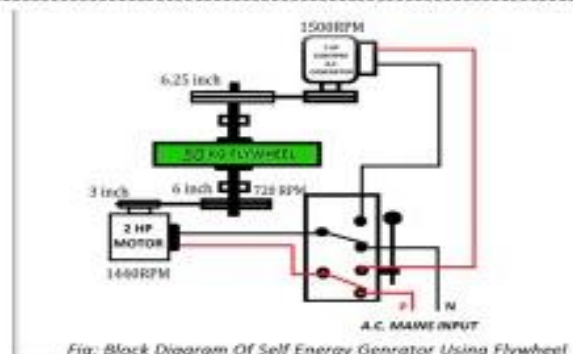

This is how we can try to make the environment and a common man comfortable. It is an energy efficient system as it offers the benefits. This can be used for the commercial as well as domestic purposes.

1.1 Working Principle

The objective of this project is to recover energy of flywheel by using principle of energy recovery system from flywheel and produce sufficient energy to run the project set up and also some additional energy to run external power supply.

The project process is inspired from CHAS CAMPBELL's Generator. An AC motor is starts with the help of AC supply.

The shaft speed varies with help of pulleys with different diameters. After getting maximum speed at generator shaft, the initial AC input supply is replaced by the output supply of generator.

2. Motor

An electric motor is an electric machine that converts electrical energy into mechanical energy.

We Use Single Phase 2 HP Motor 1440 RPM

3. Flywheel

A flywheel is a mechanical device specially designed to efficiently store rotational energy.

We use Lister Engine Flywheel

$$4. \Delta E = I \cdot \omega^2 C_s$$

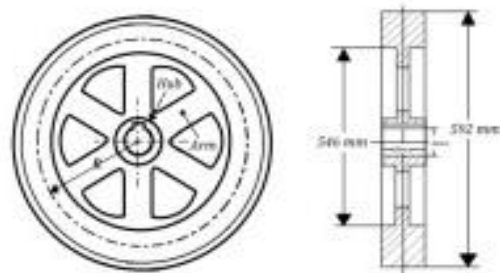

Fig - Flywheel

5. Alternator

An alternator is an electric generator that converts mechanical energy into electrical energy in the form of alternating current.

We Use Single Phase 3HP Alternator 1500 RPM.

6. Bearing

7. Design Of V-Belt

2 HP motor 1440 RPM

2 HP = 1.49 Kw

$N_1 = 1440$  RPM

$P_R = 1.49$  Kw

1) Design Power : - (T-XV-9/161)

$$P_d = P_R \times K_L$$

$$\therefore K_L = 1.10 \text{ (for motor to the line shaft) (T-XV-2/156)}$$

$$= 1.49 \times 1.10$$

$$P_d = 1.6405 \text{ Kw}$$

2) Belt Designation : - (T-XV-8/160)

With respect to  $P_d = 1.64$  Kw

Belt Designation B

$$\text{Nominal width (w)} = 17 \text{ mm}$$

$$\text{Nominal thickness (t)} = 11 \text{ mm}$$

$$\text{Pulley Diameter (D}_1\text{)} = 135 \text{ mm}$$

$$\text{Max Strand used} = 9$$

$$\text{Bending stress factor (K}_b\text{)} = 45.6 \times 10^3$$

$$\text{Centrifugal tension Factor (K}_c\text{)} = 4.34$$

3) Power Capacity per Belt : - (T-XV-9/161)

$$\text{Power/Belt} = (F_w - F_c) \frac{e^{\mu \theta / \sin(\frac{\alpha}{2})} - 1}{e^{\mu \theta / \sin(\frac{\alpha}{2})}} \times V_p$$

$$F_w = (\text{working load}) = w^2 = 17^2 = 289 \text{ N}$$

$$V_p = \frac{\pi D_1 N_1}{60} = \frac{\pi \times 135 \times 1440}{60} \quad V_p = 10.17 \text{ m/s} \quad V_p =$$

$$610.728 \text{ m/min}$$

Check  $V_p$  in a range 300-1500 m/min

$\therefore V_p$  is in a range

$$F_c = K_c \left( \frac{V_p}{5} \right)^2 = 4.34 \times \left( \frac{10.17}{5} \right)^2 \quad \therefore F_c =$$

$$17.95 \text{ N}$$

$$\frac{N_1}{N_2} = \frac{D_2}{D_1}$$

$$\frac{1440}{360} = \frac{D_2}{135}$$

$$\therefore \text{velocity ratio of v-belt} \left( \frac{N_1}{N_2} = 4 \right)$$

$$D_2 = 540 \text{ mm}$$

$$\theta = \pi - \frac{D_2 - D_1}{C} = \pi - \frac{540 - 135}{135 + 540}$$

$$(\therefore C = D_1 + D_2)$$

$$\theta = 2.54 \text{ rad}$$

Assume,  $\mu = 0.3$  &  $\alpha = 36^\circ$

$$\text{Power/Belt} = (289 - 17.95) \frac{e^{0.3 \times 2.54 / \sin(\frac{36}{2})} - 1}{e^{0.3 \times 2.54 / \sin(\frac{36}{2})}} \times$$

$$10.17$$

$$\text{Power/Belt} = 2.522 \times 10^3 \text{ Kw}$$

4) Belt tension : -

$$F_1 - F_2 = \frac{P_d}{V_p}$$

$$\frac{F_1}{F_2} = e^{\mu \theta / \sin(\frac{\alpha}{2})}$$

$$F_1 = 11.77 F_2$$

$$F_2 = 14.9714 \text{ N}$$

$$F_1 = 176.27 \text{ N}$$

5) Number of Belt :-

$$n = \frac{P_d}{\text{Power/Belt}}$$

$$n = 0.65 \quad \therefore n \approx 1$$

$$\text{Total Power} = \text{No Of Belt} \times \text{Power/Belt}$$

$$\text{Total Power} = 2.5224 \text{ Kw}$$

6) V-Belt Pulley Detail :- (T-xv-11/163)

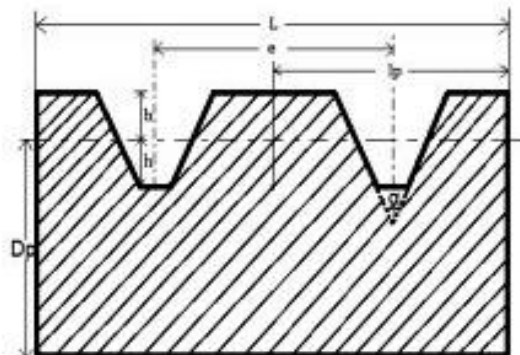

Fig :- V-Belt Pulley Detail

$$l_p = 14, b = 4.2 \text{ mm}, h = 10.8 \text{ mm}, e = 19 \pm 0.4, f = 12.5$$

7) Width Of Pulley :-

$$W = (n-1)e + 2f$$

$$\text{Where, } n = 1 \text{ no. of Belt}$$

$$= (1-1) 19.04 + 2 \times 12.5$$

$$W = 25 \text{ mm}$$

8) Length Of Belt :-

$$L = \frac{\pi}{2} (D_1 + D_2) + 2C + \frac{(D_2 - D_1)^2}{4C}$$

$$= \frac{\pi}{2} (135 + 540) + 2 \times 675 + \frac{(135 - 540)^2}{4 \times 675}$$

$$L = 2579.0375 \text{ mm}$$

8. Advantages

- It is an energy efficient system as it offers the benefits. This can be used for the commercial as well as domestic purposes.
- It does not require skill person.
- low maintenance cost.
- Simple in construction.
- It is very Eco friendly.

9. Application

10. CONCLUSIONS

We have obtained more electrical output which is our free energy. The AC generator have produce extra electricity by using of flywheel from 1 HP motor. The main advantage of Free energy generator using flywheel is that it can generate energy without used of any extra equipment and this free energy generation is non-hazardous and environmental friendly. Can be use in various applications like electric fuel cars ,household, industrial and increase the efficiency of traditional electrical.

12. ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The overall session of the project completion has been a more experience providing us with great insight into learning various design concept, software, engineering concepts & benefits of team work. As rightly said, for the successful completion of any type project, an effective & timely guidance is the very important asset. Our project would not have been materialized without the co-operation of many of the people involved.

Indeed it is a matter of great felicity and privilege for us to work under the guidance of PROF:-S.B.THAKRE, Department of MECHANICAL Engineering, KDK College Of Engineering, Umrer who constantly supported and encouraged us during every step of dissertation. We really feel highly indebted to him for constantly guiding us to continue our work and giving us short term goals, which have immensely helped us in completing our work in timely manner.

Scientists debate a new way of understanding flora.

By Michael Pollan

In 1973, a book claiming that plants were sentient beings that feel emotions, prefer classical music to rock and roll, and can respond to the unspoken thoughts of humans hundreds of miles away landed on the New York Times best-seller list for nonfiction. “The Secret Life of Plants,” by Peter Tompkins and Christopher Bird, presented a beguiling mashup of legitimate plant science, quack experiments, and mystical nature worship that captured the public imagination at a time when New Age thinking was seeping into the mainstream. The most memorable passages described the experiments of a former C.I.A. polygraph expert named Cleve Backster, who, in 1966, on a whim, hooked up a galvanometer to the leaf of a dracaena, a houseplant that he kept in his office. To his astonishment, Backster found that simply by imagining the dracaena being set on fire he could make it rouse the needle of the polygraph machine, registering a surge of electrical activity suggesting that the plant felt stress. “Could the plant have been reading his mind?” the authors ask. “Backster felt like running into the street and shouting to the world, ‘Plants can think!’ ”

Backster and his collaborators went on to hook up polygraph machines to dozens of plants, including lettuces, onions, oranges, and bananas. He claimed that plants reacted to the thoughts (good or ill) of humans in close proximity and, in the case of humans familiar to them, over a great distance. In one experiment designed to test plant memory, Backster found that a plant that had witnessed the murder (by stomping) of another plant could pick out the killer from a lineup of six suspects, registering a surge of electrical activity when the murderer was brought before it. Backster’s plants also displayed a strong aversion to interspecies violence. Some had a stressful response when an egg was cracked in their presence, or when live shrimp were dropped into boiling water, an experiment that Backster wrote up for the International Journal of Parapsychology, in 1968.

In the ensuing years, several legitimate plant scientists tried to reproduce the “Backster effect” without success. Much of the science in “The Secret Life of Plants” has been discredited. But the book had made its mark on the culture. Americans began talking to their plants and playing Mozart for them, and no doubt many still do. This might seem harmless enough; there will probably always be a strain of romanticism running through our thinking about plants. (Luther Burbank and George Washington Carver both reputedly talked to, and listened to, the plants they did such brilliant work with.) But in the view of many plant scientists “The Secret Life of Plants” has done lasting damage to their field. According to Daniel Chamovitz, an Israeli biologist who is the author of the recent book “What a Plant Knows,” Tompkins and Bird “stymied important research on plant behavior as scientists became wary of any studies that hinted at parallels between animal senses and plant senses.” Others contend that “The Secret Life of Plants” led to “self-censorship” among researchers seeking to explore the “possible homologies between neurobiology and phytobiology”; that is, the possibility that plants are much more intelligent and much more like us than most people think—capable of cognition, communication, information processing, computation, learning, and memory.

Scott Beutlich Also Referred Readers to an Interview of Botanist Stefano Mancuso, by Killian Fox

This article was in The Guardian, 4-15-2023.

<https://www.theguardian.com/environment/2023/apr/15/scientist-stefano-mancuso-you-can-anaesthetise-all-plants-this-is-extremely-fascinating-tree-stories>

by Killian Fox

An advocate of plant intelligence, the Italian author discusses the complex ways in which plants communicate, whether they are conscious, and what his findings mean for vegans

Born in Calabria in 1965, Stefano Mancuso is a pioneer in the plant neurobiology movement, which seeks to understand "how plants perceive their circumstances and respond to environmental input in an integrated fashion". Michael Pollan in the New Yorker described him as "the poet-philosopher of the movement, determined to win for plants the recognition they deserve". Mancuso teaches at the University of Florence, his alma mater, where he runs the International Laboratory of Plant Neurobiology. He has written five bestselling books on plants.

Fox: What's at the root of your love of plants?

Mancuso: I began to be interested in plants at university. One of my tasks during my doctorate was to understand how a root growing in the soil was able to move around an obstacle. My idea was to film this movement, but I saw something different: the root was changing direction well before touching the obstacle. It was able to sense the obstacle and to find a more convenient direction. That was my first eureka moment, where I started to imagine that plants were intelligent organisms.

Fox: You refer to your field as plant neurobiology. Is this a provocation?

Mancuso: At the beginning, it was not at all. I started to think that almost all the claims I was hearing about the brain were valid also in plants. The neuron is not a miracle cell, it's a normal cell that is able to produce an electrical signal. In plants, almost every cell is able to do that. The main difference between animals and plants, in my opinion, is that animals concentrate specific functions inside organs. In the case of plants, they diffuse everything through the whole body, including intelligence. So it was not a provocation at the beginning, but there was a big resistance among my colleagues to use this kind of terminology, and so after it became a provocation.

Fox: What were you hoping to achieve with your new book, Tree Stories?

Mancuso: What I'd like to popularise is, first, the many abilities of plants that we normally are unable to feel and understand, because they are so different from us. Second, when you tell a story about life on this planet, not talking about plants, which make up 87% of life, is a nonsense.

Fox: You argue passionately in favour of filling cities with trees. Why is this so important?

Mancuso: We are producing 75% of our CO<sub>2</sub> in cities, and the best way to remove that CO<sub>2</sub> is by using trees. The closer the tree is to the source of carbon emissions, the better they are at absorbing it. According to our studies, we could put around 200bn trees in our urban areas. To do that, we really need to imagine a new kind of city, completely covered by plants, without any border between nature and city.

Fox: You have a fascinating chapter about a tree stump being kept alive for decades by its neighbouring trees. What can humans learn from tree communities?

Mancuso: Plants are so incredibly cooperative with one another because cooperation is the most efficient way to grant the survival of species. Not understanding the strength of the community is one of [humanity's] main errors. There was a very clever evolutionary biologist at the beginning of the last century, Peter Kropotkin, who said that when there are fewer resources, and the environment is changing, then cooperation is vastly more efficient [than competition]. This is an important teaching for us today, because we are entering a period of reduction of resources and the environment is changing because of global warming.

It's an extremely sophisticated form of communication, a kind of vocabulary. Every single molecule means something

Fox: To what degree can plants communicate with one another? If you have a spectrum with rocks at one end and humans at the other, where do plants sit?

Mancuso: I would say very close to humans. Communication means you are able to emit a message and there is something able to receive it, and in this sense plants are great communicators. If you are unable to move, if you are rooted, it's of paramount importance for you to communicate a lot. We experienced this during lockdown, when we were stuck at home and there was an incredible increase in traffic on the internet. Plants are obliged to communicate a lot, and they use different systems. The most important is through volatiles, or chemicals that are emitted in the atmosphere and received by other plants. It's an extremely sophisticated form of communication, a kind of vocabulary. Every single molecule means something, and they mix very different molecules to send a specific message.

Fox: The idea that plants are intelligent is controversial enough, but you've gone one step further by claiming that plants are to some degree conscious...

Mancuso: It's incredibly difficult to talk about consciousness, first because we actually don't know what consciousness is, even in our case. But there is an approach to talking about it as a real biological feature: consciousness is something that we all have, except when we are sleeping very deeply or when we are under anaesthesia. My approach to studying consciousness in plants was similar. I started by seeing if they were sensitive to anaesthetics and found that you can anaesthetise all plants by using the same anaesthetics that work in humans. This is extremely fascinating. We were thinking that consciousness was something related to the brain, but I think that both consciousness and intelligence are more embodied, relating to the entire body.

Fox: So you can put a plant to sleep?

Mancuso: We are working to see if it's possible to say that. It's an incredibly difficult task, but we think that, before the end of this year, we will be able to demonstrate it.

Fox: As we learn more about the sophistication and sensitivity of plants, should we think twice about eating them?

Mancuso: It's an interesting question. Many vegan people have written to me asking this. First, I think it's ethical to eat plants because we are animals, and as animals we can only survive by eating other living organisms – this is a law that we cannot break. Second, it's much more ethical to eat a plant than, for example, beef, because to produce a kilo of beef, you need to kill one tonne of plants, so it's much better to eat directly a kilo of plants. The third point is that it's very difficult for us to imagine being a plant, because for us being eaten is an ancestral nightmare, whereas plants evolved to be eaten, it's part of the cycle. A fruit is an organ that is produced to be eaten by an animal.

Fox: So fruit is probably the most ethical thing you can eat, more so than, say, kale?

Mancuso: Maybe fruit is the most ethical, but you need to defecate on the ground afterwards, because otherwise you are breaking the cycle.

We have an open Query from a reader about Auras:

Scott Beutlich recently spoke to a gentleman named Samuel Chong, and Scott poses the question to our readership, “does anyone have Any information on Whitehouse and Hunt devices to detect and show Auras?”

The following is Mr. Cheong’s query:

“My name is Samuel Chong, and I am a researcher and Chinese translator.

I learned from the book "The Power of Color" by Dr. Morton Walker that Charles F. Whitehouse of Virginia Beach developed a diagnostic machine called the etheronic analyzer. With it, Dr. Whitehouse can measure changes in the concentrations of energy in an aura and the strength of the energy coming from any specific part of the body.

He treats a physical disease and brings the aura back into balance by shining a specific combination of colored lights on it, and uses different color combinations - white light blocked by colored filters or colored lights themselves -- to correct different health problems.

I know that Dr. Whitehouse passed away already. I'd like to see if anyone knows anything about his etheronic analyzer or any devices that serve a similar purpose.

After a conversation with Scott he added

I am currently trying to develop a device that can image or map the human energy field or the aura (See <https://chinasona.org/Thiaoouba/programmer.html> After visiting Australia, I think a different approach from what I originally envisioned would have to be used). I have collected certain data on the colors or the energy fields of different people, especially from their photos. Therefore, it would be great if you can help me to obtain as much information as possible regarding the following

1. The device that Dr. Charles F. Whitehouse invented, titled "etheronic analyzer"
2. The devices that Dr. Valerie Hunt developed at UCLA

It would also be great if you can get me in touch with people who can see auras. I am still trying to collect as much data as possible

Thank you very much

Samuel Chong”

| 2:07:24 | Maria:      | It all comes back to optimizing mitochondrial function, which is fundamentally based in the physics of biophotonics                                                                                                           |
| 2:08:14 | Maria:      | Sunlight is a frequency--- actually many frequencies. You need proper and continuous sunlight exposure for your body to function as it was built                                                                              |
| 2:06:59 | Maria:      | 80% of degenerative diseases/ autoimmune, etc stem from broken mitochondrial function. Aside from taking away "the poisons", you have to provide your body with the means to repair itself                                    |

| 1:50:09 | P. C.      | 🙏, I love Pete's humor. I don't relish the fact that some people have diseases but I think it is nice to listen to his massive brain power to also enjoy a high level joke about the crazy things in life that we take so seriously.                                                                    |

John Reed, the USPA library curator is hoping a Publications Packrat like him will have what is missing. He is creating a digital library by scanning every out of print book, series of newsletters and magazine articles that he can lay his hands on relevant to psychotronics, radionics and sister fields. As his database grows, he will share updates via this newsletter and our website.

Section IX - USPA Publications: Proceedings and Journals are Digitized and in USPA Shop!! Quick Background of our Proceedings Evolution

Since its first meeting in 1975, hundreds of top scientists, educators and researchers have made presentations at USPAs annual conferences. They are from the leading edges of their fields, especially regarding the phenomena of Mind-Body connection, energy and emerging technologies. The first audio recordings were made in 1978.

Then, in 1985, USPA produced a perfect-bound Proceedings book for its tenth conference. The proceedings went through quite an evolution, much like our audio and video presentations. In 2010 they went through a “final” stage and the proceedings are now produced as pdf documents.

6 USPA Journals and 18 out of 19 Proceedings are now available for purchase.

The 6 USPA Journals and 18 of our 19 Annual Proceedings can be purchased in pdf format from our webstore at: <https://www.psychotronics.org/product-category/uspa-publications-journals-proceedings/>

All USPA publications are copyright protected and are property of the USPA. They may not be reprinted without permission of the Board of USPA.

You can download the Tables of contents for the Proceedings here:

What is USPA?

The United States Psychotronics Association (USPA) is a federally recognized, nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization founded in 1975 to serve as a focal point for scientific and technical exploration of the universe of esoteric, spiritual, and psychic arts in the United States of America.

The USPA has been hosting annual conferences for its membership since its formation and has featured countless individuals with cutting-edge viewpoints, research, or theories to share, allowing any interested persons to openly discuss their work.

What is Psychotronics?

USPA defines psychotronics as the science of mind-body-environment relationships, an interdisciplinary science concerned with the interactions of matter, energy, and consciousness.

Psychotronics involves the study, research, and applications of the physics and technology of the mind, brain, spirit, consciousness, and the underlying forces of life and nature – hence the term “psychotronics.” A true understanding of the universe must include the spiritual as well as the technical. USPA provides an opportunity for amateur researchers to present their findings along with the professionals. USPA stresses research, with documentation of results, and practical applications, rather than personal experience and unsupported hypotheses

Section XII - USPA Generous Donors Recognition Page

The USPA would like to give special recognition on a continuing basis to people who have made generous donations to the United States Psychotronics Association in past years.

This special "USPA Generous Donors Recognition Page" will be carried in each issue of the USPA Journal & Newsletter, and new names will be added as donations are received.

Section XIV – J.G. Gallimore's Five Rare Books Are Now Available!

Jerry G. Gallimore was one of the founders of the USPA in 1975, and was a leading researcher in psychotronics and unusual energies until his untimely death in 1989.

All five of J.G. Gallimore's rare books on psychotronics subjects and unusual energies have been reprinted by the United States Psychotronics Association (USPA) and are being made available at a fraction of the cost that used copies were being sold at online.

So rare have these books been, that only a few libraries in the entire world had them in their collections, and some original Gallimore's books were being sold for several hundred dollars each online. However, with these newly reprinted volumes, each will be available for less than $30.00. All are: Available at Amazon.com

This book covers the visionary research and theories developed by J.G. Gallimore about anti-gravity, space, time, and biophysics. He discusses in depth the dimensions of space, time, and gravity, and new discoveries in each of these areas. In addition, he covers research being done on anti-gravity and then discusses anti-gravity patents that have been obtained.

He also discusses the intriguing concept of aura energy fields surrounding humans and other living things, and how extra-sensory perception (ESP) might be explained through biophysical principles.

This book is about psychotronics, radionics, electromagnetic fields and waves, psi-plasma, plasma fields, subtle energies, bio-electromagnetic energy, and other unusual energies emitted by living and non-living things. It also is about how living things interact with and are affected by these energies, which may enhance health or harm health.

The book covers the research of Wilhelm Reich on Orgone energy, of Baron Reichenback on the odic forces, as well as research done by Cazzamalli on brain radiations and Lakhovsky on using high frequency radiations to successfully treat cancer in humans. In addition, Lakhovsky used similar methods to enhance the growth of plants. Gallimore shows how these energies, forces, and fields are all inter-related and provides hypotheses and ideas on their possible unification.
